MINOR COUNTIES CHAMPIONSHIP.

YORKSHIRE II. v. NOTTS. 11.

The Notts, second team gained a meritorious victory at the expense of the Yorkshire second eleven yesterday at Keighley. When the two sides met at Trent Bridge, Notts, wore then vic-torious by ten wickets, and in the match that con-chided yesterday the advantage was coven wickets. When the game invisited on Monday evening Yorkshire, with 14 runs secred in the closing 10 minutes of play for the loss of two wickets, had a load of 45, with eight wickets in hand, but yes-terday morning the remaining eight wickets were obtained in an how and 25 minutes for but 97 runs. The excellent bowling of Barnes was and in the end he claimed six wickets for just over 5 runs each. The opening Notts, men, Lee and Armstrong.

primarily responsible for such a state of affairs, and in the end he claimed six wickets for just over 5 runs each. The opening Notts, men, Lee and Armstrong, set about their task with confidence, though Arm-strong was bowled by a no-ball sent down by Brown when the score was 9, and Lee should have been run out for an addition of 35 runs. Apart from these chances both batsmen batted splendidly. Another excellent partnership was othered upon when Ire nonger joined Armstrong, and it was not broken until 72 runs had been added for the second wicket, and the mifteh then was practically won. Armstrong was an hour and a quarter in making his 69. He showed con-fidence and resource towards the clove, and was out when but 9 runs were required. In the end Turner and Staplaton knocked off the necessary runs, and Notts, won by seven wickets. Score and analysis:-

The fact that the Yorkshire Second Eleven are in a leading position in the tournament for the Minor Counties' Championship has brought the team into greater prominence than has been their fortune Counties' Championalip has bought the team into greater prominence than has been their fortune hilderto, and their future progress will be watched with keen interest. #### HOME COUNTY SUFFER DEFEAT.

In good time yesterday, the Yorkshire Second Eleven suffered their second defeat of the sesson at the hands of the Notts Second Celtar of the source at the hands of the Notts Second Eleven, who were their visitors at Keighley. The result, which, of course, seriously prejudices Yorkshire's chance of winning the Minor Counties' Championship, was due as much to the un-accountable failure of the Yorkshire batanen in their counting the their methods in boulding. Howing second innings as to their weakness in bowling. Having established a load of 29 runs on the first innings score, Yorkshire turned the advantage to the other side Yorkshire turned the advantage to the other side when they lost the wickets of their three most depend-able batamen-Rudaton, Grimshaw, and Turner-for only 14 runs in their second innings. That advantage laid the foundation of the Nottinghamshire team's sucthe "swimming" balls from the off delivered by Barnes, the fast-medium bowler, and the side wore all the "swimming" balls from the side wore all the first statemedium bowler, and the side wore all the first statemedium bowler, and the side wore all the side wore statemediated by Larnes, the fast-modulm bowler, and the side wore all out for 11 runa-a disappointing score under the per-fect batting conditions. Even ro, Yorkshire ought to have made a better fight than they subsequently did. Their fielding was not up to its outomary high standard, and, in consequence, Armstrong, who is better known as the Notts Forest footballor than as a oricketor, scored (9 runs-a performance which was chiefly instrumental in onabling the visitons to win by seven wickets.

When play was resumed yesterday morning York-shire had two wickets down in their second innings for 14 runs. With the score unaltered Turner was out to a catch in the slips from the first ball delivered by shire had two wicksts down in their second innings for 14 runs. With the score unaltered Turner was out to a catch in the slips from the first ball delivered by Richardson and Oldroyst for the fourth wicket. York-shire would have out a very sorry figure. Both bats-men played sound oricket until 69 was reached, when Richardson was oleaned bowled by Barnes for a well-played 37. Drake, Booth, and Mr. Frank were cleap victims to the same bowled, and at 50 Oldroyd, who had meanwhile batted with the easy confidence which has obsarcterized all his efforts so far, was out to a good ball from Riley. His stylish innings had lasted an hour and a quarter, and had realised 36 runs-exactly the same score as in his first innings. Barnes maintained his destructive form to the end, and clean bowling Harrison and Brown, he finished off the inning for 111 runs. The sanalysis showed that Barnes had taken aix wicksts for 31 runs. Notts were left with all the afternoon to bat, and only 141 runs to get to win. The prospect of a sport-ing finish was dissipated in goest time, for Lee and Armstrong, who opened the innings, made so light of the bowling that they had put on 50 runs in twoity-tivo minutes. They were lucky in so doing, however, for Armstrong after being bowled by a no-ball from Brown when he had made 3, gave an unscoepted chance to Drake in the slips off Richardson's bowling at 27. and four runs later might have been run out. Similarly Lee slould have been run out when he was only 10, Rudaton throwing the ball too wile of the wicket to enable Dolphin to gatior it in time. The batemen profited from these ' lives,' and they put on 59 for the first wicket isfore Lee was clean bowlest by Richard-son. The partnership of Armstrong and Irenonger proved even more profitable. The latter hit all round the wicket in merry fashion, and he had sourced 3 function throwing the ball too wile of the batemen profited from these ' lives,' and they put on 59 for the first wicket balore Lee was clean how leed by Richard-son.
