MONMOUTHSHIRE v. CARMARTHENSHIRE.

Honours were fairly even in the match between Monmouthshire and Carmarthenshire, which opened in pleasant weather at Abergavenny on Monday. Monmouthshire, who secured first innings, were weak in bowling, the attack devolving upon Silverlock and Rainsford, F. G. Phillips being unable to stand the strain. Monmouthshire did not start over well, for Silverlock was dismissed with the score at 4, and three wickets were down for 50. Maltby, however, batted confidently for 75, and J. R. Jacob and Rainsford added useful scores, but the whole side only reached the moderate total of 189. Gee had the best bowling analysis with four wickets for 37 runs, Howell taking four for 72, and Melhuish two for 32.

Carmarthenshire opened in promising style, and had registered 80 for the fall of the first wicket. Percy Rees and Ike Evans finding no trouble with the bowling of Silverlock and Rainsford. It was Diver who effected the separation. Of the remaining batsmen Howell and Soar batted well, and Carmarthenshire were 11 runs ahead at the fall of the last wicket. Silverlock took six wickets for 62, E. S. Phillips three for 27, and Diver one for 50. Scores:—

Although a few runs behind on the first innings, Monmouthshire played so well at Abergavenny on Tuesday that they finished with the substantial victory over Carmarthenshire of 143 runs. Silverlock early in the day played magnificently for 92, and was well supported by Captain Giles, Diver, A. M. Maltby, and E. S. Phillips. The result was that the home county declared at 287 for eight wickets, and, with F. G. Phillips able to bowl again, Carmarthenshire found the task of making 276 altogether beyond their powers. The only feature of their innings was a capital stand towards the end by E. Gee and C. P. Lewis. Complete scores:—

YORKSHIRE.—Lord Hawke, Pinder, Freeman, Emmett, Hirst, Rhodes, Ephraim Lockwood, Ulyett, Brown, F. S. Jackson, Tunncliffe. (Denton is a better batsman than Tunncliffe, but we must have the latter in the slips to the fast bowlers; whereas Ulyett could take Denton's place in the long-field.)

LANCASHIRE.—A. N. Hornby, Pilling, Barlow, A. G. Steel, Mold, Briggs, A. C. MacLaren, Spooner, John Tyldesley, Sharp, V. K. Royle (the latter chiefly for his fielding, which has never been surpassed, if equalled).

Would that we could see these elevens doing battle for their respective counties.

ODDS AND ENDS.—Notts.' sojourn in the South resulted in disaster—no point out of a possible ten; they must have longed for the more exhilarating atmosphere of the Trent. And Kent fared little better, taking only one point out of Hampshire and Lancashire; and on their native heath, Canterbury of all places, where they have usually sent back all comers, sadder, if wiser. One of the curiosities of the present season was the batting failure of several counties who had choice of innings on a perfect wicket last week-end, whilst in every case their opponents scored well. Neither Kent, Surrey, Notts., nor Yorkshire recovered from their disastrous start. Yorkshire indeed went from bad to worse. The following contrasts speak for themselves:—Surrey 112, Middlesex 328; Notts 154, Essex 326; Kent 156, Lancashire 429; Yorkshire 153, Leicestershire 220. This last figure was sufficient to give the Midlanders a one-innings victory, thanks to some wonderful bowling by King—8 wickets for 17 runs. Bravo, Leicestershire! Fancy Rhodes getting the spectacles for the first time in a championship match; and this in almost the most successful batting season he has ever had. By-the-by, what funny reading it makes at this distance that in 1898 Yorkshire were undecided as to whether Rhodes or Cordingley should be drafted into the county eleven; fortunately no mistake was made. But there was a time when Fry was not thought good enough to be a fixture in the county of his birth; and did not Lockwood, who was on his day a deadlier fast bowler than even Richardson, get the cold shoulder from his county? It would make a capital article to give a list of the cricketing cast-offs who had their subsequent revenge either as batsmen or bowlers.

WARWICKSHIRE v. DERBYSHIRE.

Played at Edgbaston on August 10, 11 and 12 and won by Warwickshire by 165 runs. Against some successful bowling by Forester, the home side were dismissed in their first innings for 170, only Stephens, who hit seven 4's in making 53 out of 75 in 60 minutes, doing himself justice. At one point Derbyshire seemed likely to secure a long lead, their first wicket realizing 61 and their second 88, but the rest did little against Foster and Field. Chapman, who played a fine forcing game, made 73 out of 116 in 80 minutes and hit ten 4's. Warwickshire gave a vastly improved display upon going in the second time. Foster, making a 6 and a dozen 4's, claimed 70 of the 104 runs put on in 70 minutes with Quaife for the fourth wicket, and Baker assisted the same player to add 98 for the fifth while Smith helped to increase the score by 91 for the sixth and Parsons by 73 for the seventh. Quaife batted for four hours and a half without a mistake and hit fourteen 4's. Derbyshire never appeared likely to pull off the game, Foster, who at one period bowled an hour for 8 runs and four wickets, being in his best form with the ball. During the third afternoon some excitement was caused owing to the stand catching fire, but a few buckets of water soon removed any suggestion of danger. Score and analysis:—
