CRICKET.

United Effort Required in Devon.

COUNTY GAMES AT EXETER

The remarks made by Major R. C. Campbell, the Hon. Secretary of the Devon Cricket Club, in recent interviews with the Press, as to the prospects in the Minor Counties' Competition this season are very encouraging, and if all interested in the game can be induced to show 50 per cent. as much interest in cricket matters generally affecting Devon as the Major there is no doubt that much further headway will be made. In every district many most enthusiastic people reside, and the County Committee are everlastingly considering schemes whereby their services can be utilised to keep the game to the forefront as much as possible. In certain parts, perhaps, the support expected has not been given, but this has not been due to any lack of desire of those interested to render help, but because they have rather felt that the necessary work could be done by those appointed on the Executive.

Admittedly there is a County Committee, and many members closely allied with them as representatives of the different districts, but no matter how energetic they may be in looking after the game they cannot be expected to do all that is required unless they are supplied with first-hand information by those in a position to give it regarding prospective players or anything of a general character requiring a little sifting to make the Club to run as smoothly as possible. In recent years much progress has been made, and a glance at Devon's position in the Minor Counties' table at the conclusion of the last two or three seasons is convincing proof that good work has been done. However, there is still room for improvement, and what is required is a united effort throughout the county to bring about a strong financial position so that further headway can be made in providing more professionals and additional attractive games. The departure made last season and this in arranging fixtures with the South Africans and the West Indies, at the County Ground, at Exeter, is a distinct sign that progress is being made, and if the game with the last-named on the 16th 18th, and 19th of next month is a financial success there is very little doubt that similar games will take place in the future. The weather was so unfavourable for the match with the South Africans last summer that the guarantors had to face a very substantial deficiency. Nevertheless, the enthusiasm of the Devon Club has not been abated, and the Committee are to be complimented upon making another effort this season by arranging a match on the ground between the Minor Counties and the West Indies. Although the tourists will not actually play against Devon, it is likely one or two County men will be included. Those representing the Minor Counties will be undoubtedly the strongest home side ever seen at Exeter, and, having provided such an attractive match, it is hoped the promoters will not be disappointed by the support given. If they are there will be very little hope of similar matches in the future.

The match expenses of Devon this season will not be so large as last year, as the number of fixtures in the Minor Counties Competition will be 12 instead of 14. Games will not be played with Hertfordshire as an arrangement has been made by Cornwall to meet Surrey 2nd and Berkshire. Therefore the furthermost south-western county will be enabled to play a sufficient number of games with the teams who will oppose Devon to enable them to have the necessary number of fixtures to remain in the competition. Last year Cornwall had difficulty in doing this, and to save them going out of the competition Devon agreed to play Hertfordshire, the last-named stating that they could not come West unless they had matches with both counties. Consequently Devon had to face an additional expenditure of about £70. It now behoves Cornwall to provide first-class wickets. Unless they do it is certain they will have further trouble in the near future, and if so they will hardly be able to expect Devon to again show similar consideration.

There will be four county games at Exeter, the opposing sides being Surrey 2nd, Monmouth, Dorset, and Berkshire. The home match with Cornwall will be at Plymouth and the one with Kent 2nd at Sidmouth. A new fixture is that between Devon and Cornwall Colts. A similar match has also been arranged with Wiltshire Colts at Bemerton. It will be remembered that in the match between the Colts of the last-named counties at Exeter last season the visitors won a very interesting game and in which promising form was shown on both sides. It was the success of this fixture that induced the County Committee to arrange the match with Cornwall. The only change in Devon's home fixtures compared with last season, excluding the Hertfordshire match, is that Monmouthshire will be met at Exeter instead of at Newton Abbot and Kent 2nd will be opposed at Sidmouth. Whether the decision to transfer one of the most attractive fixtures from Exeter to Sidmouth was wise is a matter of opinion, but no doubt the Committee were guided in their action to a considerable extent by the splendid assistance Sidmouth men have rendered to the county for many years. J. H. Amory and several of the most promising players were busily engaged last week at the nets in getting themselves in form. Everything looks promising, and the ideal weather has given all interested a most encouraging start.

The many fixture lists which have come to hand show that the number of touring Clubs in Devon this season will be quite as numerous as heretofore. They include Caius College, Sussex Martlets, Sherborne Pilgrims, M.C.C., Googlies, Free Foresters, Old Salopians, Limpsfield Strollers, Argentine Cricket Association, Old Marlburians, Stinchcombe Stragglers, Cheltenham, Southsea, Incogniti, Old Bromsgrovians, Old Bristolians, Bath, Cotswold Tourers, East Monmouth, Sheffield Collegiate, Chorlton-cum-Hardy, Nondescripts, and St. Albans.

DEVON CRICKET.

Prospective Players for the Season.

CONDITION OF WICKETS.

The Minor Counties' team to meet the West Indies, at the County Ground, Exeter, on the 16th, 18th and 19th of next month, to be published in the next few days, will be found to comprise one of the strongest sides of the kind ever got together. The fixture should prove a great attraction, and the Devon County Committee are to be congratulated on providing three days really good cricket. Admirable arrangements are being made, and advertisements drawing attention to the match will shortly appear in the Devonshire dailies. The expenses will be greater owing to the game starting on a Saturday, but those responsible for meeting them are relying on exceptionally large "gates." There is reason for thinking, provided the weather is fine, that the accommodation will be taxed to the fullest extent. The arrangements will be similar to those made for the New Zealanders last season. The stand enclosures will be reserved for subscribers, while the west side of the ground will be available as a general enclosure, where luncheon and tea tents will be erected. Ample arrangements have also been made for accommodating motor cars in West-avenue and the Prince of Wales'-road, entrance to the ground being by both thoroughfares.

A good deal of interest is being taken in the Devon trial match at Exeter on Wednesday. Play will commence at 11.30, and the following are among those who have been chosen to take part:—J. H. Amory (capt.), E. A. Fulcher, E. E. Whitton, E. P. Mills (Sidmouth), L. R. W. Salmon (Tavistock), W. Roberts (Buckfastleigh), H. L. Peagram (Paignton), E. C. Higgs (South Devon), E. C. Horlick (Bradninch), L. G. Downing (Topsham), H. J. Amory (Y.M.C.A.), S. F. Budd (Alphington), E. J. Northcott (Clyst St. George), A. Langabeer (Thorverton), F. Pleace (Rockbeare), Light and Wheaton, with two each from Exeter, Exmouth, and Plymouth. Unfortunately, there appears to be no one in the Torquay area whose form is worthy of recommendation for a place.

Practically all last season's players are available for the county this season, including R. G. Seldon, E. A. Fulcher, F. M. I. Watts, C. R. Russell, Falding, J. H. Amory, Light, A. R. Shepherd, E. E. Whitton, F. H. Carroll, N. C. Coates, R. I. F. McIntosh, G. B. Knapman, F. W. Midgley, Jennings, W. M. Thoseby, E. J. Hatfield. There is also F. W. Beech, who showed fine batting against the Devon captain on Saturday, and one or two others who rendered good service prior to last season. Among other players under consideration are Capt. H. A. Hambleton, L. R. W. Salmon, A. D. Baxter, E. M. Smythe, H. L. Peagram, C. J. P. Pearson, and A. D. Hodgkinson. Some mentioned will not be able to play until the school holidays, but there should not be much difficulty in selecting really good sides for the fixtures during the next couple of months.

The list of matches arranged in connexion with the Exeter and District League has just come to hand, and a mere glance at them is sufficient to convince one that those responsible for the management are doing admirable work. Mr. G. H. Channing and others engaged with him for years in organising the competitions are giving help of real value, and it is gratifying to see they are rewarded by really good games being played each week. With so many Clubs affiliated interest in every part of the area is well maintained, and it is no wonder that everyone interested is much indebted to the officers of the League for the splendid services rendered. One would like to see an effort again made to arrange matches between the League and Exeter, as such are of great value.

Exeter met an unusually strong Heathcoat side at the County Ground on Saturday, and a good game ended in a draw in favour of the visitors. Five of the six who batted for Heathcoat are well known, and it was not surprising that 269 runs were scored for four wickets before the innings was declared closed. Fifty runs were compiled for each of the first two wickets, and for the fourth J. H. Amory put on 78 out of 128. He and French batted delightfully, the Devon captain being eventually caught by F. W. Beech at point. Exeter fared rather badly against Amory and G. Potter, but after losing five wickets for 60 runs, Beech and E. N. Morgan batted for the remaining threequarters of an hour, and carried the total to 129. The bowling by the homesters was not particularly good.

Remarks have been made during the week-end about wickets on some grounds, where little attempt has been made to get them in good condition. Admittedly the fine weather during the last fortnight has made the work unusually hard, but there is no reason why balls should be "kicking" in such a manner as has been indicated. There does not seem to be quite that desire on the part of players to help make good pitches as was the experience in connexion with some Clubs before the war, and the result is that batsmen are heard complaining, and not without cause. Medium fast deliveries are always awkward to deal with under the best circumstances on some wickets, and when there is undoubted neglect in making the necessary preparation for matches complaints naturally arise. Players cannot expect to find good pitches on Saturday afternoons if they make no effort to lend a hand in doing the necessary work.

SOUTH DEVON v. PLYMOUTH.

At Newton Abbot, and ended in a draw. But for good batting by A. Hingston and Falding South Devon would have been out for a very moderate score, the others finding difficulty in playing to bowling which was by no means good. WESTERN CRICKET.

West Indies Visit to Exeter.

DEVON ELEVENS.

The arrangements for the match between the Minor Counties' XI. and the West Indies, at Exeter on Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, June 16th, 18th and 19th, have been completed, and all the promoters are anxious about is the weather. Experience when the New Zealanders visited Exeter last summer was such that there is reason for not being too optimistic over the forthcoming match should the conditions not be favourable. Having to meet a deficiency of about £300 last year in connexion with the most attractive game, it is gratifying to hear that people are again assisting the County Club in financially helping against any loss associated with the fixture next month, and all interested are much indebted to them for their enthusiastic loyalty. If the weather is fine the crowds should be sufficiently large to more than meet the expenditure. Additional accommodation will be provided in practically every part of the ground, and it is hoped all who can will show by their presence appreciation of the efforts to provide really first-class cricket. There is no secret about the fact that if the fixture is a success financially an effort will be made to get the Australians in a representative match at Exeter next season. The wicket will be specially covered before the game if occasion arises, and nothing will be left undone to ensure play taking place on every possible moment during the three days. Tickets for the ground and enclosure should be applied for to Major R. C. Campbell, the Hon. Secretary to the Devon Club, at the County Ground, Exeter, as soon as possible. If intending spectators help by making early application they will facilitate matters a good deal. In every part of the ground the accommodation will be found admirable.

The Devon side to meet Surrey 2nd and Kent 2nd, at the Oval and Canterbury next month, is quite a good one, and there seems every prospect of the county commencing the season well. The games with the two Clubs are looked forward to with considerable interest, and there will sure to be much keenness for the points. When Devon met Surrey 2nd at the Oval last season the visitors won by 46 runs. Seven of the batsmen did very well in the first innings, and 240 was compiled. Surrey replied with 195. Lywood and J. G. O'Gorman rather gave the Devonians a fright in the second innings by dismissing them for 98, but J. H. Amory and Jennings rose to the occasion in admirable style when Surrey batted, and bowling practically unchanged they got them out for 97. The Devon captain took seven wickets for 58, and Jennings, two for 34. The match with Kent, at Tunbridge Wells, had to be abandoned after Devon had scored 317 in their first innings, and Kent, 101 for three wickets, owing to rain. E. A. Fulcher contributed 107, and A. M. Shepley-Smith, 64. Very useful scores were also made by the Hon. E. G. French, A. R. Shepherd, and R. L. F. McIntosh.

A satisfactory move by the Devon Selection Committee is the effort to introduce additional young players in the sides. The time is not far distant when two or three of those who have rendered splendid service will not be of much use. It is, therefore, some consolation to know that H. A. Hambleton, E. M. Smythe, H. L. Peagram, L. Salmon, C. E. S. Poynder, L. G. Downing, and H. J. Amery—the last two-named players are in the Exeter and District League—are showing promising form. At least five of the six will probably be seen playing for the county this season, and it is hoped the whole of them will get as much cricket as possible on good wickets. Peagram, Poynder, Amery and Downing created quite a favourable impression in the Trial game last week, and their claims for county honours cannot very well be overlooked.

According to the revised rules of the Minor Counties' Association points in the competition will be reckoned as follows:—

Five points shall be scored for a win in a completed match. Should the match not be completed, the side leading on the first innings shall score three points, and its opponents one point. In the event of a tie the points shall be divided. Matches in which no result on the first innings shall have been attained shall not be included in the table of results.

An extra half hour shall be allowed on the last day of the match, if necessary, on the demand of either side. The hours of play may be varied each day, provided there is not less than 12 hours allotted for play for the whole match. A footnote explaining the word "tie," reads:—A term used in cricket to express the result of a match when the sides engaged have scored an equal number of runs at the conclusion of the match, irrespective of the number of wickets down.

Hard hitting by J. C. Vickery was the feature of the match between St. Luke's College and Cullompton at Exeter. He scored no less than six 6's, four being off successive deliveries. J. K. Tabert, another of the Collegians, registered three sixes. The homesters won with ease, compiling 216 against 70. J. C. Vickery bowled exceedingly well for St. Luke's, taking six wickets for 28. Tabert also gave a helpful hand in getting rid of the last few Cullompton batsmen, his three wickets only costing eight runs. The College are going well this season, and it is hoped they will continue their successful career.

Exeter were to have met Sidmouth at the County Ground, but the weather was so bad that the match was abandoned. Some people were of opinion that a wicket could have been provided on the edge of the central portion of the ground, but if this had been done it is doubtful whether much play could have taken place without doing considerable damage. Considering the number of matches to be played on the ground this season it is necessary the turf should be nursed as much as possible. The abandonment of the match was disappointing because it was one of the best on the Exeter card. A dozen who have taken part in county games were to have played, and had the weather been fine there would have been an interesting contest.

The Exeter Home Team were rather unfortunate in not defeating Queen's College, Taunton, as when the time arrived for drawing stumps they only required 13 runs with three wickets in hand. W. J. Troke was not out with 51 to his credit. He punished the bowling severely on many occasions, and made a great effort to reach the College total. H. R. Pape also did well. The first half-a-dozen wickets of the home side fell cheaply, but towards the end the masters gave some trouble, and when the tenth wicket fell quite a respectable total had been compiled.

Bradninch did well to beat Wellington by three wickets. The brothers Passmore were mainly instrumental in getting rid of Wellington for 111, and the visitors made the winning run with the last ball of the match. G. Clarke, G. C. Nott, and S. R. Nott batted well. Wellington are not so strong this season as in some previous years. S. J. Richards and E. E. Luke are not so good as 10 years ago, and valuable players have been lost in Twose and Brown, especially the last-named, who was an ideal captain, and much respected by everybody. Bradninch have again one of the most enthusiastic sides in the county, and will be very hard to beat as the summer advances.

WESTERN GAMES.

West Indies Visit to Exeter.

GREAT ATTRACTION.

The visit of the West Indies to Exeter on Saturday week to play the Minor Counties is attracting great interest, and, if the weather is fine, there should be a splendid game on the three days. Excellent arrangements have been made. In view of the importance of the fixture, and the fact that the tourists will be the strongest side ever played on the County Ground, very large crowds are expected. Everybody interested in cricket should make a special effort to be present on at least one of the days, as considerable expense has been incurred. By their presence it is up to the public to show the Minor Counties' and Devon Committees that such matches at Exeter are really appreciated. If they do it is quite likely similar games will be arranged in future years. The following ten players have accepted places for the Minor Counties' side:—W B Franklin (capt), W E Hazleton and Pitchford (Bucks); J H Amory and H P Miles (Devon); W T Cook and Gregory (Surrey II); E D Dynes (Bedfordshire); H W Homer (Staffordshire); and Halliday (Lancashire II.) The eleventh place will be filled by Lockitt, of Staffordshire, or R. R. Relph. The charge for admission each day will be one shilling, and the enclosure two shillings extra. Members of the Devon County Club will be admitted free, but complimentary tickets will not be available.

There are 17 players on tour, of which five belong to Barbados, and four to Trinidad, British Guiana, and Jamaica. The colours are deep burgundy blazer with the West Indian crest on breast pocket, with tie, sach, etc., of the same colour background with quarter inch stripes of green and silver. The West Indies Guide, published by Mr. F. S. Ashley-Cooper, gives some useful information about the players. E. L. Bartlett (Barbados) is a useful bat. C. R. Browne (British Guiana) an attractive bat and good right-hand medium-paced bowler. L. S. Constantine (Trinidad), a splendid field, especially at cover, a free-hitting bat and useful bowler. M. P. Fernandes (British Guiana), a capital bat, but owes his place to the withdrawal of G. A. Dewhurst, the wicket-keeper. G. Francis (Barbados), a fast bowler with good command of the ball. H. C. Griffith (Barbados), bowls fast-medium and quick off the pitch. E. L. G. Hoad (Barbados), a good bat with sound defence, though can score fast, and bowls useful slows. F. R. Martin (Jamaica), a skilful left-hand bat and bowls a useful ball. J. Neblett (British Guiana) bowls left-hand slow medium with good action, varying pace and break cleverly. R. K. Nunes (Jamaica), the captain of the side, is a very good left-hand bat and can keep wicket well. He was in the Dulwich College XI in 1910, and played for Surrey 2nd in 1910. He was vice-captain of the team which came to England in 1923. E. A. Rae (Jamaica) is a hard hitting bat, safe long-field and change bowler (leg-breaks). C. Roach (Trinidad), a useful bat, fair change bowler, and excellent field. W. St. Hill (Trinidad), an entertaining free-hitting bat. O. C. Scott (Jamaica), a good all-rounder and possibly the best slow bowler. J. A. Small (Trinidad), attractive bat and good medium fast bowler, and C. V. Wright (British (Guiana), vice-captain, and attractive and stylish bat and an excellent field. Headley (221), Martin (204, not out), Munes, 200 not out), and Tarilton have been the highest scorers in the West Indies against English touring sides. The first Test match will commence at Lords on the 23rd inst. The second will be at Manchester on July 21st, and the third at the Oval on August 11th.

The Devon team to meet Surrey 2nd at the Oval, to-day and to-morrow, and Kent 2nd, at Canterbury, on Wednesday and Thursday, left Exeter for London yesterday. They will go to Canterbury to-morrow evening and the match will be on the St. Lawrence ground. The return journey to Exeter will be on Friday. The inability of E. A. Fulcher to play, owing to a thigh injury, is regrettable, because he is about the most reliable in the county to open an innings and pave the way for some of the rather erratic batsmen who follow. A very useful young player will take his place in H. L. Peagram. E. M. Smythe will only play against Surrey, owing to his having to take an examination later in the week, and the vacancy will be filled by H. V. I. Watts, who made such a brilliant century at the County Ground last season. The players for the two matches will be:—J H Amory (capt), R G Seldon, J F Shelley, F H Carroll, A R Shepherd, Capt H A Hambleton, H P Miles, E M Smythe, H L Peagram, H V I Watts, Falding, and Jennings.

Exeter met the Devon Dumplings on Saturday, and an enjoyable game ended in a draw in favour of the Citizens, who compiled 275 for six wickets, before declaring their innings closed. The Rev. F. N. Bird, who made 50 against Blundell's School the previous week, again showed splendid form, and compiled a century in capital style. After he had registered 100 he hit out, and was caught by Major Meldon in the slips. F. W. Beech also did splendidly, and he and Bird scored 70 during their partnership. The Dumplings lost their first wicket for 10, but W. M. Thoseby and J. Venning put quite a different complexion on the game for the second, compiling nearly 100 between them. M. N. Ford was also in capital form, and registered 73, not out. When time arrived for drawing stumps, the Dumplings only had one wicket in hand, but Ford was collecting runs splendidly, and nobody knows what would have happened the other end if F. J. C. Hunter was in one of his merry moods, as he has little respect for any class of bowling when runs are an urgent necessity. The batting on both sides was rather superior to the bowling, and it was not surprising the game ended in a draw. The renewal of fixtures between the two Clubs has given great satisfaction, and it is hoped next season there will be a couple of games. Such fixtures give the only opportunities to Exeter people, who cannot patronise the ground except Saturdays, of seeing the Dumplings.

Several promising young players have been chosen to take part in the match between the Devon Club and Ground and Public Schools, at the County Ground, on Monday. Play will commence at 11.30 a.m. The lads will be captained by Maj. R. C. Campbell, and practically all the principal schools will be represented, namely: Blundell's, Allhallow's, and Exeter Schools, and Newton, St. Luke's, and Plymouth Colleges. There are also some promising players in the Club and Ground side, which A. Hingston will captain. It is interesting to note that the selectors are preseverring with players like L. G. Downing, E. E. Goldie, L. R. W. Salmon, and two or three others, as they deserve every encouragement. A good deal of trouble has been taken to get together good elevens, and an enjoyable game should be provided. The revised teams are as follows:—

Club and Ground.—A Hingston (capt), R G Seldon, W M Thoseby, Maj J H Moore, W C Gingell, H R Pape, L R W Salmon, L G Downing, L Turl, E E Goldie, F J B Painter, W J Troke.

Public Schools.—Maj R C Campbell (capt), C E S Poynder, V L Wainwright, and E W Barker, Newton College; S A Armstrong and R G Harvey, Blundell's School; C J Blew Allhallow's School; J C Vickery, St. Luke's College, Exeter; N N Tett and R A Pascoe, Exeter School; L G Lingley and N M Palmer, Plymouth College.

Harry Aston, of the United Services Club at Plymouth, will be given a "benefit" at Mount Wise on Saturday, when the Services will play Plymouth. He has been groundsman and professional at Mount Wise for 34 years. No man has done more for cricket in this part of the country, and it is hoped this will be fully recognised. Aston was first professional at Shanklin, in 1892, and then at Liskeard. At the end of 1893 he went to Mount Wise, where he has been since. He was first selected for Devon in 1899, and until 1914 was one of the most regular players. How many times Aston has assisted Devon is rather difficult to say, but he must have been chosen for well over 100 games. Everybody knows Aston. A better sportsman never stepped on a cricket field.

Falding, the Devon County and South Devon professional, who joined South Devon in 1923, is to take his first Club benefit on Saturday, when Torquay will be the visitors to Newton Abbot. Falding has rendered splendid service to the County and Club, and is very popular. Up to the end of last season he had scored 4,750 runs for South Devon, and captured 537 wickets.

MINOR COUNTIES.

Surrey II v. Devonshire at the Oval.

REMARKABLE SCORING.

Some remarkable batting was seen, yesterday, on one of the best brands of Kennington Oval pitches, in the opening stages of the match in the Minor Counties Competition between Surrey II. and Devon. The ball never rose above stump high, and Surrey, having won the toss, proceeded to total 621 runs in five hours ten minutes against the attack of seven bowlers and fielding that never grew slack. The foundations of the great success were laid by Wilson and W. T. Cook, who between them notched 378. The amateur left-hander, in first, was joined by Wilson at 72, and they made such good use of their opening as to acquire 166 in 90 minutes before the Surrey captain was caught in the deep field. He had all the characteristic shots of the left-hander, and claimed one six and 17 fours as his chief figures. It is his highest innings for the county, and deserved all the cheers, being almost without blemish. He was in 2 hours 34 minutes. Wilson also gave a splendid exhibition, once he had got his eye in. He took 70 minutes over his first 50, but after that punished all the bowlers impartially. He scored his first century in 1 hour 50 minutes. A right-handed batsman, he concentrated chiefly on on drives, which were made with sparkling and clear precision. He always took his toll of the ball over pitched or under pitched, and pulled Carroll for two sixes off consecutive balls. His other noteworthy hits were 36 fours, and, as far as could be seen, he gave no real chance. This score was compiled out of 420, and occupied three hours and a half. The last four wickets forced the pace to subscribe 130 runs, O'Gorman hitting very fiercely. For the visitors Amory and Falding did best with the ball.

Devon went in for 20 minutes and then rain came on. Scores:—

Devon's Gallant Second Innings Display.

THE OVAL MATCH.

Thanks to a gargantuan first innings total (621) Surrey II. in the match with Devon at the Oval, in the Minor Counties Competition, obtained points yesterday for leading, but Devon, by marked pluck and doggedness, averted full disaster after extra time, and provided a splendid finish. Light overnight rain had no effect on the turf, and it was largely through indifferent cricket that the visitors' first venture only realised 173. Cheap captures saw three leaving for 30, but Hambleton and Shelley then showed how the bowling could be dealt with by adding 58 quickly. Hambleton, who was seventh to go, compiled his 50 out of 118 in just under two hours. He was badly hit by a ball from O'Gorman, but soon recovered. His was a sound display of good strokes all round. Amory and Peagram looked to be well set, but an unfortunate call for a single saw the last-named run out. The Devon captain stayed 70 minutes for an unfinished 26.

The second knock by Devon was in every way brighter and better. It had, however, a disastrous start as the fourth wicket fell at 40. Then Carroll, Falding, and Shelley took much of the edge off the attack in partnerships of 51 and 74. Carroll was the more punishing, causing the field to spread out by his excellently timed drives. His 58, made out of 74, included ten boundaries. Shelley also hit hard when he had settled down. In spite of these inspiring displays, seven men had departed at the tea interval for 166. The match, indeed, looked nearly over, but Shepherd and Miles remained together in a great effort which realised 88 in 80 minutes, beating all the wiles of the attack—a shining example of the glorious uncertainty of the game. Shepherd was at the crease two hours and Watts one hour. Jennings also helped with the pluckiest of stone walling at a crisis. Scores:—

MINOR COUNTIES.

Kent II v. Devon at Canterbury.

EVEN POSITION.

This match opened at Canterbury yesterday. Devon made one change from the side that opposed Surrey II., E. M. Smythe replacing F. M. I. Watte. Kent, selecting first use of an excellent wicket, made a capital start, Watson and Dugall scoring 70 for the first wicket before Dugall was smartly caught from a hard drive by Smythe at mid-off. Miles bowled Watson with a beautiful delivery. Yendall hit vigorously for 32, but was missed by Miles and Carroll. After lunch Bull and Hubble added 73 runs for the fourth wicket in 45 minutes. Bull's 50 occupied 85 minutes, and was marked by powerful driving and skilful leg hitting. With Weigall and Phillips together, the second century appeared after three hours, but with 13 added the latter was smartly stumped by Shepherd off Amory, the keeper taking the ball on the leg side. Amory at this period was bowling exceptionally well, and frequently had the batsmen in difficulties. At length Taylor hit out, and took three 4's off Amory in one over, sending up 250. Amory at mid-off missed Weigall off Jennings. Peagram effected a smart catch at point to dispose of Taylor. Weigall reached 50 with a snick to leg. Watt was smartly stumped by Shepherd in jumping out to Falding, and Fairservice returned one to the same bowler with the score unaltered. The last wicket caused trouble, but eventually Amory hit Weigall's middle stump, and the innings closed for 294 after four and a half hours' play.

Devon opened with Shelley and Seldon, and the former gave a hard-hitting display before being well caught by Watson off Hubble. His 21 included four boundary hits. Afterwards good bowling kept Seldon and Hambleton very subdued. At one period six successive overs were maidens. Hambleton had a life, Levett missing a chance of stumping. Scores:—

DEVON'S POOR SHOW.

Early rain delayed resumption of the match, Kent II. v. Devon, at Canterbury, yesterday, until after lunch. Overnight Kent had completed one innings for 294, and Devon had scored 67 for one wicket. With the addition of 11 Seldon was caught in the slips off Fairservice, who was making good use of the pitch. Hambleton, by powerful drives, scored rapidly, but at 115 gave a hot chance to Dugall. His 47 was a capital effort, and included seven 4's. Falding, after a quiet start, also forced the pace, being particularly good on the leg side. Carroll hit lustily, and the pair added 58 in 35 minutes before the latter was well caught high up by Watson. A sensational collapse then followed. At the same total Falding was smartly taken at point, Miles fell to a catch in the slips, and Shepherd was foolishly run out, and two runs later Smythe sliced one to Watson. The last two wickets fell at 177, Fairservice dismissing Amory with a fine one-handed catch and Peagram being taken by Tindell. Taylor bowled exceptionally well, his four wickets costing only three runs.

Devon followed on, and Shelley and Seldon, by free hitting, put on 52 in 30 minutes before Shelley was caught on the boundary. His 29 included six 4's. Seldon continued forcing tactics, but Hambleton was clean bowled by Fairservice, and Falding gave Watt a simple catch at mid-off. Seldon's valuable innings was ended by a catch by Bull. He hit six 4's. Play was for a time very slow, Carroll and Shepherd defending stubbornly against good bowling until the deficit had been wiped off. The former was bowled by Taylor. Shepherd and Miles were content to play out time, but off three balls Miles hit two 6's and a 3. The match was drawn, Kent taking first innings points. Scores:—

WESTERN GAMES.

West Indies at Exeter Next Saturday.

DEVON FIXTURES.

The meteorological forecast for next week-end is favourable to cricket. After the weather experienced during the last few days it is hoped the barometer will soon settle down in view of the visit of the West Indies to Exeter on Saturday to commence a three-days' match with the Minor Counties. Bearing in mind the experience when the New Zealanders met the Western Counties at Exeter last year the promoters of the forthcoming game are naturally a little anxious about the weather, as unless it is fine it is likely there will be another substantial financial loss. The barometer has been jumping up and down to such an extent this month that some people are getting a little sceptical. The West Indies will arrive at Exeter from Sheffield early on Saturday morning, and will stay at the Rougemont Hotel. They have a fixture with Yorkshire on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. The Minor Counties' side has been completed, and is one of the strongest that has ever been got together. Major R. C. Campbell, the Hon. Secretary to the Minor Counties, and to the Devon County Club, and those assisting him have been most enthusiastic in making the necessary arrangements for the match, and the large crowds expected will find that their convenience has been studied in every detail. The enclosures in front of the pavilion will be reserved for members of the Minor Counties' and Devon Clubs, but splendid similar accommodation will be provided on the western side of the ground, extending from near the pavilion to the scoring box. Spectators will also be able to sit in extra space all round the ground, it having been arranged that a boundary line shall be drawn a few feet from the banks and the usual seating. Gates will be opened at 10.30 each day, and to avoid a rush people are asked to arrive as early as possible.

Devon had the unenviable experience of having a record score compiled against them at the Oval last week, and it would not be a surprise to hear that some of the side were a little tired, weary, and footsore by the end of the first day. To have to field while opponents compiled 621 runs was no joke, but despite Surrey's great effort the dogged tenacity of the Devonians always prevailed, and the side never lost hope of staving off defeat. Many people were under the impression that a faulty decision was given when an appeal for l.b.w. was made early in the innings against W. T. Cook. The feature of the Surrey batting was the really magnificent contribution of 240 by Wilson, who played splendidly. Devon did not do so well as expected in their first innings, but the way they got their backs to the wall in the second innings showed that the visitors had quite a good side when an extra effort was required to avoid defeat. A. R. Shepherd, F. M. L. Watts and Jennings, the last three batsmen, did remarkably well. Previously it was thought Surrey would have a fairly comfortable victory, but their defence was superb. Instead of the homesters securing five points in the competition they only obtained three, while Devon took one. Kent 2nd also got the better of Devon on the first innings, at Canterbury, so the Western county has only gained two points out of a possible 10 in the first two matches. The general opinion of those taking part was that Devon would have done better had not the toss been lost in both fixtures. The Devon side to meet Surrey 2nd, at Exeter, on the 22nd and 23rd, will be chosen today. Whether the Selection Committee can materially strengthen the side is doubtful, but satisfaction would be given if C. R. Russell, of Sidmouth, were included. Like F. Mudgley, and some other Devonians, Russell has difficulty in playing cricket except on Saturdays until the school holidays. It is hoped that as many youthful players as possible will be introduced in future sides.

SOUTH DEVON v. TORQUAY.

A large crowd witnessed this local "Derby" at Newton Abbot. In addition it was Falding's first benefit since joining the South Devon Club in 1923. The game resulted in a draw, South Devon with two wickets to fall requiring 38 runs to win. Dr. H. S. Ward batted exceedingly well for the Torquinians, and Falding was top scorer for South Devon. H. S. Butler (Torquay) captured five wickets for 37 runs, and for the homesters T. A. Codner had four for 38 and Falding four for 70. Dr. Ward and C. G. Crockwell added 68 runs for Torquay's third wicket, and it was unfortunate for South Devon that Crockwell was missed when he gave an easy catch after scoring 10. Scores:—

WEST INDIES.

Match with Minor Counties at Exeter.

INTERESTING ENCOUNTER.

During the time the West Indies side have been touring in this country they have created a most favourable impression, and their visit to Exeter in a three-days' encounter, which commenced on Saturday, with a side representing the Minor Counties has attracted considerable attention among cricketers in the Western Counties. They have played ten matches, and have only lost one, against Ireland. The majority of the games have resulted in draws, mainly owing to the weather, but they have secured two or three very good wins, especially the one against Middlesex last week. There is no doubt that they are a very good side, and their performances in the Test fixtures, which commence next Saturday, will be followed with a great deal of interest. That they play the game in attractive style there can be no doubt, and their batting, bowling, and fielding on Saturday gave delight to all. Perhaps their batting was a little slow at times, but, on the other hand, their bowling was much too swift for the Minor Counties, and four of them were skittled out in less than an hour for 33, of which six were extras. They have the team spirit in marked fashion, and the smartness with which they changed places at the end of each over was in marked contrast to the movements of some cricketers in this country. Perhaps on Saturday evening they had some reason for being particularly smart in this direction, as the Minor Counties batsmen had been fielding all day, and were naturally not so fit as if just commencing play. Two or three wickets at the end of a day are always a great asset in a two or three days' game, and if the West Indies had any particular ambition in this direction they certainly accomplished it. They have practically their strongest eleven in the field, and the side is more representative than that which met Yorkshire, the one alteration being the inclusion of R. K. Nunes, the captain. It may also be taken for granted that the eleven which took the field at Exeter, where play will be continued to-day, will be the same as that which will oppose England at Lord's in the first Test on Saturday. At the conclusion of play on Saturday the visitors had gained a distinct advantage. By winning the toss they were enabled to bat until 5.40—except for a short period when play was stopped for rain. Had one or two easy catches been taken, however, their innings must have been much shorter. C. A. Roach was very lucky in the first half an hour of his innings, as he put up a couple of easy catches which were "put on the floor." Afterwards he batted splendidly, and would probably have registered a century had he not been in too much of a hurry to do so and left alone a ball well on the off, which resulted in his being caught at the wicket. One of the most delightful batsmen seen on the ground for some time was E. L. Bartlett. The freedom with which he played the bowling from the very commencement of his innings was a matter for admiration, and it was a pity for the spectators that his life was rather short-lived. F. R. Martin was also a great attraction, and after a long stay he was also caught at the wicket by W. B. Franklin, of Bucks, the captain of the Minor Counties, who is one of the best wicket-keepers in England. There was a good deal of interest centred in L. N. Constantine when he went in to bat, but the man who practically beat Middlesex on his own by exceptionally fine bowling and batting did not get going, and was out leg-before-wicket to Relf when he had made five. His dismissal was a great disappointment to the crowd, but perhaps not the opposing players. The West Indies did not commence their innings too well, as they lost G. Challoner and M. P. Fernandes for 31, but Bartlett and Roach improved matters considerably for the fourth wicket, and then Roach and Martin put on 102 for the fifth, which made it a very respectable total for the first half of the side. There was also quite good support given to Martin by one or two other members of the side, and the last wicket did not fall until 289 had been reached. Except for three missed catches the Minor Counties did very well in fielding. The Minor Counties fared badly when they went in to bat against G. Francis and Constantine, the first wicket falling for 19, the second for 25, the third for 29, and the fourth for 30. Whether the next two or three batsmen will be able to make a stand when play is resumed this morning remains to be seen, but on Saturday the visitors certainly had their "tails" up. The pace of the West Indies bowling was terrific. Play will start at 11.15 this morning, and, no matter what is in store, there is almost bound to be a full day's cricket. Those desirous of seeing the West Indians—who are a really fine lot of fellows—should make a special effort to put in an appearance at the ground to-day, because to-morrow may be too late. Scores:—

SIDMOUTH v. EXMOUTH.

Excellent cricket was seen in this match on the Exmouth ground on Saturday. The Sidmouth first-wicket pair, E. A. Fulcher and C R Russell, hit out well, and appeared to have put the issue in the keeping of the visitors before they were separated by Jefferies. Fulcher played a practically faultless innings for 110, not out, his one slip being an exceedingly difficult chance at the wicket when his score stood at 68. Exmouth's chance appeared hopeless when Sidmouth declared with four wickets down for 238. Six of the home wickets went down for 85, and Sidmouth had an easy victory in sight. R. Dennler and F. Ware, however, saved the situation, and were still unbeaten when stumps were drawn, Dennler having hit well for 66, not out. E. P. Mills, the Sidmouth captain, when fielding at mid-off, got his right leg in the way of a hard drive by W. G. Blackwell, and had to retire. Scores:—

WEST INDIES.

Exciting Play Likely at Exeter To-Day.

A HARD TUSSLE.

The three days' match between the Minor Counties and the West Indies was continued at Exeter, yesterday, on a splendid wicket. The weather was dull, but there was a full day's play. The West Indies, who made 289 on Saturday, continued to have matters pretty much their own way in the morning, and the last six of the Minor Counties' wickets only added about 75 runs. A. Lockett, Relf, and Pitchford batted quite well, but, generally speaking, the fast bowling by G. Francis, L. N. Constantine, and H. C. Griffiths was difficult to play. When Francis or Constantine required a rest there was always Griffith to carry on. The Minor Counties' innings closed for 108. An effort was made to persuade R. K. Nunes, the West Indies captain, to bat a second time, instead of making the Minor Counties follow on to ensure play taking place to-day, but he reluctantly declined in view of the Test match on Saturday. Consequently, the Minor Counties resumed their somewhat uphill task shortly before lunch. The first five wickets only realised 62, but a great change took place when W. B. Francis joined A. Lockett. For the first time in the match the Englishmen got on even terms with the bowling, and runs were scored rapidly. Both batsmen played with confidence, and the total was taken to 138, when the home captain was caught splendidly left hand at point. Relf gave a catch to Constantine in the slips before he had scored, but when H. P. Miles joined Lockett there was a brilliant stand, the two compiling 120 for the eighth wicket. Lockett, who was caught in the slips, contributed 154 in an excellent manner, and by his great effort the situation was completely changed. Many anticipated at the luncheon interval that the game would be over in a couple of hours, and it gave great satisfaction when it became evident that further play would take place to-day. Lockett was batting for about three hours—and a more delightful knock from a spectacular view has not been seen on the ground for some time. He gave one or two difficult chances, and there were occasions when he was a little lucky in escaping players in the slips, but nevertheless his batting was a brilliant achievement. The Staffordshire man hit with great force after collecting his first 50, and no matter how often the bowling was changed he continued to score well in all directions. H. P. Miles also gave great support, and made a most valuable 61 before being caught by Constantine. W. E. Hazelton and J. H. Amory did not offer much resistance, and the innings closed shortly before 6 o'clock for 326. When the West Indies commenced their second innings they required 146 to win. The light was rather dull, but Relf and Hazelton bowled with great effect, and three wickets were lost for 18. The game will be resumed at 11 this morning, and there should be a couple of hours very exciting cricket. Scores:—

Whimple had rather a merry time at the wicket, putting together their highest score this season—128 runs. Seven men reached double figures, Harding (35) being top scorer. The visitors went in a second time, but did not complete their innings.

WEST INDIES.

First Defeat of Tourists in England.

REMARKABLE FEATURES.

The Minor Counties had the distinction at Exeter yesterday of being the first English side to defeat the West Indies in a three days' match that had created great local interest. On Saturday the visitors batted first and compiled 289, while the Minor Counties lost three wickets for 34. When play was resumed on Monday the Minor Counties continued to fare rather badly until after the luncheon interval, when a complete change came over the situation through splendid batting by A. Lockett, H. P. Miles, and W. B. Franklin, the last five wickets adding 264 runs. The Counties thus gained a lead of 145. During the last threequarters of an hour's play the West Indies lost three wickets for 18 runs, and thus required 128 runs to win yesterday with seven wickets in hand. There was heavy rain during Monday night and again shortly before the time to resume, and it was impossible to play until after lunch.

The wicket was then certainly somewhat difficult, and the visitors had a trying experience in playing Relf, W. E. Hazelton, and A. Lockett. Their fourth wicket fell when the total stood at 34, Small being caught by Hazelton in the slips off the Berkshire professional. At the same score M. P. Fernandes was caught by Lockett, also in the slips. L. N. Constantine seemed likely to considerably improve the position, but after 24 had been added he was caught at point by Horridge. A change was made in the bowling. Lockett went on, and almost immediately bowled Wight for five. A couple more wickets quickly fell, F. R. Martin being run out after contributing 14 and H. C. Griffith being bowled by Hazelton for nothing. There was a short last-wicket stand between R. K. Nunes and G. Francis, but eventually Francis endeavoured to pull a ball and was out leg-before-wicket. Thus the Minor Counties won an exceedingly keen and interesting game by 42 runs. A big ovation was given to the Minor Counties on returning to the pavilion.

W. B. Franklin captained the Minor Counties side admirably, and much of the success must be attributed to his capital leadership. Hazelton bowled admirably from the pavilion end, and took six wickets for 45 runs. Scores:—

DEVON v. SURREY II.

J. F. Shelley Scores Century before Lunch.

VISITORS' UPHILL TASK.

It is not often a century is compiled by a cricketer before the luncheon interval, but such was the performance by J. F. Shelley in the match between Devon and Surrey 2nd, which commenced at the County Ground, Exeter, yesterday, in fine weather and on a capital wicket. When the two sides met at the Oval earlier in the month Surrey 2nd gained points by leading on the first innings. Both Clubs are well represented for the match. The visitors played Cornwall on Wednesday and Thursday, and won by nine wickets. J. H. Amory, the Devon captain, won the toss for the first time this season, and the homesters took full advantage of what was to be gained by having first knock, as they kept their opponents in the field practically all day. The first wicket fell when only 20 had been scored, E. A. Fulcher being dismissed with an exceptionally good delivery by Lywood. There was a good stand for the second wicket, but when the score stood at 91, Falding selected a wrong ball to hit from J. G. O'Gorman, and was completely beaten. Captain H. A. Hambleton was the next to partner Shelley, and material headway was made, but a few minutes before the luncheon interval the United Services man was bowled by Baldwin, the batsman not thinking the ball would hit the wicket. A couple of quick dismissals took place immediately on resuming play, F. H. Carroll pulling the ball on to his wicket and C. R. Russell being out before he had scored. E. M. Smythe only stayed a few minutes. The last three wickets only added 15 runs. The score rose steadily during the partnership of Shelley and J. H. Amory. The last-named was missed in the slips almost immediately he went in, but he played well afterwards, and the total was taken from 172 to 228 before the Surrey captain held a catch from him. Ever since half-past eleven Shelley had been playing lively cricket, and after a rather poor start F. M. I. Watts assisted to score rapidly. Both played splendidly, and the third hundred was not long in being reached. A few minutes later Shelley pulled the ball in to his wicket and thus completed his innings which had lasted nearly four hours. He was dropped at deep point at 147 by H. S. Squires, but except for this he did not give a chance. He drove a ball with tremendous force for six, which brought the total up to 300. During the latter part of the innings he hit in fine style and often made boundary hits. His innings was a splendid achievement, and it was mainly due to him and F. M. I. Watts that Devon was in so satisfactory a position at the end of the day's play. Watts again showed that he is one of the best batsmen in Devon when he gets off the mark. After the tea interval the remaining two wickets quickly fell, the innings closing shortly after five o'clock for 366. Surrey did not do well against the bowling of F. W. Midgley and Amory. The dismissal of Wilson, who made 250 at the Oval, when only 15 had been registered was a distinct loss. At the same total they also lost W. T. Cook, their captain, who was out leg-before-wicket. Baldwin, whose appearance on the ground always gives much pleasure, did his best to check the successful career of the bowlers, but J. R. Cole, Geary (H.), and L. S. H. Summers could not assist him to turn the tide, and they were out for eight runs, half the wickets being down for 55. J. G. O'Gorman and Baldwin were together for about a quarter of an hour, when Baldwin gave a chance in the slips. The two remained in partnership until play ceased, the total then being 69. Except for a couple of overs Midgley and Amory bowled unchanged, each having 29 runs scored off them. Play will be resumed at eleven o'clock this morning. Scores:—

DEVON v. SURREY 2nd.

Home County Win by Nine Wickets.

NEW AMATEUR BOWLER.

The second day's play in the Minor Counties' Competition game between Devon and Surrey 2nd took place at Exeter on Saturday. The wicket remained in good condition. The visitors, who lost five wickets on Friday for 69 runs, continued their innings with Baldwin and J. G. O'Gorman, but only a few minutes' play had taken place when the amateur was bowled by F. W. Midgley, who knocked the middle stump flat. Almost immediately afterwards Baldwin was caught at the wicket by F. H. Carroll, the seventh man thus being out for 70. Mobey and Sheffield batted well in a very useful partnership, in which they carried the score from 77 to 161 before the first-named was bowled by the Devon captain. None had been added when Mobey was also dismissed by Amory, and the innings concluded for 170.

Not being less than 120 runs behind Devon's total the visitors had to follow on. Baldwin was well caught by C. R. Russell when only 15 runs had been scored. Surrey sustained another distinct loss shortly before the luncheon interval, as Wilson was out leg-before-wicket for 15 when only 44 had been recorded. Things improved somewhat when J. R. Cole and Geary were together, but before the 100 was telegraphed the amateur was caught by Carroll. Geary was the next to be dismissed, being out to a catch by Falding, and then the Surrey captain was caught, five wickets being down for 121. J. G. O'Gorman gave C R Russell a catch at 150. L. S H Summers batted extremely well, but after he had contributed 53 he was caught behind the wicket. Mobey, who gave some trouble in the first innings, was bowled by Jennings immediately he got to the wickets, when the score was 186. Three more runs were added when Sheffield was out leg-before to Amory. The last wicket gave the homesters a little trouble, but the innings closed for 226. Devon thus required 31 runs to win, which they obtained for the loss of one wicket. E. M. Smythe bowled exceedingly well for Devon. Scores:—

MINOR COUNTIES.

DEVON v. CORNWALL.

The match between Devon and Cornwall in the Minor Counties' competition, at Truro, ended in a draw, but the home county gained points by leading on the first innings. Cornwall replied to Devon's first innings total of 135 on Friday by compiling 328, and when stumps were drawn the visitors had lost three wickets in their second innings for 162.

H. Tresawna and G. Rogers carried Cornwall's overnight score of 49 for one wicket to 155 before Tresawna was out l.b.w. to Midgley. Rogers played cautiously until he got his century with a hit to the boundary off Fulcher. The young Camborne pro. received a great ovation, and the cheering was renewed when he hit the next ball from Fulcher out of the field for six. J. C. Baker then hit Falding for a six, the ball striking the upper part of the screen. At 288 Rogers was run out after a capital display for 138 without giving a chance. Cornwall's innings lasted five hours and produced 328 runs, being the highest score compiled by the county during the past three seasons.

Devon started their second innings 193 runs in arrears with about two and a half hours left for play. Kendall bowled four successive maiden overs, and at 13 Fulcher was out l.b.w. to Whiting after scoring a single. Falding and Shelley carried the score to 49 before the latter was caught behind the wicket by Rust off C. S. Baker. Cornwall made several changes in the bowling, and W. Rogers with his third ball got Hoare caught by Ollerearnshaw for 11. By vigorous hitting Falding scored freely, and frequent changes were made in the Cornish attack. Scores:—

MINOR COUNTIES.

MONMOUTH v. DEVON.

Devonshire had a lead of 109 on the first innings in their Minor Counties' match with Monmouthshire, which started at Ebbw Vale yesterday, but at one period it seemed as though they would fail to reach their opponents' meagre total of 72. It was a game of great fluctuations, and was noteworthy for the magnificent bowling of J. H. Amory and Jennings, and the wonderful batting displays by Amory and Light at a time when a complete collapse was threatened. For Monmouthshire all that can be said is that they enjoyed one brief inspired period, when Spark and Harris bowled excellently. For the rest of the time they were mediocre.

Play was difficult on a soft wicket when Monmouthshire opened their innings, and lost Rocyn Jones, Wilcox, and Raikes for six, despite the two lives given to the last-named. T. B. Williams and Dolman cautiously added 32, but none displayed an average amount of confidence or judgment in the face of the fine length and variety of the Devon bowling. Fulcher and Hoare promised great things before luncheon, and Devon looked like making a score, but they faded to such an extent that, while Hoare lost his wicket at 28, no fewer than six were down for 45. Then came thrills galore, and instead of Devon runs coming at the rate of four in 20 minutes, as was the case with Fulcher and Falding, they mounted quickly when Light held up the wicket while J. H. Amory forced the pace. Frequent Monmouthshire bowling changes had no appreciable effect, and Amory, in aggregating 40, hit five fours, one three, and two two's. Light had valuable assistance from Vickery and Jennings, and his contribution of 56 included a number of magnificent strokes, one five and six fours.

Monmouthshire were a little more successful in their second innings, but Falding and Vickery bowled well, and two wickets fell for 56. So Monmouthshire were 53 behind when stumps were drawn. Scores:—

BIG ADVANTAGE GAINED

Sensation followed sensation yesterday at Ebbw Vale, where Devon were entertained by Monmouthshire in the Minor Counties championship.

The wicket was soft and suited Amory and Jennings admirably, and they were complete masters of the situation from the moment the first ball was bowled, except for brief bright batting periods by T. B. Williams and Dolman. Both had fine length and great variety in their deliveries. In his third over Jennings commenced his destructive career, when Rocyn Jones misjudged a ball with two on the score board, and the first three batsmen left for six. T. B. Williams and Dolman were never confident, though between them they put on 32, and the only other batsman to score anything really tangible was Harris, with a not out 10.

MAGNIFICENT STAND.

Before luncheon Devon lut off 28 for the loss of Hoare, but when play was resumed there was some sensational bowling, a threatened collapse, and a magnificent stand by Light and J. H. Amory. Fulcher and Falding were so uncomfortable that they made only four runs between them in 20 minutes. Spary and Harris completely changed the course of the game, and it really seemed as if Devon would fail badly, for five wickets fell for the addition of only 17 runs. Light then insured confidence, though he scored slowly, and it was left to Amory to do some forcing.

Monmouth's total was passed in 90 minutes, and Amory's brilliant 49 included five 4's, one 3, and two 2's. He was dismissed by a fine catch in the slips by Rocyn Jones, Wilson gave little support, but when Vickery followed, Light had obtained a mastery of the bowling. He was cautious, but never failed to hit a loose ball, and by the tea interval Devon were 82 runs ahead with two wickets in hand.

Light continued to show fine batting qualities, and his confidence at a critical period was almost as valuable as his contribution of 56, which included one 5 and six 4's. Vicary also helped materially, and the total was carried to 181.

Monmouth fared rather better when they went in again, but Falding and Vicary took four wickets before the end, so that with six wickets to fall the home county left off 53 runs behind. Carroll was excellent behind the wicket. Scores:—

MINOR COUNTIES.

DEVON v. KENT II.

Devon's match with Kent II. opened at Sidmouth yesterday in brilliant sunshine, which was not an unmixed blessing, several batsmen remarking on the glare. Kent's play was not particularly fast and inclined to be monotonous. Todd was the top scorer with 91 runs, but his play was not sensational. Hilder compiled a useful 39, and provided an exciting 10 minutes in the earlier stages of the game. The final stand provided some interesting cricket. Devon's fielding was best in the outfield, and several slips cost them many runs. The home county's bowling gave the Kent batsmen a variety to cope with, Miles sending down slow balls which were not always easy to judge. Midgley's and Amory's fast bowling was effective, and allowed comparatively few opportunities for scoring runs.

Devon's opening performance gave great promise, and play closed with Devon 170 runs in arrears with eight wickets in hand. Play recommences at 11 this morning.

G. S. Watson and C. A. B. McVittie opened for the visitors, and their partnership had only lasted ten minutes when Watson was clean bowled by Midgley for a score of four. The fatal ball was almost unplayable. At the fall of the first wicket the total score stood at nine. Todd next entered partnership with McVittie, and hit the first ball for a four. Neither Midgley nor Miles gave the batsmen much opening for hard hitting, and when the second wicket fell only 21 runs were registered. McVittie, caught by Falding off a ball from Miles, had only hit four runs after being nearly half an hour at the wicket. Hilder joined Todd, and this pair dealt with the bowling in a more effective manner, the former announcing his arrival by hitting a four off Midgley. Hilder's batting showed plenty of driving power, and in less than ten minutes five 4's stood to his credit. At the rate of play, it looked as though the first century would be secured before the match was an hour old, but play slowed down to some extent. After 60 minutes' play, with the score at 82, Hilder was caught by Coates. Fulcher had fumbled a catch from this batsman a few minutes earlier. Hilder had secured 39 runs, but despite his play during his first ten minutes the remainder of his score was made up of 1's and 2's. Bull followed Hilder, and secured 29 runs before being caught in the slips by Hoare. Bull and Todd made a very steady and consistent pair; but their play did not provide any thrills. Just before the luncheon interval Todd was hurt by a throw-in, but was able to continue. This was fortunate, since he had only one more run to make to secure his fifty. Hubble's visit to the wicket was a brief one, and he only improved his team's score by seven runs before being clean bowled by Amory. The visiting team's captain, G. J. V. Weigall, went in to join Todd, who was still steadily piling up runs. With nine runs to go to his century, however, Todd was bowled by Amory. With six wickets down, Kent's score now stood at 189. Weigall and Taylor, who succeeded Todd, made a formidable pair, the former securing three 4's in one over. The partnership was not of long standing, Taylor catching a ball from Miles on the side of his bat, with Amory standing in a chance position ready to catch it. Weigall, with a score of 15, succumbed to a very slow ball from Miles. The batsman misjudged the speed of the ball and hit too early, the ball comparatively trickling beneath his bat into the wicket. With only two runs to his credit Watt was sent back to the pavilion by Midgley after a short time at the wicket. Phillips was joined by Fairservice. The two made a strong stand, and the partnership was the most interesting of the whole innings. Phillips hit 56 before Fairservice was dismissed for 13 by Jennings, Kent's innings concluding just before the tea interval with a score of 293.

Devon spent an hour and a half at the wicket, J. F. Shelley and E. A. Fulcher batting first. Both players hit hard and well. Shelley was bowled for 11, after twenty-five minutes' play, the total score being 35. Falding went out to bat with Fulcher, and it looked as though the partnership would last until the close of play. Ten minutes from the end Falding was bowled by Hilder, who delivered a terrific drive a couple of yards from the crease. Falding accounted for 44 runs, the second wicket falling for 105 runs. The first 100 was reached in just over an hour. The batting of Falding and Shelley maintained interest the whole time, and had their opponents' fielding not been so good, Devon would undoubtedly have reduced Kent's lead by a greater margin. For the last ten minutes of the day's play W. W. Hoare joined Fulcher, and the batsmen finished with four runs and 51 runs not out respectively. Both Falding and Fulcher hit nine fours.

Home Players Miss Chances and Bat Badly.

E. A. FULCHER IN FORM.

The failure of Devon to defeat Kent 2nd, at Sidmouth on Saturday, after gaining a favourable position over-night, was very disappointing, and it was a little difficult to see why there should have been such feeble batting after the first hour. The weather remained splendid all day, and everything was favourable to making a lot of runs, but there was very poor form against comparatively easy bowling. Some of the wickets fell through distinctly bad timing, failure to accurately judge the length of deliveries, and whether the ball was on the off or the leg side of the wicket. There was a little glare as the day advanced, but nothing like sufficient to account for some of the inexcusable inaccuracies shown by two or three. On the first day Kent would not have totalled anything like 293 had the fielding been good, but E. A. Fulcher and Falding batted in capital style in the last hour and a half's play, and thus recovered some of the ground. When the game was resumed on Saturday the homesters had 8 wickets in hand and 169 runs to obtain to gain the lead. Falding was bowled shortly before play ceased on Friday, but a fine partnership was seen on Saturday between W. W. Hoare and Fulcher, and no less than 115 runs were added before the Sidmouth amateur was caught behind the wicket. The scoring by them may have been a little slow, but they were making a good foundation for what should have been one of the biggest totals ever recorded by the county. Fifteen boundary hits were made by Fulcher, who again proved himself about the only batsman for Devon to be relied upon to make a stand. He compiled 92 by sound batting, and it was a pity some of the others who followed him did not take more to heart the example set. Hoare hit fifteen 4's in his score of 65, and was eventually caught at deep mid-on. When he was dismissed Devon had secured 250 for four wickets, but although only 49 runs were required to beat Kent's score with six wickets in hand the task was almost impossible, and to secure the last one required J. H. Amory probably ran the shortest run of his life in response to a call by Jennings. C. R. Russell did quite well during the short time he was in, but the less said about the batting of one or two others the better. The Devon innings closed for 298, and it must be admitted that the home county were fortunate in securing the lead.

The visitors adopted forcing tactics immediately they commenced their second innings. G. S. Watson quickly registered 21 before being bowled by F. W. Midgley. Then Phillips and Todd put on 50. Eventually Phillips mis-hit a delivery by Jennings and was caught at mid-off by Fulcher, and Todd was next sent back to the pavilion through standing outside the crease. A. L. Hilder hit a couple of delightful 6's, one being off Jennings and the other from H. P. Miles. G. J. V. Weigall and Bull also did well, and by the tea interval Kent had scored 189 for seven wickets. Weigall, the Kent captain, declared the innings closed, leaving Devon with two hours to obtain 185 to win. The wicket was still in good condition, but after the display of the majority of the home batsmen earlier in the day it was considered quite as likely as not that the visitors would win. J. F. Shelley had his middle stump laid flat by Watt when only three had been scored, and almost immediately afterwards Falding was caught by Weigall before any addition to the score. Two valuable wickets were thus lost at a very critical stage. Devon's chances of winning considerably diminished. Fulcher and Hoare again came to the rescue splendidly, and the two compiled nearly 50 for the third wicket. Unfortunately they were dismissed practically together, and the task of saving the side from defeat fell on the shoulders of some of the failures in their first innings. Weigall served them up with tempting deliveries to hit, and one after another fell into the trap, and the whole side were out for 107. Kent thus won rather unexpectedly considering the positions of the teams at the end of the first day's play. They deserved their success, which was due to an experienced captain with a young side at his disposal, who appeared to be in better condition. The attendance was not so large as expected. Scores:—

Cricket.—DEVON v. KENT II.

This County Match, the first played on the Sidmouth Ground for five years, resulted in a most interesting game. The visitors, who batted first lost, lost two wickets cheaply, but Todd played steadily and with valuable assistance from A L Hilder and Bull, the score mounted to 161 before the fourth wicket fell. With the dismissal of Todd who had batted very soundly, Devon did better, and the visitors had nine wickets down for 236 A missed catch by J Shelley proved expensive and the last wicket added 57 runs, Phillips batting in particularly good style. Devon commenced their innings with J F Shelley and E A Fulcher, but at 35 the former was bowled by a 'yorker' from Watt. E A Fulcher and Falding then batted in capital style, both scoring freeely, and 70 runs were added before Falding was dismissed, shortly before play ceased on Friday. On Saturday morning E A Fulcher and W W Hoare put up a fine partnership, and no less than 115 runs were added before E A Fulcher was caught at the wicket. He had batted splendidly for 2½ hours and hit fifteen 4's. W W Hoare who also showed splendid form and hit fifteen 4's, left shortly afterwards, the fourth wicket falling at 250. At this stage it seemed if Devon would gain a substatial lead, but so feebly did the remainder of the team bat that ohly a couple of good hits and some some smart running between the wickets that gave them a slight lead. The visitors commenced their second innings steadily, G S Watson, Phillips and Todd all showing good form. A L Hilder then came in to play a fine forcing innings and hit two splendid 6's, scoring 37 in 15 minutes before being well caught by C R Russell in the 'country.' G J Weigall eventually declared, leaving Devon to get 185 to win in two hours. The home team however, J F Shelley and Falding being dismissed with only three runs on the board. E A Fulcher and W W Hoare again showed good form and took the score to 52, when, unfortunately, both were dismissed. A victory for Devon for now almost out of the question, and the task of saving the side from defeat fell on the shoulders of some of the failures of the first innings. The majority of the batsmen hit rather recklessly at the clever bowling of Bull (who was supported by splendid fielding) and the visitors eventually gained a well-deserved success by 77 runs—due in a great measure to the able captaincy of G J Weigall. With the exception of E A Fulcher, W W Hoare and Falding the Devon batting was weak, while their fielding (excepting H P Miles, C Russell and Falding) compared unfavourably with that of the visitors, for whom G S Watson was brilliant. Jennnings bowled well in Kent's 2nd innings. Scores :—

CRICKET.

Devon v. Cornwall Match at Plymouth.

RAIN INTERVENES.

Dull, leaden skies, with prospects of rain later in the day; tricky light, promising difficulty for batsmen; and a hard, fast wicket. These were the prevailing conditions at the commencement of the Minor Counties' match at Peverell Park, Plymouth, yesterday, between Devon and Cornwall. Forecasts of rain were amply fulfilled after the lunch interval, when, with the score-board registering 161 runs for Devon, with the loss of three wickets, play was abandoned for the day. Thus does history repeat itself at Plymouth.

The match, which will be resumed this morning at 11 o'clock, is the first of the Cornwall side's summer tour. On Monday and Tuesday they meet Monmouth at Newport; on the two followings days, Surrey II. at the Oval; on Friday and Saturday, Berkshire at Reading; and on Monday and Tuesday of the week after next, Dorset at Bridport. In yesterday's play there was little to enthuse about, the most interesting points being an attractive innings of 72 by J. F. Shelley and the conjecture whether or not play would be resumed later in the day. But to-day, with a catchy wicket, there are likely to be developments.

Capt. J. H. Amory, the Devon captain, won the toss, and elected to bat first. The commencement of play was very slow—the first two overs were maidens, and after 30 minutes only 20 runs had been scored—but the Devon opening pair, E. A. Fulcher and J. F. Shelley, showed themselves quick to take advantage of rather slack fielding on the part of the Cornishmen, who later improved considerably in this respect. Whiting and P. H. Kendall shared the attack, and, with the ball rising sharply, the batsmen were careful to take no unnecessary risks. But they steadily played themselves in, and runs came more frequently. J. F. Shelley became particularly enterprising, displaying a fine variety of strokes and finding the boundary on several occasions; but he had a lucky escape when, with his score at 15, he was dropped by Ollerearnshaw.

After three-quarters of an hour the score was advanced to 45, and Shelley marked the completion of the hour by driving C. S. Baker, who had replaced Kendall, to the boundary for four, thereby reaching his half-century and increasing the Devon total to 70. At 80, Ollerearnshaw went on for Baker, a slow left-hander, whose bowling had been rather badly punished, and Cory replaced Whiting at the other end. These changes had the temporary effect of reducing the rate of scoring, but the first ball of Ollerearnshaw's third over (the previous two were maidens) Shelley got away to the boundary for four, thus advancing the Devon total to 102. The following ball, however, spelt Shelley's downfall, Kendall making no mistake with a catch in the slips. Shelley's innings, which had lasted 1 hour 25 minutes, had produced 72 runs, including nine 4's, a 3, and four 2's. Throughout it was characterised by bright and forceful hitting, and after the first few overs Shelley was always master of the bowling.

With R. E. H. Hudson partnering Fulcher, runs came at a fair pace, but slower than hitherto. Once more Kendall and Whiting took over the Cornish bowling, and the former, with the score at 129, secured the dismissal of Fulcher, who was caught by Baker at first slip. Fulcher had batted for 1 hour and 50 minutes, and his 43 included four 4's and a 3. Ten minutes later Hudson, who had scored a lively 21, including three 4's and two 3's, was bowled by Kendall with the total at 140. Falding and W. W. Hoare were in partnership when play was abandoned for the day at 2.35 p.m., about 20 minutes after the resumption following the lunch interval. Falding hit three 4's, but the rate of scoring had slowed up considerably. The Cornishmen were quicker in the field than before, and Rust, their wicketkeeper, did not concede a single bye. The tricky light was causing the batsmen difficulty, especially after lunch, when the first heavy storm was heralded by a very gloomy period. The rain continued, with slight intermission, for nearly four hours. At the end of this time the wicket was thoroughly saturated and quite unplayable. Scores:—

DEVON AT HOME TO CORNWALL

RAIN INTERFERES

The first day's play in the match between Devon and Cornwall in the minor counties championship at Peverell Park, Plymouth, yesterday, was unfortunately marred by rain, and only 2 hours 40 minutes' cricket was possible, rain starting to fall at 2.35 p.m.

During that period Devon compiled 161 for the loss of three wickets, J. F. Shelley scoring a sound 72 before being caught by Kendall off Ollerearnshaw's bowling.

Play started at 11.35 a.m., and a leaden sky made a very poor light for the opening batsmen. Devon won the toss, and J. H. Amory elected to bat first. The wicket was in splendid condition.

E. A. Fulcher and J. F. Shelley opened for Devon against the bowling of Whiting and Kendall. Whiting quickly found a length, putting the ball up to the wicket very awkwardly. Kendall bowled typical "leg swingers," placing most of his men on the leg side, with a very fine slip fieldsman on the off.

The 20 mark was reached after 35 minutes' play, Shelley putting the ball past cover. At 17 Ollerearnshaw dropped Shelley off Whiting, and this proved a costly mistake. Runs came at a fair pace, both Fulcher and Shelley getting the ball away freely. Both batsmen took a liking to the bowling of the slow left-hander, Cory, and the majority of Shelley's nine 4's came off this bowler.

GOOD WICKET-KEEPING.

Seventy-five runs were scored in 60 minutes, when a second change was made in the Cornish attack. Ollerearnshaw displaced Baker, and the first two overs off the fast bowler produced only one run. S. Rust kept wicket well, not a bye being recorded against him for the day, out of a total of 161 runs.

At 102 Shelley was dismissed, and only 27 had been added when Fulcher was taken at first slip, having scored a sound 43. R. G. H. Hudson and Falding then carried the score to 140, when Hudson was clean bowled by Kendall.

When rain compelled the abandonment of play for the day, Devon were in a fairly sound position, and unless a strong sun is in evidence to-day, the wicket will be easy paced. Scores:

CORNISH COLLAPSE AGAINST DEVON

GOOD BOWLING ON RAIN-AFFECTED WICKET

The Devon captain's good fortune in winning the toss on Friday was the all-important factor in Devon's remarkable victory over Cornwall at Peverell Park, Plymouth, on Saturday.

J. H. Amory put his men in to bat on the first day of the match, and they made the most of a good wicket. Then, with 161 runs scored for the loss of three wickets, rain concluded the play early in the afternoon. It was this rainfall, which continued intermittently through the night, and left a sodden wicket for Devon to resume their innings upon in the morning, that really accounted for the hopeless display of the Cornishmen against the fast bowling of the opposition.

Play on Saturday morning was only delayed for 20 minutes, but bright sunshine soon having its effect upon the wicket. As it dried, so did the batsmen get into difficulties, and the home county's remaining seven wickets fell for 86 runs, before the bowling of Kendall and Whiting.

BATSMEN HANDICAPPED.

Cornwall went to the wicket when it was sticky and on the verge of crumbling, an ideal pitch for Midgley and Jennings, as the batsmen soon became aware. Tresawna, Cory, and Rogers were dismissed in rapid succession, and they as did the remaining batsmen, found Midgley unplayable. The Plymothian sent down his usual speedy ball, but the manner in which it came in off the wicket was amazing. Jenning's slower deliveries were almost as dangerous on such a wicket.

C. F. Baker managed to reach double figures, but was alone in his achievement. S. L. Stephens, however, who kept his wicket intact in this, his first appearance for the county, showed no trace of nerves, and stood up to the bowling steadily. He and Kendall tried hard to make a stand, but Midgley was not to be denied.

Cornwall's total of 30 is not the lowest they had scored in the county championship, for they were dismissed by Kent II. for a smaller figure two years ago.

FAST BOWLING.

Fast bowling again proved the undoing of the Duchy when they followed on 209 runs behind, and this time it was the Devon captain, J. H. Amory, who played havoc with the batsmen. Tresawna and Cory settled down to defensive play, till Falding, who had taken Jennings's end, broke the latter's wicket. Rogers then partnered the Cornish captain, and runs came so quickly that Amory put himself on at Midgley's end, with remarkable success. His first victim was Tresawna, and then in seven overs and three balls he dismissed Baker, Addicoat, Ollerearnshaw, and Harvey for only eight runs.

Bowling at a great pace, the Devon captain apparently found Midgley's spot, his balls shooting in at the wickets but a few inches from the ground. Stephens, partnered by Rust, the Cornish wicket-keeper, who in Devon's innings did not allow a bye until 250 had been signalled in the morning, made a useful stand for the eighth wicket, the latter making his 28 with a stylish and forceful bat. Whiting, who hit a 6, stayed longer than was expected when Midgley and Jennings took over the bowling, and Cornwall had their tail to thank for the fact that the second innings collapse was not as complete as that of the first.

Cornwall totalled 121 in their second venture, Devon thus winning by an innings and 88 runs. Scores:—

MINOR COUNTIES.

Devon Defeat Cornwall Easily.

BOWLERS PROMINENT.

An unexpected decisive victory was obtained by Devon over Cornwall, at Plymouth, on Saturday, by an innings and 88 runs. The home county certainly obtained a distinct advantage by winning the toss on Friday and taking first innings on a wicket much more favourable to batsmen than bowlers, but on Saturday the conditions were entirely reversed, and all day there was very little else than a procession of batsmen to and from the wicket. The long spell of dry weather had made the Peverell pitch very hard, and Devon had the benefit of batting on it before luncheon on Friday, which gave E. A. Fulcher and J. F. Shelley a splendid opportunity of making a good start and compiling 102 for the first wicket. Rain had been threatening all the time, and after about 40 runs had been added there was a downpour which lasted so long that soon after 2 o'clock play had to be abandoned. The wicket having been well baked for so many days it was generally realised what would probably happen when the game was resumed on Saturday. There was a delay of 20 minutes owing to the pitch not being quite fit, but from now onwards the sun was generally bright, and a fairly strong breeze helped to quickly dry the ground. The wicket on the comparatively new Plymouth ground was not perfect, and under the trying conditions through the sudden change in the weather the ball played many more pranks than usual. The top soil being damp and the ground hard underneath it was not surprising that bowlers had matters practically all their own way. It was not an infrequent experience to find in one over more than half the deliveries either shooting or bouncing shoulder high, and with the bowlers always in form it was extremely difficult to bat for any length of time.

Although the foundation for a good score had once more been laid by Shelley and Fulcher, it was evident when Devon resumed their innings that no time was to be lost in advancing the total as quickly as possible. Falding and W. W. Hoare did well for half-an-hour, but after the South Devon professional was nearly run out and almost gave a catch to the Cornish captain at mid-off he was caught by Rust behind the wicket. Then Hoare was caught in the slips by Baker through the ball rising very awkwardly. J. H. Amory was scraping for the ball during the whole of the short period he was in and he soon gave Cory a catch at extra-cover, which accounted for his dismissal for one. E. M. Smythe might have done better had he not played the ball with his pads and stepped in front of a delivery on the wicket. J. S. Poynder contributed a very useful innings of 22, but the stroke which accounted for his dismissal gave the impression that he had made up his mind what he would endeavour to do with the delivery before it actually left the hand of Kendall. Jennings missed a long hop and was out for a "duck," but N. U. Coates showed improved form to that at Sidmouth against Kent, and played a good innings. The last seven of Devon's wickets added 107.

The visitors had about an hour to bat before lunch. As the morning had advanced it was apparent the wicket had become more difficult. F. W. Midgley, on his own patch, is generally a bowler to be reckoned with, and he certainly took his harvest, capturing no less than six wickets for 17 runs. At the other end Jennings also bowled unchanged, and secured four wickets for 19. The visitors were dismissed for 38—the second lowest score ever recorded in a Minor Counties competition—and had to follow on. Midgley was given eight overs in the second innings, but as he was tiring Amory relieved him, and soon started skittling out his opponents in a cruel manner. In his first seven overs there were four maidens. Only eight runs were scored off him, and he bagged five wickets. Practically half the side were out for 50 runs. The score was improved somewhat by the Devon captain's one slow delivery in each over. There were three of these, and each was sent to the boundary. The "tail" wagged a little, but the end came shortly after the tea interval. Scores:—

CRICKET AT MOUNT WISE.

Time robbed the match between the 2nd Devonshire Regt. and the Duke of Wellington Regt., at Mount Wise, yesterday, of a decisive result, and the game ended in a draw. The Duke of Wellington's batted first, and declared at six wickets for 184. When stumps were drawn the Devonshires had scored 94 for seven wickets.

AMORY BOWLS WELL FOR DEVON

DORSET SCORE FEEBLY

Remarkable bowling by Amory, the Devon captain, characterized the opening day's play in the Minor Counties match against Dorset at Bridport yesterday, the whole of the Dorset side being dismissed for the meagre total of 45 runs, and at the close of play Devon were in a winning position.

Heavy rain which had fallen overnight affected the wicket, from which the bowlers derived considerable assistance.

Amory was almost unplayable, and his success with the ball was shared by Jennings, the Blundell's School professional. Amory secured seven wickets at a cost of 15 runs, and Jennings three for 23.

As the score suggests, Dorset's innings was one long procession to and from the pavilion, and the only batsman to play the bowling with any degree of confidence was Tabor, who secured nearly half the runs.

Unlike Dorset, Devon found run-getting a comparatively easy task, and the Devon total reached 204. The outstanding batsman was Falding, who gathered 88 by means of forceful hitting. He received valuable assistance from E. A. Fulcher, who played well for his 45 runs.

When play ceased for the day Dorset had lost four wickets in their second innings for 58 runs, so that with six wickets standing they require 101 runs to avoid an innings defeat. Scores:—

DEVON WIN BY NINE WICKETS

UNUSUAL EXPERIENCE FOR FALDING

Devon gained a nine-wickets victory over Dorset at Bridport on Saturday.

Rain during the morning delayed the start until after the luncheon hour.

Devon were in a winning position overnight, having got Dorset all out for 45, and replied with 204, after which, on Dorset batting again, they had secured four wickets for 58.

On Dorset resuming their innings M. B. S. Bower and C. A. Shear showed a liking for Falding's bowling, and scored 39 and 40 respectively. In all, Falding had nine sixes hit off his bowling, a very unusual experience.

Set 19 runs to get for victory, Devon hit them off for the loss of Hoare's wicket. Scores:—

CORNWALL'S TOUR

RAIN MARS START OF BERKSHIRE MATCH

Berkshire's match with Cornwall at Reading yesterday was the home club's first in the Minor Counties Championship.

Heavy rain prevented a start in the morning, and it was not until 2.20 that the players took the field.

Cornwall, winning the toss, elected to bat first, and Tresawna and Baker opened the innings to Relf and Remnant. Runs came very slowly at first, and after twenty-five minutes, with only 9 on the board, Baker fell to a smart catch in the slips by Devitre.

When Rogers joined Tresawna runs still came slowly, and after an hour's play only 30 had been registered. At 40 a change of bowling was made, Rodney Palmer and Woodburn coming on.

Rain again interfered with play at 3.35, when the score was 64, and no further play was possible before the time for drawing stumps. Scores:—

Cornwall:—1st innings—H. Tresawna not out 23, C. S. Baker c Devitre b Relf 7, Rogers not out 32, extras 2; total (one wicket) 64.

CORNWALL'S MATCH ABANDONED

In consequence of rain cricket was impossible on Saturday at Reading, and so Cornwall's match with Berkshire had to be abandoned.

On the opening day play had been considerably curtailed by the weather, and during the time possible for play Cornwall, who took first innings, had scored 64 for one wicket (Tresawna n.o. 23, C. S. Baker 7, Rogers n.o. 32).

MINOR COUNTIES.

DEVON'S EASY WIN.

Devon gained an easy victory by nine wickets over Dorset in the Minor Counties Championship game, which was concluded at Bridport on Saturday. Fine bowling by the Devon captain, J. H. Amory, and Jennings, backed up by sound fielding, brought about a Dorset collapse on Friday. A drying wicket gave considerable assistance to Amory. Devon started badly, W. M. Thoseby losing his wicket for two, but afterwards E. A. Fulcher and Falding took the score to 123 before Fulcher left. With 145 scored Falding gave a catch to Bower. His 88 was obtained by enterprising cricket. Devon compiled 204, Dorset being set to get 159 to avoid an innings defeat, and at the close of play had lost four wickets for 58.

Rain delayed play until after the lunch interval. Upon the resumption M. B. S. Bower batted with freedom, hitting Falding for two 6's. The latter's bowling was further punished by C. A. Spear and Harrison, and in all he had nine 6's knocked off him. The last wicket partnership between Bower and Harrison saved Dorset the ignominy of defeat by an innings.

Devon, left with 19 to get for victory, obtained them for the loss of Hoare's wicket. Scores:—

TOURING TEAMS INVADE THE WEST

Cricket is well to the fore amongst the many holiday attractions in the Westcountry to-day. Unusual interest was shown in Saturday's matches throughout Devon and Cornwall, and the fine weather which made possible some brilliant performances with the bat, added to the appeal of the cricket field.

To-day probably more touring elevens will be seen opposed to Westcountry clubs than have ever taken the field on August Bank-holiday in previous years, which is a welcome indication of the excellence of Westcountry cricket. Southsea, Swansea, Forrest (Notts.), Cheltenham, and U.C.S. Old Boys are amongst the visitors, and most of these touring clubs will fulfil fixtures in the West throughout the week.

DEVON'S MATCH WITH BERKSHIRE

WESTERN COUNTY FACE DIFFICULT BOWLING

After losing Selden with the third ball of the match, Devon compiled a first innings score of 187 against Berkshire at Reading yesterday.

A large crowd watched the match, which was for the benefit of Relf, Berkshire's professional, and the weather and wicket were perfect.

A. Fulcher and R. G. Selden opened for Devon, who won the toss, electing to bat first, and Selden faced Relf. He failed to score off the first two balls and snicked the third into Rodney Palmer's hands at point. Falding joined Fulcher, but at 25 was caught and bowled by Remnant, who held a hard drive. The scoring was slow, the wicket favouring the bowlers, Relf's deliveries getting up badly and causing Hoare and Fulcher considerable trouble. Fulcher failed to cover his off stump to one of Remnant's balls and left, having contributed 18.

Poynder joined Hoare and runs came more quickly. With his score at 5 Poynder was missed at mid-off, and also gave Rodney Palmer a chance, but later fell to his bowling. Hoare was caught behind the wicket in the last over before lunch, having scored 39, the highest total of his side.

A GOOD STAND.

After the interval Relf bowled again, soon dismissing Thoseley and Russell, the former for 23 and the latter for 3. Amory followed Russell, and he and Vickery made a good stand, compiling 54 before Amory sent an easy catch into Woodburn's hands. With Jennings caught at deep mid-on, Devon's innings was finished at 3.35

R. J. F. Remnant and H. L. Lewis went out first for Berkshire, Amory starting the bowling. With the total 5 Amory clean bowled Lewis, who had contributed one 4. Relf followed him, and, after a single off Amory, was caught at the wicket. Thus Berkshire lost two wickets for 6 runs. M. C. Dempsey joined Remnant, who was beginning to hit out, but with the score at 29 Remnant was bowled by Jennings, having contributed 16.

POOR BATTING BY DEVON

BERKSHIRE FINISH ON TOP

Devon suffered defeat yesterday in their match with Berkshire at Reading by five wickets, the batsmen giving a poor display in the second innings.

Devon could only carry their overnight score of 15 to 93, Berkshire's bowling proving too good for them to get many runs. The wickets of Falding, Hoare, and Poynder fell in quick succession.

GOOD EFFORT BY THOSEBY.

When Thoseby reached the wicket as sixth man in something of a stand was made, but he could get no one to stay long with him. Russell was smartly caught at mid-on for a "duck." Following him, some interesting cricket was seen between Thoseby and Amory, but the latter succumbed to another catch by Reg. Palmer, with his score at 18. The last three batsmen only scored four between them, leaving Thoseby to carry out his bat for a valuable 38.

Relf took four wickets for 37, his 26 overs including 12 maidens, and R. Remnant had three for 21.

After lunch Berkshire commenced their task of getting 161 to win in promising style, the score being carried to 34 before the first partnership was broken. R. Remnant was then caught for 20. Lewis followed for 17 when only another 14 had been added. With the advent of Relf the score began to mount up again, and after some free hitting this player was out to a good ball by Jennings, when he had made 35. P. F. Remnant then made merry with some hard hitting, being partnered by W. G. Woodburn. Remnant made the winning hit, a 2 bringing his score to 68 not out. He gave a hard chance to Jennings in the slips when 48. Woodburn made a dozen, not out. Scores:—

PLYMOUTH OUTPLAY SOUTHSEA

At Peverell Park yesterday Plymouth scored very unevenly against a great variety of good bowling, and 153 appeared to be too few to set the visitors, who included some bats of repute. MINOR COUNTIES.

SURPRISE FOR DEVON.

The Minor Counties match at Reading between Berkshire and Devon ended yesterday in a win for Berkshire by five wickets. Overnight each side had completed an innings, and Devon, with a lead of 67 thereon, had scored 16 for two wicket, in a second innings. The visitors' position seemed, therefore, to be fairly good. Yesterday, however, the batting of the Devonians broke down badly, and the whole side got dismissed for 93. Berkshire rose to the occasion, and gained a good victory. Relf sent down 26 overs, of which twelve were maidens. Scores:—

DEVON v. DORSET.

Minor Counties Match at Exeter.

CENTURY BY L. H. BEAN.

The return match between Devon and Dorset in the Minor Counties Competition was commenced at Exeter, yesterday in fine weather, and on a good wicket. When the teams met at Bridport at the commencement of the month, the visitors secured the victory. The Dorset players were defeated at Liskeard in a low scoring match on Wednesday and Thursday by about 50 runs. In the absence of J. H. Amory, the Devonians are captained by E. A. Fulcher. Except R. E. H. Hudson, who is considered to be one of the best of the young batsmen in the country, the form of the homesters was not good, and in a little over two hours they were dismissed for 138. No less than six of the players were caught, the tendency of the batsmen being to chop deliveries, with the result that the ball went dangerously to the slips or third man. Hudson shaped really well, and the splendid manner in which he played for over an hour gave much pleasure. Eventually he was caught in the slips by M. B. S. Bower, off Bean, when the score stood at 76. He went in first wicket, and was out fifth. When he had been in a few minutes he was almost run out through not backing up, and when 28 had been compiled he was very lucky in escaping dismissal through Fulcher not responding to a call for a run, the two batsmen being almost together at the same end of the pitch when the ball was fielded. Fortunately for Hudson, the throw-in went astray, and he was able to get back before it reached the hands of E. M. B. Elderton, the wicket-keeper.

E. A. Fulcher and J. F. Shelley opened Devon's innings. When eight had been scored, Shelley was deceived by a swerver from Busk, and had his stumps disarranged. He had made two. After an additional 24 had been secured, Fulcher got over his crease in attempting to play Harrison, and was stumped. Sixty-five runs were obtained in the first hour, but, shortly after this, Devon's batting became weak, and wickets fell fast. R. G. Seldon, who had been playing well, with Hudson, was dismissed at 72, being caught by Bower in the slips. The partnership had realised 40. Falding was also caught in the slips (with the total at 72) before he had scored, and then Hudson was caught by Bower in the slips when the score stood at 76. This was not by any means a good total for half the wickets. J. S. Poynder was bowled by Bean for three, and N. U. Coates and J. C. Vickery soon returned to the pavilion. Jennings and F. W. Midgley, two selected for their bowling, made a good effort to improve the position, and added 22 before Jennings was splendidly caught by Oldnall. The innings closed shortly after lunch for 138. The Dorset bowlers were in good form, but Devon should have made many more runs.

Although Devon were successful in dismissing Knight for nine when only 15 had been made, Dorset were not long in mastering the bowling when L. H. Bean and C. L. Tabor were together. The first-named was a little slow in the early part of his innings, but Bean batted in lively style almost from the commencement. The bowling was not particularly good, and runs were secured rapidly. Up to the tea interval neither batsmen looked like getting out, despite the efforts of F. W. Midgley, J. C. Vickery, Jennings, Falding, and R. C. Seldon. By the interval the two had scored 152, Bean contributing 90 and Tabor 60. In 38 overs bowled by Devon before the adjournment there was only one "maiden," and that recorded by Jennings. Both players resumed with confidence, but after a short while Tabor was dismissed in endeavouring to get a second run from an overthrow. The total at this stage was 184, and the partnership had put on 169. W. A. R. Sumner had his stumps disarranged by the first ball he received from Midgley at the same total. The fourth wicket fell at 190, Busk having his off-stump hit by Midgley. Almost immediately after 200, when a new ball was provided, Fulcher put himself on, and secured M. B. S. Bower's wicket with his first delivery, W. W. Hoare catching him at extra-cover. Bean continued to bat splendidly, and there was another lengthy partnership when joined by E. J. Freeman. After batting for considerably over three hours, Bean was caught by Jennings on the leg-side. He played a very fine innings, and well deserved the ovation given on returning to the pavilion. The sixth wicket fell at 280, Bean having contributed 164. Elderton was out leg before-wicket before he had scored, a wasp being mainly responsible for his getting in front of the wicket. H. R. Oldnall was bowled for a single. Freeman and C. J. P. C. Jowett remained together until the time for drawing stumps, when Dorset were 146 runs ahead. Scores:—

HOMESTERS LOSE POINTS.

The match in the Minor Counties' competition between Devon and Dorset was continued at Exeter on Saturday, and ended in a draw. The visitors secured three points and their opponents one. Devon made 138 in the first innings, and Dorset replied on Friday with 299 for eight wickets. Play was resumed on Saturday in fine weather and on a good wicket. E. J. Freeman and C. J. P. C. Jowett continued batting for Dorset, and when 29 runs were added for the ninth wicket the last-named was bowled by Jennings. Almost immediately A. M. Harrison joined M. B. Elderton, the latter stepped across his wicket to put the ball to leg, but missed it and was out. The innings closed for 316, and provided a substantial lead of 178.

Devon batted in the same order in the second innings as on Friday. Before a run had been scored J. F. Shelley was caught in the slips by Bower, off Busk. The position was considerably improved when E. A. Fulcher and R. E. Hudson joined partnership, and they were together for nearly an hour before Fulcher had his middle stump hit by Jowett. The score had been taken to 67. R. G. Seldon was out leg before wicket before he had scored, but Hudson added 20 to his score before the wicket fell. Falding was too eager, and was caught in the slips after making one boundary hit. He played a ball that should have been left alone. The score was now 91. Hudson, who was batting splendidly, reached 50 with a beautiful stroke. W. W. Hoare remained with him until the luncheon interval, when the score stood at 100 for four wickets. Both batsmen continued to bat well on the resumption, but after a further threequarters of an hour Hudson played a ball well off the wicked and was caught by M. B. Elderton. He had batted in capital style for two hours, and contributed 86 out of 156. W. W. Hoare and J. S. Poynder added 53 for the sixth wicket before the last-named was bowled by Busk. N. U. Coates was out leg before wicket after making six, and at the same total of 223 Hoare, who had sustained an injury to one of his hands, was bowled by Jowett. The out-going batsman played a really good innings. His score included 11 boundary hits. J. C. Vickery batted well for a new man, but was bowled by Busk after making 16. Jennings, who displayed a certain amount of liveliness in the first innings, again did well. Just before the tea interval he made four 4's in succession. Afterwards he batted remarkably well, and compiled 64 before he was caught by Summer. He played a most valuable innings, and delighted the spectators. Much credit is also due to F. W. Midgley for keeping his end up so long. The innings closed for 318, or 140 on.

The visitors were left with an hour and a half to score 141 and win. Knight and L. H. Bean made a capital effort to secure the runs needed, and compiled 68 for the first wicket. The professional was clean bowled by Vickery. A few minutes later Bean—who gave a hard chance at square leg before he scored—was stumped by Coates, off Falding, the delivery of the South Devon professional completely beating the batsman. C. L. Tabor had his off stump displaced at 82, Midgley bowling him in splendid style. At the same total Bower was caught by Hoare, and then Sumner was out leg before wicket to Midgley, half the wickets being down for 68. Busk and Freeman were in when the game ceased, the score being taken to 102 without further loss. Scores:—

DEVON DUMPLINGS v. FREE FORESTERS.

This match ended at Bystock on Saturday in a win for the Dumplings by 23 runs. Major Meldon, whose bowling had been badly knocked about overnight, when he secured two wickets for 54, met with vastly different fortune on resuming. The visitors found him practically unplayable, and in the course of twelve overs, seven of which were maidens, he took an additional five wickets for 14 runs, making his total bag for the innings seven for 68. Capt. R. C. Brewitt accomplished a fine bowling feat in the second innings of the Dumplings, when he took seven wickets for 28, but the Free Foresters found the task of getting 189 for victory was just too much for them against the attack of Major Meldon and G. H. Simmons. Scores:—

Rain Interferes with Devon v. Monmouth Match.

SHELLEY'S SCORE.

Rain interfered with the opening day's play at the County Ground, Pennsylvania, Exeter, yesterday, of the Minor Counties' match between Devon and Monmouth. The visitors, who sustained defeat by nine wickets in their game with Cornwall on Friday and Saturday, were handicapped by the absence of K. Harris, who was attending the funeral of his father. The weather during the morning was ideal, and the pitch in good condition. E. A. Fulcher, the Devon captain, won the toss and elected to bat first. The home county compiled 167 by the time the lunch interval arrived, but immediately afterwards rain set in. A half-hour's interval in the showers enabled the Devon men to carry the total to 210 for the loss of seven wickets, but a resumption of the rain at 3 o'clock caused play to be abandoned for the day. The game will be resumed this morning at 11 o'clock.

Fulcher and Shelley opened the Devon innings against the bowling of Raikes and Spary, and when only two runs had been telegraphed, Shelley was missed at second slip off Raikes before he had scored. Events proved this to be a costly slip, for Shelley, who was missed again at a later stage, went on to score an invaluable 75. In the same over Fulcher gave a similar chance, and was not as fortunate as his partner; for Perks secured the Devon captain's dismissal with a brilliant low catch at first slip. The score at this stage totalled three. Steadily playing themselves in, Shelley and Seldon advanced the total to 50 during the next half hour, and at 54 Perks went on for Spary at the Barracks end. Seldon snicked a four to the boundary, giving a chance to the wicket-keeper, Wilcox; but early in the following over, after exactly one hour's play, Seldon was out l b w to a delivery from Raikes. The total was now 71, of which Seldon claimed 31.

Shelley was still batting strongly, and although seemingly unable to hit with quite the freedom he desired, was the most forceful of the Devon batsmen. He attained his half-century after one hour and a quarter's play, and, with Falding partnering him, 100 was registered five minutes later. Lewis had relieved Raikes for a spell, but the latter took over again, and at 105 Spary went on once more for Perks. The third wicket partnership had lasted 40 minutes, and produced another 71 runs, when Spary bowled Falding, the latter having contributed a useful 26. Shelley fell a victim to the same bowler a few minutes later with the score still at 142. Shelley's innings had lasted one hour and three-quarters, and his 75 included five fours. There was not the usual freedom about his strokes, however, although he tried hard to get the ball to the boundary on many occasions; and his innings, containing 31 singles, was not altogether characteristic of him. The Monmouth fielding, it was true, was rather keen and prevented many runs.

With W. W. Hoare and J. S. Poynder at the wicket runs came at a fair pace, but slower than before. The Monmouth bowlers kept a good length, and the batsmen were unable to take many liberties. Perks again relieved Spary at the Barracks end, and the latter, who took over from Raikes at the pavilion end, captured Poynder's wicket with the Devon total at 167. Poynder, who was given out l b w, had knocked up 20, while Hoare, during practically the same period, had contributed three. Hoare and W. M. Thoseby were in partnership at the lunch interval, with the score still at 167.

A heavy storm just before 2 o'clock delayed the resumption, and the wicket was hastily covered while players scampered back to the pavilion. Play recommenced after about half an hour, and 14 runs had been added when Thoseby played a delivery from Perks on to his wicket, after scoring seven. A. R. Shepherd and Hoare carried the total to 210 before the latter was smartly stumped by Wilcox off Spary. At this point a heavy downpour commenced, and, although the weather cleared later in the day, no further play was possible. Scores:—

MINOR COUNTIES.

Quiet Finish of Devon v. Monmouth Match.

SLOW SCORING.

The Minor Counties' match, Devon v. Monmouth, at the County Ground, Pennsylvania, Exeter, concluded yesterday with the home county taking majority points by virtue of a first innings lead of 72 runs. The Devon men compiled 225 in their first innings, and Monmouth replied with 153 in an innings which lasted two hours and three-quarters. Devon's second innings was characterised by some very slow and uninteresting play, and 91 runs had been compiled for the loss of six wickets by the time the game ended. Interest largely departed from the play in consequence of Devon's unenterprising effort in the second innings.

The visitors were not long in bringing the Devon innings to a close. Before a run had been added Spary had J. C. Vickery caught at the wicket by Wilcox. Jennings hit up ten before being taken by Jones off Raikes, and Midgley soon fell a victim to the smart wicket-keeping of Wilcox. The Devon innings closed for 225 within a quarter of an hour of the resumption.

The home side took the field at 11.30, and K. C. Raikes and G. A. Webb faced the bowling of Midgley and Jennings. With the score at twelve Raikes played on a fast delivery from Midgley, and the total had only been advanced to 23 when Webb was caught at the wicket by Shepherd off Jennings. The cricket was very slow, and at the end of the first hour, when H. Jones, who was now partnering H. R. Siddall, was clean bowled by Jennings after making four, the Monmouth total was 31. Falding relieved Midgley, and the visitors were extremely cautious. Siddall and L. Robotham, in a partnership lasting half an hour, advanced the score to 48 before the former was dismissed by a brilliant right-handed catch by Vickery off Jennings. Siddall had made 17 during his stay of rather over an hour. T. B. Williams, who followed him, was caught at the wicket by Shepherd off Midgley. His was the fifth Monmouth wicket to fall, and the score at this stage was 53. At the lunch interval Robotham (who was dropped at 17 by Falding) and L. Lewis were in partnership, the visitors' total, after one and threequarter hours' batting, being 56.

The sunshine that prevailed during most of the day was in strong contrast to the wretched conditions after lunch the previous day. Robotham advanced his score to 21 before being bowled by Jennings soon after the resumption. The seventh-wicket partnership between Lewis and A. R. Ralph was a bright affair. The latter hit with great freedom, and employed a variety of strokes. He was missed once on the boundary (the Devon men made at least four bad mistakes of this kind), but his play was attractive. Lewis contributed a lively 19 before being bowled by Jennings, the partnership having raised the total from 61 to 88. With R. Perks partnering Ralph runs came more rapidly, the former, who was splendidly caught by Poynder off Vickery, contributing a useful 26 in quick time, and helping to carry the score to 134. Ralph's wicket was the next to fall, Jennings, who was in fine form, wrecking his timbers with the score at 150, of which Ralph claimed 30. The end came when Wilcox was stumped by Shepherd off Jennings. The innings, which lasted just over two hours and threequarters, produced 153 runs, or 72 less than the Devon total.

Devon's second innings could hardly have opened in a more sensational fashion, for with the first ball, delivered by Raikes, Shelley was clean bowled. With E. A. Fulcher and R. G. Seldon at the wicket runs came slowly. Fulcher, who contributed 22, was bowled by Perks, who had relieved Raikes, with the total at 59. Only nine more runs had been added when Seldon was out l.b.w. to Lewis for 34. Two more wickets fell in quick time, Falding being well caught by Raikes off Perks and Spary making no mistake with a catch knocked up by J. S. Poynder off Lewis's bowling. W. W. Hoare scored eight before being bowled by Webb, the score then standing at 89. W. M. Thoseby and A. R. Shepherd were in partnership when stumps were drawn at 5.20 p.m. with the total 91 for the loss of six wickets. Scores:—

THE "50 EXTRAS" MATCH.

RESULT OF INQUIRY.

Following an inquiry, the Committee of the Staffordshire County Cricket Club has issued a statement regarding the Minor Counties match between the second eleven of Leicestershire and Staffordshire at Leicester on August 2nd, when Staffordshire, owing to the bowling of wides, etc., by opponents, gained a first innings lead in a drawn game.

The statement denies that Staffordshire played for a "no result," the captain's instructions being that the players were to force the game, and the usual order of going in was altered with the object of winning outright if possible. When the Leicestershire spectators persisted in "barracking," the statement continues, the batsmen declined to run for two or three scoring strokes, and it was then that the Leicestershire captain went on to bowl and commenced the series of overs that produced (approximately) 50 extras in the form of wides and byes. The Leicestershire innings of 124 occupied three hours and five minutes. Staffordshire, allowing for the tea interval, had three hours in which to pass that total, with an extra half-hour in the event of a win outright being possible.

MINOR COUNTIES.

Devon v. Berkshire Match at Exeter.

RAIN INTERVENES.

The first day's play in the Minor Counties match, Devon v. Berkshire, at the County Ground, Pennsylvania, Exeter, yesterday, was marred by rain, which, setting in heavily after lunch, caused stumps to be drawn for the day soon after two o'clock. Play, weather permitting, will be resumed this morning at 11 o'clock.

The pitch was in ideal condition when the match commenced. The weather, however, was dull, and there were indications that rain would curtail play, as on the occasion of the first day of the match against Monmouth earlier in the week. The Devon side was the same as in that game with the exception that R. E. H. Hudson took the place of J. F. Shelley.

E. A. Fulcher and R. G. Seldon opened the Devon innings, and had begun to settle down when Seldon was run out, a smart return by Sayles wrecking his wicket. The first six overs had yielded only four byes, and when the first wicket fell the score stood at seven, Seldon having contributed three. Fulcher was dropped in the slips before he had scored, but, partnered by R. E. H. Hudson, he brought off some beautiful leg strokes, and registered boundaries on several occasions. Relf and P. G. E. Nash were the bowlers, and kept a good length, but the partnership continued to flourish, each batsman earning applause for well-timed hits to all parts of the ground. At the end of an hour 70 runs had been telegraphed, and the partnership had lasted about one and a quarter hours when Hudson, with a strong boundary hit, carried the total score to a century and put his own figures up to 53. Fulcher had then scored 41. R. C. H. Human and W. Y. Woodburn (the Berkshire captain) took turns with the bowling, and, although the rate of scoring was slowed before the lunch interval, the Devon men appeared to have the situation well in hand. Hudson it was, however, who did most of the scoring; he increased his score to 80 during the half hour preceding the lunch interval, while Fulcher scored two. At the interval the Devon total was 133 for one wicket.

Rain fell during the lunch interval, but a break subsequently permitted of five minutes' play. In this time E. A. Fulcher, who had compiled 45, was caught at first slip by Relf off Woodburn. The Devon total then stood at 138. Only three more runs had been added when, with R. E. H. Hudson and Falding in partnership, a renewal of rain caused play to be abandoned. Present scores:—

MINOR COUNTIES.

TIME SAVES BERKSHIRE.

Devon's match with Berkshire ended at the County Ground, Pennsylvania, Exeter, on Saturday afternoon, in a draw. Devon scored 246, and Berkshire 101 for nine. Rain interrupted Friday's play, during which Devon scored 139 for two wickets. A glance at the ground on Saturday morning showed that the previous afternoon's rain and that of the early morning had well soaked the pitch, but the forenoon kept fine, and with sun and wind the pitch steadily recovered. There was no play, however, before lunch, and the teams did not take the field until 2.30 p.m. The Devon captain (E. A. Fulcher) was willing to start earlier, but the Berkshire captain (W. Y. Woodburn) would not agree, and left the matter in the hands of the umpires. There was considerable comment on the delay in resuming, and many good judges held that play could have been easily begun at or soon after noon.

R. E. H. Hudson (84) and Falding (0) renewed their partnership for Devon in good style, but only 14 runs had been added before Hudson was caught by P. G. E. Nash off a delivery from Relf (who was exploiting the leg trap) with his total at 87. A catch by Woodburn off another of Relf's deliveries sent Falding back to the pavilion after increasing Devon's score by 11. Relf's bowling secured a third victim when W. W. Hoare was caught by Lewis after scoring four. J. S. Poynder and A. R. Shepherd then had a bright and useful partnership for 43 ere the former was dismissed by a catch by Relf off Woodburn for 35. W. M. Thoseby had been clean bowled by Relf for 9 and J. C. Vickery was caught by Nash off Woodburn for 2. An hour and a quarter had yielded 62 runs. Jennings, in stepping out to drive Woodburn, got stumped after making 7. A. R. Shepherd and F. W. Midgley had an entertaining last-wicket stand. The Devon fast bowler was unusually enterprising, and made 12 before lifting a ball into the hands of Relf at slip. Shepherd carried his bat, and the innings closed for 246.

Berkshire went in to bat at 25 minutes to five. Midgley secured his first victim, D. W. Stokes, after five minutes' play with the visitors' score at two. G. Sayles was very smartly taken by Jennings off his own bowling with the score at 10, and Shepherd snapped H. L. Lewis at the wicket off Jennings with the total at 21. P. F. Remnant was clean bowled by Midgley at the same total. Berkshire had now been in an hour and a quarter and lost four wickets. P. G. E. Nash and J. Rowland were put in fifth and sixth instead of eighth and ninth, and were soon sent back by catches off Midgley and Jennings for none and three respectively. Six wickets were now down for 28, and with about an hour left for play—Berkshire wanted to stop at 6.30, but Devon insisted on continuing until the allotted time, 7 o'clock—the prospect of a Devon victory grew bright. But the old campaigner, Relf, and R. W. C. Human came to the rescue, and carried the score from 28 to 74 before the amateur was run out in an unusual fashion. Fulcher bowled to Relf, who hit straight down the pitch. The ball rebounded from Fulcher's foot on to Human's wicket, and dislodged the bails. Human had commenced to run, and, being out of his ground when his wicket fell, had to retire. Relf went on hitting crisply—he got one 6—and with the aid of R. H. R. Palmer advanced the total to 101. Then two wickets fell, Palmer was clean bowled by Jennings and W. Y. Woodburn was out to the first ball he had from the same bowler. There were a few minutes left, but Relf and F. S. Buckley played out time and the match was drawn. Had the game been resumed earlier Devon would, in all probability, have got a handsome win. The bowling of Midgley and Jennings was very good, and the fielding on both sides was keen. Scores:—

During a severe thunderstorm at Stoneywood Cricket Park, near Aberdeen, on Saturday afternoon, lightning struck the scorers' shed in which eight men were sheltering. A metal ventilator was knocked off the roof, the scoring board was scorched and bent, and the shed partly wrecked. The occupants were knocked to the ground, and four were burned and paralysed. They were George Samways (a Stoneywood cricketer), John Law and Alexander Mann, also of Stoneywood (who were spectators of the game), and C. Andrews, West North-street, Aberdeen (who had accompanied the visiting players).

CRICKET IN CORNWALL

RESULTS OF SEASON'S PLAY

The 1928 season has been a most successful one in Cornwall from almost every point of view. The efforts for cricket in Cornwall are yearly becoming more co-ordinated. The elementary schools are taking the game seriously and producing some likely boys. The secondary schools are turning out their due share of young players whose presence is being felt.

Club cricket, considering all things, is strong, and the experiment of the Cornwall Cricket League in fostering junior competitions this year holds very considerable promise. The county club, although a separate organization, is very closely connected with these efforts, and itself is a reflection of the efforts being made for the game in all these other directions. The success of Cornwall in the Minor Counties' Competition this year is, in some measure at least, a justification of what is being done the county over. The only qualification for inclusion in the county side is cricket, and one hears in connection with some other counties that this system in Cornwall is the envy of a number of those outside the county who are watching developments.

THE COUNTY TEAM.

Cornwall rather disappointed its many supporters by losing the last game against Berkshire at Camborne after being in a most favourable position towards the end. The record is therefore: 3 wins, 3 games won on the first innings, 3 lost, and one game no decision. Thus 24 points were secured out of a total of 45 possible. With this result followers of the game in Cornwall will be well satisfied, and the team are to be congratulated on such a good result. The batting has not been too good, and is not responsible for the result. It has not been conspicuously weak, but the side are capable of better things. The attack, mainly carried by P. Kendall and Whiting, has been good, and the record of Whiting, now a veteran in the service for Cornwall, cannot be allowed to pass without notice. He has taken 59 wickets this year, bringing his total to 794 wickets for Cornwall in Minor County matches in 19 seasons' cricket. Kendall has also been a decided success, and the remaining bowlers have not been much used. Cory (Redruth) and Rogers (G.) (Camborne) have each completed 1,000 runs for the season, the former for the fourth seasons in succession, and have been the outstanding batsmen in Cornish cricket, club, and county. The showing made by the Cornwall Colts against the Devon Colts at Plymouth was very gratifying and not wholly unexpected by those who had been watching the youngsters closely. H. Bond, of Camborne, and J. C. Have, of Truro, are quite promising batsmen who have had some experience of League cricket, and W. R. C. Smith (Truro College) and W. K. Nicholls (Redruth County School) the best of the schoolboys. H. Buchanan (Blundells) impressed in the trial and will assuredly be heard of in the future. J. Peters and J. Wills who left the Redruth County School two years ago, have been batting extraordinary well for Camborne II. Each has made two centuries recently and large scores consistently in addition.

THE LEAGUE.

The senior competition was concluded on Saturday when Camborne and St. Austell met in the final at Camborne. Camborne won very easily. Camborne thoroughly deserve the chief honours of club cricket for 1928, and will have the good wishes of all in their success. They have lost one game only during the season against Penzance at Penzance.

The final positions of the clubs are as follow:—

JUNIOR COMPETITION.

Camborne II. have won the western section after a very close fight with Trewellard and and Townshend, and they will meet Redruth East End in a semi-final this week. Probus failed to meet the arrangements for a replayed tie with Redruth East End on Saturday at Chacewater and the League Emergency Committee have awarded this game to the latter club. It was quite impossible to delay the issue further. The final will probably be played at Troon on Saturday next between the winners and Baripper.
