Notes: Norfolk won this match by an innings and 11 runs shortly after 4.00 pm on the second day, after Leicestershire 2nd XI followed on 166 runs behind on first innings. For the winners, there were 2 sixes, 11 fours, ? threes and ? twos in Falcon's 136, an innings of ? minutes. Stevens's 87 contained 15 fours. In the Norfolk innings, Falcon and Stevens added 170 runs for the fourth wicket. For the losers, there were 3 fours in Hutchinson's 56. Stone hurt his finger while batting in the Norfolk innings and this hindered his wicket-keeping.

CRICKET TOPICS.

NORFOLK AT LEICESTER TO-DAY.

ANOTHER "RANJI" AT CAMBRIDGE.

The matches in progress at Manchester and Nottingham may have far-reaching effects upon the County Championship. All four counties engaged are unbeaten, although Yorkshire alone have come through May with the maximum percentage. In Lancashire the champions are meeting the one county which discerning critics have ear-marked as the most likely to relieve Yorkshire of the championship. The rivalry between the neighbours is of long standing, and the atmosphere of a Lancashire—Yorkshire match is not unlike that of a Test match. Sutcliffe's acquaintance of the former may have helped towards his success in Australia. Sutcliffe's contribution to the Whitsuntide match at Leeds, which provided the sensation of the year, was 0 and 3, and it was Parkin and R. Tyldesley who then got Yorkshire out for 130 and 33. The Australian, McDonald, had not then fully qualified. Yorkshire had to face all three at Old Trafford on Saturday, and the character of the cricket is revealed in the fact that Yorkshire occupied practically the whole day in making 232 runs. The batting was very uneven, six players scoring 24 between them.

Notts should get nearer the top of the table than they were at the close of last season. At Trent Bridge on Saturday they emphasised Surrey's need of a stronger attack by batting all day and scoring 373 for the loss of eight wickets. George Gunn topping the list with 117. Kent, the only other unbeaten county, were put in by Lionel Tennyson at Southampton and collected 197, of which 81 were scored by J. A. Dowd, the young amateur who put together 252 at the Oval last year against Surrey II.

The Hearnes of Bucks, Middlesex and Kent cover nearly a century of cricket, and "young" Jack Hearne, who is having Middlesex v. Sussex as a benefit match, on Saturday obtained the 57th century of his career. 44 of these centuries have been scored for Middlesex. He is now in his 35th year, and has scored over 20,000 runs and taken over 1100 wickets.

Cambridge University have found another "Ranji." Duleepsinhji's initials are the same as those of his famous uncle, and, like him, the Cambridge freshman has natural gifts of eye, wrist and footwork. When he left Cheltenham in 1923 he was regarded as the most promising public school cricketer of the year, and H. S. Altham wrote this of him in "Wisden":—"His late cutting is quite beautiful, and there is a certain ease and maturity about all his [illegible] methods that stamps him as of a differe[illegible] from the ordinary school batsman. He [illegible] a fine fielder, with a good cricket l[illegible]ich made his captaincy a real asset to [illegible] At school "Duleep" was also a good [illegible] bowler. This is his first cricket [illegible] at Cambridge, and his batting against [illegible] are confirmed the good opinions expressed [illegible] ability. On Saturday he scored a century [illegible] of the Army, displaying the confidence of a well-seasoned player. Last season G. N. Scott Chad was in the Army team which visited Cambridge and Oxford, but the Norfolk player is now finding it more difficult to get leave. He could not be at Leicester to-day with the Norfolk team, although it is hoped he may be available later.

LEICESTER'S SEARCH FOR TALENT.

G. H. Mower completed the Norfolk side at Leicester to-day. Leicestershire II. were playing Lincolnshire at Melton Mowbray on Friday and Saturday, and they may have led off with a victory. They defeated Lincolnshire twice last season, and their only other success was against Norfolk at Loughborough, where they pulled the game round in a wonderful way after losing six wickets for 13 and being all out for 42. This was not their lowest total of the season, for Bucks dismissed them at Hinckley for 30, and at High Wycombe they obtained only 33. The High Wycombe match was remarkable for the way Bucks won after being dismissed for 24. Smary taking five wickets for 6 runs. This season Leicester's first team have been associated with some low totals. P. A. Wright put up a good bowling performance against them at Northampton on Saturday, and four of the players—Jo C. Bradshaw, M. Dowen, Smith, Coulson—now engaged in this match were included in the twelve sent in by the Leicester secretary as probable players against Norfolk. Leicester County are making great efforts to build up a strong first team, and their entry into the Minor Counties Competition last year was part of the scheme to bring on young players. Club and Ground matches are also played, Leicestershire Gentlemen have a match programme, and Ernest Hayes is engaged as coach. Tom Clay, the Tottenham Hotspur footballer, has a birth qualification for the county, and is quite a useful cricketer.

NORFOLK CAPTAIN IN FORM.

It is a happy sign for Norfolk that on the eve of the campaign the County captain has given proof of being in good form. M. Falcon was in the M.C.C. team which visited his old school "on the Hill" on Saturday, and he scored 53. He figured on the score sheet as stumped Wormald b Wills, and we cannot recall a previous instance in which his wicket has been captured in that way. The Norfolk captain had no opportunity of bowling against the School as showers prevented further play after a declaration by the M.C.C. The boot was on the other foot when M. Falcon and Charles Titchmarsh appeared for the M.C.C. a few days previously at Osterley Park against the Indian Gymkana. The latter scored 279 for eight wickets, two of which were obtained by the Norfolk skipper, and then put the M.C.C. in. The latter lost five wickets in making 138, but neither Falcon nor Titchmarsh batted. Another day match was drawn at Oundle, M. Falcon scoring 12 towards the M.C.C. total of 179 and taking two of the School wickets.

PRAISE FOR T. B. RAIKES.

T. B. Raikes was at the top of his form in the match against a strong side of Oxford Harlequins. He took five wickets in each innings at an average cost of 7.5 runs per wicket. Following on this performance a cricket note published in a London contemporary stated: "I am told that T. B. Raikes is the outstanding bowler at Oxford this season. Although the old Winchester boy has put on an astonishing amount of weight since last season, he has lost none of his cunning with the ball. As a matter of fact, he is more deadly than ever. His length is more dependable, the ball comes off the wicket with plenty of life, and it is not easy to ascertain how much the ball is going to turn. Raikes's inconsequent action is apt to deceive unwary batsmen, for many an opponent has been lulled into a sense of false security before now by it."

NEW "HIND" FOR MIDDLESEX.

G. E. Livock made a very successful entry into first-class cricket in the Middlesex v. Warwickshire match, and had quite a good Press after his second good batting effort. He went for the bowling wholeheartedly. He kept wicket "quietly and coolly" and "The Times" reporter concluded his favourable comments by saying that "G. E. Livock has done a big performance in his first county match." Graham Doggart made a successful first appearance for Middlesex in the same match. Neither player needs an introduction to Norfolk cricketers. Livock was at Cheltenham after George Wood, and he and his brother played for Cambridgeshire against Norfolk on several occasions. He did not play in 1922, the last time Cambridgeshire figured on the Norfolk programme, but in 1921 at Fenner's he scored 11 and 43. In the second innings he made his runs out of 50 in thirty-five minutes, hitting ten brilliant 4's, a 2, and a single. Livock also played at Lakenham the same year. He is now in the Air Force and plays for Chiswick Park, for whom he scored 80 on Saturday.

DAILY'S DISTINCTION.

To Charles Daily belongs the credit of scoring the first 100 this season in the Minor Counties Competition, and as in the case of King of Leicester in the senior competition the century was scored in the first match of the season. Daily's effort was made for Surrey II. against Kent II. at the Oval on Tuesday, and though it gave Surrey a chance of declaring they could not get more than seven Kent wickets down and the visitors secured three points for a first innings lead in a drawn match. Daily, like Baldwin, who is having a run with Surrey first team, is a beautiful field anywhere.

TOURING SIDES.

Although the Norwich Wanderers gave an improved display at Felixstowe on Saturday, they could not quite make up the ground lost on the first day, the Suffolk Gentlemen winning by 92 runs. H. Dougill, with 20 and 57, and J. H. Owens 8 and 43, were the most successful batsmen for the Wanderers, who missed G. A. Stevens and W. A. Beadsmoore. To-day they play Bury and West Suffolk at Bury.

The South Norfolk party to play six matches in Derbyshire this week left by motor bus on Saturday. With Alfreton for headquarters a pleasant itinerary was arranged. This included the descent of a coal mine.

Radcliffe on Trent again included a match with West Norfolk at Hunstanton to-day in their Whitsun tour, and March renewed acquaintance with Yarmouth and the Wellesley Ground.

There is no truth in the announcement made by a London contemporary that A. H. Phillips has left Gresham's for a post at Shrewsbury school.

J. M. Coldham and T. B. Raikes were in the Oxford University team which met Oxfordshire on Thursday.

H. W. J. Tyrrell contributed to Carrow's first success of the season with a good piece of bowling against Reepham. He took six wickets in 13 overs for 25 runs, taking his last four wickets with 23 balls for 7 runs.

Yarmouth Town suffered defeat on their first appearance at the Wellesley Ground, Norwich Y.M.C.A. beating them by 10 runs.

For the second week in succession St. Andrew's Hospital has been the scene of an exciting finish. On May 23rd Norwich Y.M.C.A. won there by a single run, and on Saturday the match with Norfolk Ramblers ended in a tie. Lowestoft Town pay their annual visit to-day.

Following three victories, Norwich Union Fire Office suffered a first defeat at the hands of the Civil Service at the Close Ground by 8 runs.

NORFOLK'S GOOD START.

NEW GROUND OPENED AT LOWESTOFT.

The hundred percenters have all disappeared from the county championship table, and Lancashire now have a slight lead of their neighbours, who are just in front of Surrey. A wider gap separates Middlesex from Surrey, and the matches now in progress at Lord's and Manchester do not appear likely to improve the positions of the Southern Counties. More than two centuries might have been expected on Saturday on the hard wickets, and it is not often that John Daniell, the Somerset captain, and a member of England's Selection Committee, finds himself in the position of eminence which his innings of 174 against Essex gave him. Moreover, he went right through the innings. Daniell is now in his 47th year. Rogers, of Worcester, is also a new century maker this season. The good bowling performances included two at Cambridge, where S. T. Jagger took five wickets for 29, and M. Falcon secured five for 65. The Norfolk captain, who skippered Cambridge in 1910, took three wickets in his first two overs.

Norfolk's handsome victory by an innings and 11 runs at Leicester, will give the side a stimulus for the meeting with their powerful Staffordshire rivals at Wolverhampton next Monday. Unfortunately G. A. Stevens, who played a very sound innings at Leicester, will not be available for the second match. G. R. R. Colman will, however, be included in the side, and Gordon Thorne may take the place of N. C. Tufnell, who bulled quite well till he fell to a c. and b. Tufnell cannot pay at Wolverhampton. J. M. Coldham failed to get going, and while he was at Leicester the invitation came to him to play for his University against the Army. In this match he was flbw for the second time in the week, and it was a disappointment to his Norfolk friends that he did not do better. With three wickets down for 45 Norfolk started none too well against the Leicester bowlers, who gained such a crop of cheap wickets in securing a single innings victory over Lincolnshire, but Stevens came to the assistance of his captain, and their fourth wicket partnership of 175 laid the foundation of Norfolk's success. This stand was the turning point in the game, and when Stevens had his wicket thrown down from the country in attempting an easy third run he was within 13 of his hundred, and within 2 of his best score last season at Old Hill. This partnership of 175 is the best for Norfolk since M. Falcon and R. F. Popham scored 197 for the first wicket against Bedfordshire at Lakenham in 1913. M. Falcon twice hit the ball into the pavilion in the course of his fine innings of 136 at Leicester on Monday, and the Leicester people were warm in their appreciation of this merry cricket, no fewer than 437 runs being scored on the first day. Falcon was rather tired after his batting display, but W. A. Beadsmoore was in great form with the ball, and his first innings figures were remarkable, even for him. Of his 19 overs 11 were maidens, and he took five wickets for 18. G. H. Mower broke up the one partnership, and on the second day Falcon and Nichols obtained wickets, and Beadsmoore again kept the batsmen very quiet. Nichols has not had a recurrence of his muscular trouble which kept him out of the game after the first day of the Norwich week. G. J. Stone had a finger damaged in the first innings at Leicester, which handicapped him considerably behind the wicket. There was need of improvement in some of the Norfolk fielding. M. Falcon and W. A. Beadsmoore will go on from Wolverhampton to Lord's to play for the North against the South in the annual Minor Counties' fixture. G. A. Stevens was obliged to decline an invitation for this match.

LOWESTOFT'S NEW GROUND.

Lowestoft can be congratulated upon the possession of a new ground, which will be the envy of many seaside towns and inland clubs. The situation of this new municipal enterprise on the North Denes is both pleasant and convenient, and there can be few grounds quite as near to the seashore. The playing ground is circular in shape, and it is a good four from the middle to the boundary. Turf from old lawn tennis courts was used for the middle, and the outfield was seeded. Time and careful tending will do the rest, and the growing shrubs and trees will add to the general appearance of the ground, which already has a great deal to commend itself to the eye, especially when viewed from the North Parade above. Reinforced concrete has been largely used in the pavilion and other buildings, and the walls of the land enclosed. Over 1000 deck chairs were placed on the gravel walk which fringed the boundary, and when residents and visitors, with or without appreciation of cricket, realise what a pleasant spot it is on a sunny afternoon these chairs should all be occupied.

The Borough Surveyor, who planned and superintended the laying out of this ground, is himself a cricketer, and a member of the Town team, and everyone who plays or watches the games on the North Denes will want to congratulate Mr. Mobbs upon his work. Incidentally the making of the ground helped Lowestoft towards a solution of the unemployment problem last winter, and as the ground is now an additional attraction and supplies a need the town has gained considerably. It should certainly help towards the raising of the standard of cricket in the town, and good class matches should follow as a matter of course. It is a thousand pities that Suffolk should be content to remain almost alone among the counties in not possessing a county club. Is there no hope of a revival of the Suffolk County Club? Here is an ideal ground for a county match.

C. J. Phillips rose to the occasion and gave the Town quite a good start in the opening match against Norwich Wanderers, his watchfulness, sound defence, and patience for two hours laying the foundation of what promised to be quite a good total. He ran four runs for one hit in front of the wicket before the ball was returned from the edge of the boundary, but the credit of hitting the first boundary on the new ground belonged to Mr. Richards, who was favoured with a full toss on the leg side and hit it in the way it deserved. The character of the early batting and bowling is revealed by the fact that W. A. Beadsmoore's first nine overs yielded only 4 runs. When the players went in for tea 95 runs had been scored in two hours and only A. Disney and H. Caron were out. The interval proved the best change bowler, for with 5 runs added Phillips was caught at the wicket and Richards at slip, and five other wickets fell, one to a shooter, and seven in all going down for the addition of 17 runs, of which S. W. Mobbs made 10. E. Read then scored 7 in one over from Beadsmoore, and the closure was applied before the last wicket fell, 120 runs having been scored in three hours off 63 overs of which Beadsmoore and A. G. Utting bowled 53. In his last spell Beadsmoore took four wickets for 13. He once hit the top of the wicket without disturbing the bails, and the ball being caught by the wicket-keeper there was an appeal for a catch under the mistaken impression that it came off the bat. The Wanderers had forty-five minutes' batting and scored 46 for the loss of three wickets. C. Dibotson obtained all three, bowling both the left-handers and J. H. Owens being caught at point after scoring 23. G. A. Stevens was not out 11, which included one characteristic forcing shot to the on boundary off a rising ball.

SEVEN WICKETS FOR 9 RUNS.

The bowlers had the best of it in the first of the Norfolk Club and Ground matches at Dereham on Saturday, W. C. Tuck having the fine analysis of seven wickets for 9 runs for the Club and G. Holliday taking five for 30, and T. F. Palmer three for 19 for Dereham. F. C. Williamson, who batted No. 10 for the visitors, had the top score of the match with 29 not out. J. B. Holmes 22 being the only other player to reach the twenties.

NORFOLK SENIOR CUP-TIES.

Three of the four visiting teams came successfully through the first round of the Norfolk Senior Cup. Reepham created a surprise by winning at Lynn, the smart out cricket of the villagers which enabled them to secure several triumphs when they reached the final in 1923 being again a feature of their display. Some members of the South Norfolk touring team returned in time to assist their club, G. Neville contributing largely to the victory gained at Thetford by Middleton, but Attleborough went down before Carrow, for whom R. W. Cant reappeared with success. A. Betts going on as second change finished off the Attleborough innings in summary fashion by taking four wickets in three overs for 1 run. D. Ward's nine wickets for 37 was an important factor in the victory of Diss at home against Hethersett. The draw for the second round is as follows:—

Middleton v. Diss.
Reepham v. Carrow.

LOB BOWLER'S SUCCESS AT OVERSTRAND

E. F. Long has once again put up a fine bowling performance at Overstrand. The small ground is a handicap to a slow or lob bowler, but Long overcame it very well by getting six of his nine victims unaided—4 bowled, 2 c and b—and two others were stumped off him by A. L. Carr. G. F. S. Jackson prevented Long from taking all ten. Nine for 69 is a good piece of work in an innings of 139, of which H. P. Lewis made 83. Capt. Borthwick was the next best scorer with 16. The Ramblers hit off the runs without the loss of a wicket. C. H. Borthwick has taken a property in Kent, near Canterbury, and many who have enjoyed the games he has been able to give them at Overstrand will regret to learn that this is his last cricket season in Norfolk. When in India with the Royal Artillery he played in the Presidency matches and saw a lot of Ranjisinhji and other well known cricketers, and in 1911 at Calcutta played against McLaren's team which included the two Relf's, Vine, and H. L. Simms. During the last year of the war Borthwick was a convalescent at Ripon, in Yorkshire, and raised considerable sums of money for the Royal Artillery Prisoners of War Fund by running cricket matches in Yorkshire. Among the players who took part in them were G. Gunn, Allatson, H. L. V. Day, and Roy Kilner, and in one of the matches at Scarborough Capt. Borthwick, George Starling, and J. M. Coldham were on the same side. The latter was then a boy at Repton. Starling played a fine innings against Rhodes and Hirst and they were so impressed that they wanted the Norfolk man to play for Yorkshire in a match the following week, but Toone, the Yorkshire manager, would not agree to it, as Starling was not a Yorkshireman. Capt Borthwick, who has played for Norfolk, Suffolk, and Cambridgeshire, has skippered Overstrand since the club was revived after the war.

Yarmouth Town assisted in the opening of another new ground at March on Monday. Shorthouse and Dennis gave the visitors a good start, and later Prothero and Bally gave Tunbridge useful assistance, and a total of 189 was reached. March shaped indifferently at House, who took six wickets for 26, and were dismissed for 77. On Saturday Yarmouth visited Newmarket Road to be beaten by Norwich Teachers by 12 runs, which was the exact difference between the extras in each innings. A. E. Betts' six for 46 was the best performance in the match.

HEAVY SCORING AT THORPE.

Well over 1100 runs were scored on the St. Andrew's Hospital ground at Thorpe in the three matches played there last week. The heaviest scoring match was that on Saturday, when Wymondham provided the opposition. The Hospitalians reached 300 for the loss of only seven wickets, A. C. Morley and J. W. Peacock being associated in a fifth wicket partnership of 228. The runs were made very quickly, the Hospitalians batting under two hours for their 300. Morley got within 9 of his second century, and made 164 of his runs in thirty-five hits. Two days previously he scored 85 against the C.E.Y.M.S., and Peacock took a 50 in the match with Lowestoft on Monday.

NORFOLK PLAYERS IN DERBYSHIRE.

The South Norfolk players who visited Derbyshire last week had such a jolly time that they are keen on repeating the experience another year. The weather was of the best, and the cricket most enjoyable. Following a 4 runs victory in the opening match against Darley Dale, the tourists were beaten by Blackwell and Somercotes, gained a 1 run victory over Alfreton, lost to Belper, and wound up with a third victory at Matlock. In the last match Inns, of Matlock, took five of their wickets in one over, and his figures for the innings were six for 26.

Guy Pedder scored 41 and 17 for the Incogs against Shorncliffe Garrison, and 2 and 5 against Hythe. The score sheet indicated that Pedder did not keep wicket.

Graham Doggett had a good match for Incognito against Westminster School at Vincent Square. He scored 154 not out, and took five of the school wickets.

Surrey II have not started like champions. They have obtained only 4 points out of a possible 15 in their first three matches. Charles Daily is in great form. He followed his century against Kent II with 47, and run out 50 against Wiltshire, and 40 and 82 against Devonshire.

F. A. Fulcher, who batted No. 1 for Devon and scored 30 and 50 and took three wickets for 33, is a brother of the old Norfolk player.

George Rye was one of the umpires in the Surrey II. v. Devonshire match. He has two other engagements at the Oval this season.

Desmond Roberts, who has played at Old Buckenham, Fred Burton of Herts, who was coaching at Johannesburg in the winter, and E. J. North were included in the M.C.C. team against Wales in a heavy scoring match at Lord's.

G. S. Butler (Wiltshire) got within 8 of his century at the Oval on the day that M. Falcon scored his 136 against Leicester II.

Barling (Surrey II.) played two not out innings of 96 and 53 against Devonshire, and F. H. Carroll scored 106 for Devon.

DEREHAM v. NORFOLK CLUB AND GROUND.

At Dereham on Saturday the Club and Ground won by 58 runs. W. C. Tuck accounted for seven Dereham wickets at the expense of only 9 runs. Holliday took five for 30, and T. F. Palmer three for 19.

CRICKET TOPICS.

NICHOLS' FIRST HUNDRED FOR NORFOLK.

NORFOLK SENIOR CUP FINALISTS.

With real summer weather and hard wickets, centuries have become as plentiful as leaves in Vallambrosa. Hobbs was in luck at the Oval on Saturday afternoon, White putting a catch on the floor when the Surrey batsman had scored only 8. He now needs twenty to complete his ninth century of the season. Five years ago Hobbs played consecutive innings of 110, 134, 101, and 112 at the Oval, Leicester, Birmingham, and Sheffield. His last five innings have brought him scores of 107, 87, 104, 143 not out and 80 not out, all at the Oval. His double century against Cambridge University was followed by a remarkable victory for the University, whose score of 426 for four wickets in the fourth innings of a match is a record for first class cricket in this country. Apart from this splendid performance, Cambridge have given many proofs of being a fine all-round side, and it will be a surprise if they do not beat Oxford easily next month.

After two full and interesting days' cricket at Wolverhampton, Staffordshire took three points and Norfolk one in an unfinished match. If Norfolk had obtained another 25 runs in their first innings the position with regard to the points would have been reversed. John Nichols made a magnificent effort, and it was chiefly due to his innings of 127 that Norfolk came so near to equalling the Staffordshire total. He went in first and was ninth out, and the fact that he scored as many as 127 out of 182 shows how poor was the assistance he received. Seventy-six of his runs were made by boundary strokes, which is a good proportion for a batsman not given over much to hitting in front of the wicket, and the Staffordshire bowling as a rule does not lend itself much to that style of cricket. This was Nichols' first century for Norfolk, and we know of no county he would have preferred to make it against than the one for which he played for seven consecutive innings without missing a match. When Nichols came back from the war, Staffordshire thought his cricket days were over. After an interval of 23 years he reappeared for the county of his birth and for several seasons has been an invaluable member of the side. On several occasions he has passed the half century, and at Lynn in 1922, and again in 1923, he missed his 100 by a few runs, the 94 against Bedfordshire being his previous highest. Last season when he broke down in the Norwich Week, the 75 against Herts at Stevenage was his best effort. In the same season he scored 53 against Staffordshire at Old Hill, and in 1922 he took nine wickets against his old county. During the "seven" years he played for Staffordshire Nichols had exceptional opportunities of appreciating the wizardry of Sid Barnes' bowling, especially when keeping wicket to him, and the experience was a great asset to him when called upon to bat against the famous bowler with whose tricks he was so familiar.

"Old-Man" Nichols is now in his 48th year, and his most useful partner at Wolverhampton last week was John Bridgman Holmes, who is only 19 years of age. Barnes, Lockett, and Platt make a formidable trio of bowlers to meet in one's first County match, and young Holmes' achievement of staying in over two hours against them was a highly creditable and most promising performance. When he joined Nichols on Monday evening Norfolk had lost five wickets for 71 runs, and an hour later the pair were still together, although Holmes had scored but 3 of the 45 runs added. The Staffordshire bowlers were fresh and keen on Tuesday morning, but Holmes remained at the wickets another hour, scored 16 runs, and when he was finally bowled by Platt the sixth wicket partnership had produced 83 runs. Holmes is a six-footer and the first boy from Norwich High School to play for Norfolk.

"Tim" Williamson can also be congratulated upon a successful debut. One of his two catches at the wicket was a very fine effort, after the manner of a goalkeepers' dive, and his stumping of Yates on the leg side, off Watson's bowling, was a particularly smart piece of work. As a stopper he was equally successful. In the first innings the only extras were one leg-bye and a no-ball from Watson. In the second innings there were 18 byes (four 4's), 3 leg-byes, and a wide bowled by J. Coldham.

John Coldham gave a sample of his forceful batting on the second afternoon, when he and G. E. R. Colman put on 93 for the fourth wicket. Platt bowled him just when he had visions of getting that first 50 for Norfolk. At Lakenham last August he scored 48 against Staffordshire, and won him a place in the team against the South Africans.

Geoffrey Colman's 64 unfinished out of 134 was a particularly fine effort. His hits included one 5 off Platt, seven 4s, and five 2s. Several of the fours were made off Barnes, who came in for some unusual punishment during the last wicket partnership. Barnes' figures for the first innings, 27-11-32-5, provide good evidence of his skill. W. Boardsmoore and Watson were Norfolk's best bowlers. The left-hander bowled 49 overs for 120 runs and eight wickets, and Watson had five wickets for 83. M. Falcon got Barnes' wicket in each innings, and Barnes is now a No. 3 batsman.

Next Friday and Saturday Norfolk appear at the Oval. Young Surrey are now batting so well that Norfolk can scarcely hope to get the side out as cheaply as last year, especially as it is doubtful whether Boardsmoore will be able to play. With M. Falcon, G. A. Stevens, G. E. R. Colman, N. C. Tufnell, L. and G. C. Thorne, J. M. Coldham, Nichols and Watson in the side the Surrey bowlers should not have a good time. The Monday following the Oval match, Norfolk meet Kent II. on the R.N. and R. M. ground at Chatham.

CLUB AND GROUND BEATEN.

Yarmouth Town gained their second victory at Wellesley Road when defeating Norfolk and Club and Ground by 71 runs. The credit of dismissing the Club and Ground for a paltry 52, of which 14 were extras, belongs to A. W. Rouse (4 for 2), G. M. Stuart (3 for 12), and T. E. R. Porter (3 for 11). Curiously enough H. W. Taylor did not get a wicket, but the Town's other slow left-hander rose to the occasion. The batting honours of the match were won by Arthur Aitken, who scored 63 out of the first 99, and Yarmouth and Norfolk will probably have numerous opportunities of seeing him play during the Long Vacation. Without discrediting the Yarmouth victory we may mention that Ben Seaman and George Pilch had great difficulty in making up a Club and Ground side, many players who were invited preferring to assist their regular club. Saturday afternoon cricketers are far more numerous than Thursday players, but if there is no appreciation of a place in a Club and Ground team, the County will have to consider the whole question of those matches. Unfortunately this season the "Ground" is but a single unit in the team.

Although Edgar Cozens-Hardy will not be in England before November, the Gold Coast Ramblers, who played an enjoyable series of matches under his captaincy in this district last year, will be here again next month, and matches have been arranged for them by Miss Cozens-Hardy with Old Buckenham, Overstrand (two days), N.U. Fire Office, Norfolk Club and Ground, and St. Andrew's Hospital.

NORFOLK BOWLERS AT LORD'S.

For the third year in succession the North beat the South in the Minor Counties' Association match. It was not the fault of the Selection Committee that no Norfolk player was included in the North team which won at Newcastle last year, and M. Falcon and W. H. Boardsmoore, who played in the match at Lord's last week, contributed largely to the victory of the North by 147 runs. The Norfolk pair opened the bowling in each innings of the South, and Boardsmoore bowled four of the first six batsmen. Falcon obtained the last wicket by bowling Franklin when the Bucks captain was well on the way for a century. Except for five overs bowled by Carr, of Durham, the Norfolk pair had the second innings to themselves, and except for a catch by Childs they dismissed the side unaided, each making one catch off the other's bowling and Falcon hitting the wicket five times. A bowling triumph at Lord's was by no means a new experience for the Norfolk captain, and it was remarked by those who had seen him on former occasions that Falcon was running up to the wicket and bowling with all the life and fire of pre-war days. His seven wickets for 71 was unquestionably a fine performance. Boardsmoore had never previously bowled at headquarters, and he can now look back upon the realisation of a desire with the added pleasure of having bowled 23 overs and taken seven wickets for 72 runs in his first match on the St. John's Wood ground.

An unusual incident in this match was the no-balling by Attfield of C. D. Adams, the Dorset fast bowler. The fairness of this bowler's delivery had been questioned in his own county, and experts had passed it. Opinion in Lord's pavilion on Wednesday was divided, but Umpire Attfield, the old Gloucestershire cricketer, apparently had no doubt on the matter, and after he had no-balled Adams about twenty times Mr. Franklin took him off. He bowled altogether 11 overs, and his only wicket was that of M. Falcon, who was caught off him.

SENIOR CUP THRILLS.

Carrow and Middleton were successful in their cup-ties on Saturday against Reepham and Diss, and the final, to be played on July 11th, will be a case of east v. west. For their total of 181 Middleton were largely indebted to G. Neville (32), A. E. Jones (31), and "the extras" (31). The early Diss batsmen fared badly against Stevens (five for 25) and Neville (three for 23), and J. Cattermole with 15 was the chief contributor to Diss' total of 82. When Reepham played Carrow at Lakenham in a friendly three weeks ago, Harry Tyrrell put up a good bowling performance against them. On Saturday it was his son Roger who gave Carrow a winning chance at Reepham. He went in when Carrow wickets were falling like ninepins to Neale and Morris, five being out for 47 after a first wicket partnership of 35. G. Stone and young Tyrrell stopped the rot, and the latter saw the rest of the side out, batting eighty minutes for an invaluable 50 runs. A. Betts and Tyrrell, sen., adding 58 for the last two wickets. Going in against a total of 169, Reepham batted so well that 60 appeared with only two men out. A catch at the wicket off Cant broke up the A. Moulton—Bird partnership, but twenty minutes from time Reepham had reached 100 and had five wickets left. Ten minutes later Carrow had won their way into the final for the second time in four years. In one over R. W. Cant took four wickets with five balls, the sixth, seventh, eighth, and ninth wickets falling while the score remained at 106. F. C. Oakley hit a couple off Roger Tyrrell, and in the same over Cant brought the innings and the match to a hand with a catch. Cant's figures for the innings were six for 32.

NORFOLK PROSPECTS v. STAFFS.

NEW RECORD AT LORD'S.

If Percy Holmes had scored 4 more runs at Sheffield on Saturday it would have been a near thing between him and Hobbs—a question of a few minutes—for the distinction of being the first batsman to score 1000 runs this season. On Saturday morning Holmes, Hobbs, and Hallows were all in the running, with Holmes the best placed, the Yorkshireman requiring only 14 runs to complete a four figure aggregate. Hobbs and Hallows each needed over a century, and they had the start of Holmes, whose chance to bat did not come until the Yorkshire bowlers had dismissed Notts. Hallows' innings at Lord's ended when he had scored no more than 16, but at the Oval Hobbs went on to score his sixth century of the season, and the 119th of his career. His exact score was 105, which just took him into the thousands. About the same time Holmes' chance came at Sheffield, but he was not destined to get beyond 10, and he therefore still needs 4 runs to complete his thousand.

Earlier in the week Holmes had a great personal triumph in setting up a new record for individual scores at Lord's, and incidentally drew public attention to the fact that Norfolk had a county side as far back as 1830. It is rather an amazing thing that William Ward's score of 278 for the M.C.C. against Norfolk should have remained a record for Lord's ground for 105 years. Ward's performance was a remarkable one in those days, as it beat the previous best by over 100, and having regard to the many great batsmen who have appeared on the improved wickets at St. John's Wood it is surprising that Ward's figures were not surpassed long ago. Three years ago Hendren was within a single run of equalling Ward's score, and Ranjitsinhji, Warwick Armstrong, and William Gunn have all been within reasonable distance of a similar performance. Hobbs' best at Lord's was his 211 for England against South Africa last year.

William Ward did something more for cricket than compile big scores. It was he who saved Lord's ground after the fire from falling into the hands of speculating builders. He purchased the lease at a high price, drew a cheque for £5000 and gave it to Lord. Ward was a tall, heavy man, and played with a bat 4 lbs. in weight. He was 33 years old when he made his record score, and an interesting fact in connexion with the match is that it served to introduce a man who subsequently became the greatest player of his time. This was none other than Fuller Pilch, Norfolk born, he was only 17 years of age when he made his debut in this match, and though he scored but 2 runs Ward recognised in him a "coming" batsman, for he is reputed to have said: "If that young Pilch goes on in his play there is much promise in him."

To-day at Wolverhampton Norfolk enter upon their second match of the season, and it is a match M. Falcon and his men are very keen on winning. The rivalry between Norfolk and Staffordshire is not unlike that between Yorkshire and Lancashire, and the atmosphere at these contests differ very much from that when other counties are met. There are Norfolk batsmen who would be happier in taking 50 off the Staffordshire bowling than in making a century against some other counties. Norfolk men are by no means lacking in their appreciation of the merits of Barnes as a bowler. The great man is now in his fiftieth year, but only last season his hand was as cunning as ever, and he took 73 wickets for Staffordshire for just over 7 runs apiece. He did not shine as a bowler in Staffordshire's first match this season at Trent Bridge, for young Lilley played a double century innings against him, and Notts II declared at 292 for eight. Staffordshire replied with 174, of which Barnes made 74, but Barnes is a greater match winner as a bowler than as a batsman, and the first innings points went to Notts II. Runs were harder to get in Staffordshire's second match with Cheshire, and after being behind on the first innings Lockett's fine bowling (13 wickets for 73) pulled the match round, and Staffordshire won by two wickets. We are not certain that Barnes played in this match. He will be in the team against Norfolk to-day, and the Norfolk players are hopeful of emulating the performance of the Nottingham men.

NEW WICKET-KEEPER FOR NORFOLK.

George J. Stone's damaged finger is not doing well, and amputation at the first joint may be necessary. Stone is a great stopper behind the stumps. At Stevenage last year, when Herts scored 494 runs for twelve wickets, Stone never allowed a single bye, and at Leicester a fortnight ago only five byes were recorded against him, one ball getting past him in each innings. Last year Stone shared the wicket-keeping for Norfolk with G. R. Pedder and N. C. Tufnell. To-day at Wolverhampton a new stumper appears for Norfolk in the person of Ernest C. Williamson. "Tim" is better known in the football world as a brilliant goalkeeper. His chief football clubs have been Croydon Common, Woolwich Arsenal, and Norwich City, and he once kept for England against Wales. He was born in Co. Durham, but has been with Norwich City and in residence long enough to give him a county cricket qualification. Williamson has a good eye and a safe pair of hands, and only needs practice to become a good class wicket-keeper. When with the Arsenal Williamson spent his summers in Yorkshire, and played Yorkshire Council cricket. He has played in several Club and Ground matches in Norfolk.

Two other players will be making their debut in county cricket for Norfolk to-day at Wolverhampton, where R. A. L. Everett also received his baptism of county cricket three years ago. John B. Holmes, of the C.E.Y.M.S., is a young batsman whose form in club cricket and at the county nets has been the subject of favourable comment, and competent judges have regarded him as a potential county player. The other newcomer to the Norfolk side to-day is John H. Owens, who has long been a familiar figure in club cricket, and one to whom a century is no novelty. A regular attendant at the nets, he is batting better than ever this year. His cricket commenced at Faircnbarge School, Beccles, a school which provided Cambridge with a No. 2 batsman in 1898, and some time later Owens was captain of the London Hospital team.

It has probably been forgotten by many that W. A. Beadsmoore made his first appearance for Norfolk at Old Buckenham under the captaincy of that great captain, A. C. Mclaren. Beadsmoore did not then possess a full qualification for the county, and the match was against the M.C.C. Beadsmoore's match figures were three for 73, and he impressed Mclaren, just as Gibson had done previously. Gibson followed such fine left-handers as Shore, L. C. V. Bathurst, and Fred Rudd. By the way, we heard that Gibson was contemplating returning to the county. There is also a rumour that young Mr. Gates, returned from a world's tour, is thinking seriously of carrying on the tradition of big cricket at Old Buckenham.

Walter Beadsmoore was fully qualified in 1921, and in that season he took 46 wickets for Norfolk for under 13 runs a wicket. In 1922 his 40 wickets cost just over 10 runs apiece, and in the following year he had 32 victims and an average of 15½. Last season his 36 wickets cost him 12 runs each, and he obtained the last three of them against the South Africans in 13 balls for 4 runs. His figures at Leicester on a shirt-front wicket a fortnight ago suggest that he is bowling as well as ever. He bowled so many maidens that when M. Falcon was on at the other end the captain found the interval for rest unusually short. In this match Beadsmoore bowled 31 overs, 18 maidens, for 30 runs and six wickets. Curiously enough he put up equally fine performances when playing against Leicester II last season. At Loughborough his match figures were 29-15-51-7, and against the same opponents during the Norwich Week he bowled 40 overs, 21 maidens, 70 runs, 8 wickets.

M. FALCON'S GOOD WORK AT PENNER'S.

M. Falcon played a big part in the Free Foresters' victory over the previously unbeaten Cambridge University side. The Norfolk captain scored 18 at a time when the University bowlers were carrying all before them, and followed this up with five wickets for 65 and an innings of 77—the highest in the match. C. S. Marriott's fine bowling in the fourth innings came as the crowning touch to Falcon's all-round work. A touch of influenza kept R. O. J. Meyer out of this match, and also that in which the University went down before the Notts team.

The progress of Reginald Covill is a matter of some concern to Norfolk. The Cambridge lad again displayed his liking for the Gresham's School wicket by taking five of the Wanderers' wickets in fourteen overs for 28 runs. He had previously assisted Norwich Wanderers in their Whitsun tour, and on Saturday he was called to the aid of Bury and West Suffolk in their return match with the Wanderers, and revealed unquestionable batting ability in scoring 35—28 of them in seven strokes—and also took three wickets for 39 runs. Covill is an all-rounder of distinct promise, and he is not yet 20.

NORFOLK'S SOLDIER CRICKETERS.

We mentioned last Monday that Captain Guy Pedder did not appear to be wicket-keeping in some of the Incogniti matches. On the following day we saw the score of the match at Deal against R.M. Depot, in which he made 111 and stumped two and caught three of his opponents. As a sample of the Old Reptonian's best all-round form this will take some beating, and in further proof of his baffling ability the Royal Tank Corps captain, benefiting from the practice gained in his century innings, proceeded to Aldershot and scored 28 and 58 in the more important match between the Southern Command and the Aldershot Command. In a run-getting match there were only two scores higher than Pedder's 58. The Norfolk man next appears at Oxford, and he made a number of catches in the match now in progress between the University and the Free Foresters.

Another of Norfolk's soldier cricketers has been keeping the scorers busy. Playing for Colchester Garrison against an M.C.C. team captained by H. D. Swan, Lieut. Gordon Thorne, of the 2nd Norfolks, scored 50 and 64, and secured two of the only six wickets the M.C.C. lost in the match. A few days afterwards Thorne turned out for the Free Foresters against the Garrison, and in two hours scored 85. Major J. Wormald was associated with Thorne during a short partnership.

THIRD-WICKET PARTNERSHIPS.

The batting in the Norwich Wanderers v. Bury and West Suffolk match at Lakenham was rather uneven, but some of it was distinctly meritorious. The best of the Wanderers was seen after the second wicket fell at 27, and J. H. Owens and G. A. Stevens added 102 during an attractive partnership, Stevens hitting twelve 4s in his score of 68, and Owens showing sound defence over a longer period in scoring 34. The last six wickets fell for 24 runs. Curiously enough the best feature of the visitors' innings was a third-wicket stand by Covill and R. Crochet, which produced 80 runs. Covill's was the sounder innings, as Crochet was favoured by some errors in the field. Beadsmoore, Dongill, and Utting all bowled well, the latter finishing off the innings by taking his three wickets in two overs for 2 runs to give the Wanderers a 19 runs' victory. Hitting at everything A. F. Arnold scored 37 (seven 4s) during a merry closing half-hour. Covill's appearance in the Bury side was due to the visitors having a difficulty in raising a team. They possess some enthusiasts, and Col. Lawrence and Waugh motored from the west of England in order to play in the match.

Depot Norfolk Regiment and Horningham and District have reached the final stage of the Thursday Junior Cup.

The fourth wicket partnership of M. Falcon and G. A. Stevens at Leicester yielded 170 runs, and not 175 as previously stated. J. Backhouse and Falcon added 58 for the fifth wicket.

While Surrey first were resting after their defeat at Old Trafford, Surrey Club and Ground put in some good work at the Oval, Bert Bullock making 166 against the Stoics and Charles Lailr collecting 122 against Richmond. Daily is full of runs this season.

The Stevens-Falcon partnership at Leicester is the most prolific for Norfolk since Stevens and R. D. Carter scored 171 for the sixth wicket against Kent II. in the Norwich Week of 1922.

Notes: Surrey 2nd XI won by an innings and 3 runs at 6.45 pm on the second day. The Surrey declaration gave the visitors just over three hours to bat to save the match and the end came for Norfolk with 15 minutes to spare. For the winners, there were 16 fours, ? threes and ? twos in Daily's 177, an innings of over four hours. Bullock's 95 contained 3 sixes and 9 fours, Baldwin's 72 not out included 1 six and ? fours and Summers's 65 contained 1 six and 7 fours. In the Surrey innings, Daily and Summers added 116 for the second wicket, and Daily and Bullock 200? for the third, scored at a rate of 110 runs an hour. For the visitors, Nichols's 91 included ? fours, Colman's 75 contained 7 fours and Stevens's 54 included ? fours. In the Norfolk first innings, Colman and Nichols put on 132 runs for the first wicket. 1097 runs were scored in the match [– check if most for season.]

NORFOLK'S DEFEAT AT THE OVAL.

FINE PERFORMANCE BY SURREY II.

Surrey II. took ample revenge for the defeat they sustained at Hunstanton and for the way in which Norfolk out-played them at the Oval last year in a match which the rain restricted to the first day. At Hunstanton Norfolk won by an innings and 40, which is on paper a bigger margin than the innings and three runs by which young Surrey lowered the pride of Norfolk at the Oval last week-end, but the features of the matches were very different. Norfolk's success at Hunstanton was very largely a one-man show in a comparatively low scoring match. That victory was mainly due to the all-round work of M. Falcon, and we have used the word comparatively in connexion with the scoring, for although Norfolk put together a total of 341 on that occasion the aggregate in the match fell far short of that at the Oval last week. Such was the mastery of the bat over the ball that in two full day's cricket 1097 runs were scored and only twenty-five wickets were captured.

Writing away from home and books of reference, we are not able to state definitely whether Surrey II's. 550 for five wickets is a record score against Norfolk. We have been happily fortunate for many years in possessing bowlers capable of preventing scores of such magnitude, and it has generally been Norfolk batsmen who have put together the big totals, but we have some recollection of Hampshire in the dim past running up a big total against Norfolk at Southampton. This was probably the match in which F. E. Lacey, now the secretary of the M.C.C., played an innings of over 300 against Norfolk.

Last season Hertfordshire gave Norfolk a tiring experience by scoring 438 runs at Stevenage in 4¼ hours, but this score was left far behind by the young Surrey players, Norfolk fielding altogether 5¼ hours and the good scoring pace of over 100 an hour being maintained throughout the innings. It was fortunate, perhaps, that this experience did not befall them during the spell of hot weather. Friday was a day of drab skies, ending with bad light and rain, and though Saturday was brighter, with some sun after lunch, the weather was never really warm.

Some of these young Surrey players who are preparing themselves for the day when Hobbs and other dazzling lights in the cricket firmament will be resting upon their well-earned honours, have copied their inentors in stroke production and in building up big scores. Centuries have become a habit with these Surrey players. The week previous to entertaining Norfolk the second team of Surrey visited Cornwall and Devon, and in the match at Penzance nearly 1300 runs were scored, Surrey twice declaring and gaining a handsome victory. There were four individual centuries in this match.

We have Hobbs' written words for it that he disapproves of the publication of averages before the end of the season, and Mr. Justice Rowlatt recently in the King's Bench Division made some caustic reference to the baneful effect of averages upon present-day cricket. The averages of players engaged in the Minor Counties Championship do not appear till the close of the season, and when Dr. Earl Norman makes up his list we shall expect to find many of these young Surrey players with figures which will bear comparison with those of Hobbs.

FAST SCORING BY NICHOLS.

Norfolk batted quite well at the Oval. A first innings total of 347 is not infrequently a match winning score. Many teams would regard such a total as good security against defeat and as giving them at least a chance of first innings points, if not a full victory. Nichols followed up his century against Staffordshire with another fine innings, and by scoring 91 in an hour and a-half showed that he could improve the shining hour as well as most batsmen. On Friday Nichols had a scoring stroke for nearly every kind of ball, and it was the ease with which he collected runs which did much to create the impression that the Surrey bowling was not particularly good. No one who has watched G. R. R. Colman at the wicket would say that he was deficient in scoring strokes. He was associated with Nichols in the first wicket stand which produced 122 runs in an hour and a-half, and Nichols scored three times as fast as his partner.

J. M. Coldham has added to his repertoire of strokes and is developing into quite a good forcing batsmen. His first 50 for Norfolk which has been so often in sight cannot surely escape him much longer. Both he and G. A. Stevens found strokes deserving 4 reduced to singles by the well-placed fielders, and it would be difficult to estimate the number of runs. Baldwin saved Surrey by his brilliant fielding at cover point. Stevens in particular bombarded the little fellow with shots, and the strokes he made during his innings of 51 would have brought him twice as many runs against some counties. Although twice during the innings there were possibilities of a "hat trick," Pilkington and Baldwin being the bowlers, and several batsmen on the side did not quite live up to their reputations, there was a pleasing absence of the suggestion of a "tail." The last three wickets added over 100 runs, P. W. J. Fryer scoring at a fine pace by hard driving, and getting within 4 of his first 50 for the county. Watson also hit merrily, and G. H. Mower's opening drive was as good as any in the match. J. B. Holmes was out to a smart piece of stumping, and until he was in difficulties with this ball on the leg side he appeared likely to make a long stay.

A good deal of the batting on Saturday afternoon was frankly disappointing, and Nichols' quick dismissal, following the long outing in the field, appeared to reduce the fighting spirit of the team, leaving barely enough of that essential quality to save the side from defeat. There were some noteworthy exceptions, and G. R. R. Colman once again proved his worth as a good No. 1 batsman. For over two hours he played sound and attractive cricket. He had a punishing shot for any ball that was short of a good length, and his strokes on the leg side were perfectly timed and skilfully played. Coldham and Stevens assisted in useful partnerships; but as not infrequently happens when a side is not doing too well, things came off for the opposition. Nichols' misfortune in pulling a ball into his wicket was followed by other mishaps. It was a distinctly lucky catch which secured Coldham's wicket, Fryer was stumped off the wicketkeeper's pads, and Stevens played on. Before Colman left at six o'clock Tufnell had taken root, and these two men ensured the safety of one end all through the innings, but men came and went from the other wicket. Tufnell batted over eighty minutes and was undefeated when the end came at a quarter to seven. His was a fine effort when things were going badly with the team, and if anyone could have stayed a little time with him the game might have been saved and a point retained.

It has been laid down by cricket authorities that four bowlers are necessary to the well-being of a team and that the side which cannot win with that number is less likely to do so when more than four are required. The modern development of batting has made it necessary to consider the advisability of including batsmen who are also bowlers—all rounders—in addition to the bowling quartet. With M. Falcon, G. H. Mower, P. W. J. Fryer, and Watson and Nichols, Norfolk seemed well equipped for their task at the Oval. We have omitted G. R. R. Colman from the list for the reason that he is usually called upon only as a kind of last hope, and his appearance is a tacit acknowledgment of the failure of the regular bowlers to perform their task. Several times last season his assistance proved of great service, and at the Oval on Saturday he broke up the long third-wicket partnership when all hope of getting a wicket had dissipated. Soon after lunch Colman obtained the wicket of the other Surrey hero, and these two important wickets gave Colman the only real bowling success gained for Norfolk in the match. W. A. Beadsmoore would probably have done well on that wicket, and it was a misfortune for Norfolk that he could not accompany the team on their little tour, which is continued to-day at Chatham against Kent II.

SIXES AND BROKEN WINDOWS.

The wickets at the Oval were pitched much nearer to the gasometer side of the ground, and though the boundary was a good four it made the hit for six easier than usual, and also made it possible to run 5 on the other side of the ground. Seven sixes were hit during the Surrey innings. Baldwin, Gregory (a first-ball effort), and Barling each hit a six off Colman; Bullock did it three times, twice off Nichols and once off Watson—a cover-point shot which used to be a favourite with G. L. Jessop. The first of the seven was hit by G. F. Summers, when Fryer was bowling. Barling's hit went out of the ground, over the road, and through the window of a house on the other side. One of Bullock's hits also made a job for a glazier, and the ball from which only a few runs had been made was so cut that it was returned to the pavilion and a new one sent out. The Surrey Club probably has a big bill from the glaziers in the course of the season.

any great extent to Surrey's big total, though Bullock was very lucky during the early part of his innings, and Baldwin was also fortunate. The 32 extras included 14 byes, 9 leg-byes, 7 no-balls, and 2 wides.

Mr. E. G. Buxton and Mr. C. B. L. Prior—both ex-secretaries for Norfolk County—witnessed some of the play at the Oval on Friday.

Burglars broke into some of the refreshment rooms at the Oval on Friday night, and also attempted to force an entrance to the players' dressing-rooms.

J. M. Coldham was unable to go on to Chatham to-day with the Norfolk team, and E. C. Williamson came up to complete the side and keep wicket.

J. G. O'Gorman, the Surrey II. slow bowler, who took five Norfolk wickets, is one of the O'Gorman brothers on the variety stage. They are knock-about comedians.

NEW BOWLER FOR NORFOLK.

Dr. L. S. Gathergood, a Birmingham doctor, has been invited to play for Norfolk. He is now on his honeymoon. He is a fast-medium left-hand bowler, and headed the bowling averages for Bishop Stortford. Nichols recently made the discovery that the doctor had a birth qualification for Norfolk. He was born near Lynn, went to Leys School, and played in the Cambridge Freshmen's match. The doctor is quite a useful bat and a good fielder, and Nichols formed a good opinion of the doctor's cricket worth when he lived at Bishop Stortford.

Capt. G. R. Pedder made his debut for Gloucestershire in the match with Oxford University last week. As this is not an inter-county match, it may not affect Pedder's qualification for Norfolk.

C. H. Titchmarsh has many friends in Norfolk, and they will read with pleasure of his century innings at Lord's on Saturday for the M.C.C. against Cambridge University.

L. H. J. Dorey, who made his first appearance in county cricket on Saturday for Hants v. Leicestershire at Asby-de-la-Zouch, is a son of Mr. H. V. Dorey, formerly manager of the East of England Newspaper Co., Ltd., Norwich. He started school life in the kindergarten of the Misses Harrington and Boobyer at Lonsdale House School. He is an Old Harrovian and just missed his Blue at Oxford last year.

J. Wells, the captain of Bracondale School, took nine wickets for 8 runs in five overs in the School's match against Hellesdon Hospital. He secured four wickets with consecutive deliveries. He followed this up by making 30 before being run out.

At Lowestoft (Victoria Road), resulting in an easy win for Lowestoft Town. For the winners Wyllie took two wickets for 0 runs and Chambers two for 2. Scores:—

EASTERN DAILY PRESS – MONDAY 29 JUNE 1925

NORFOLK AT THE OVAL.

HUGE SCORE BY SURREY II.

NORFOLK'S HEAVY FIRST DEFEAT.

Good as the Norfolk total of 347 had appeared to be at the Oval at four o'clock on Friday, it looked less so when stumps were drawn two hours later owing to bad light, Surrey then having 135 on the board with only one wicket down. By lunch-time on Saturday the comfortable feeling produced by having put up a good score on the famous ground had quite gone, and in its place was something akin to depression. The whole of Norfolk's lead of 212 had melted away, and young Surrey had not only got their heads in front and secured an advantage of 46 runs, but they had lost only three wickets in bringing about this complete change in Norfolk's outlook. From this favourable standpoint Surrey batted on and established themselves in such a commanding position that by five o'clock Norfolk were faced with the possibility of an innings defeat. An hour later there was hope of that danger to the visitors being averted, but by a quarter to seven Norfolk had sustained their first defeat, and Surrey II. had gained a great victory by an innings and 3 runs. Surrey's achievement was the more meritorious from the fact that it was gained by such a wide margin in a match in which 1097 runs were scored and only five Surrey wickets had fallen.

The man who did most towards building up Surrey's huge score of 550 for five wickets was Daily. Going in overnight at the beginning of the innings he remained at the wickets until just after the resumption following the luncheon interval, batting altogether over four hours, and scoring 177 out of 403. When in the nineties he had a narrow escape from being bowled by M. Falcon with a ball which beat him and missed the wicket, but so far as could be seen his innings was free from any semblance of a chance. His defence was sound, and he displayed a variety of scoring strokes, although the majority of his sixteen 4s were made by brilliant hooks, skilful strokes to leg, and forcing shots to the on. All the bowling seemed alike to him, and he was never in any difficulties with it. G. F. Summers assisted in carrying the unfinished overnight second wicket partnership from 76 to 133. The amateur was caught by Watson near the square-leg umpire when attempting to pull a ball from P. W. J. Fryer. He was a forceful batsman, and included in his 65 were one 6 and seven 4s.

Summers was second out at 192, and Bullock joined Daily in what was destined to be the longest and most prolific partnership of the match. Bullock had several strokes of good fortune at the commencement of his innings. His second scoring shot was a mishit off M. Falcon high over mid-off's head, and Watson, running back, just got to the ball, which swerved, but failed to bring off an extremely difficult catch. Bullock next gave cover-point a chance. The ball was going away from the fieldsman, and G. R. Colman found it much too hot to hold. The batsman next had an escape from being caught and bowled, Falcon making a springing forward dive and with hands touching the ground at the full extent of his reach almost made the catch. Bullock afterwards hit with great freedom and more certainty. From the first of his three 6's the ball, from which only a few runs had been scored, came in contact with some glass, and was so damaged that another new one was requisitioned. Another 6 was of much lower altitude in the cover point direction, and the third was a powerful drive into the pavilion. Several of his nine 4's came from late cuts, but it was in front of the wicket that Bullock made most of his 95 runs, and with Daily also busy at the other end the score mounted so quickly—an average of over 110 an hour—that it only took the pair 107 minutes to increase the score by 200 runs. Bullock seemed almost certain of going into lunch as a not out centurion when Colman was called upon to bowl for the first time that morning, and with his second ball he broke up the long partnership with the brilliant assistance of N. C. Tufnell behind the wicket. Bullock watched the first ball past his bat to see what it was doing; the next one he decided to hit out of the ground, and jumped out at it, but not quite far enough, missed completely the turning ball, and Tufnell whipped off the bails to be rewarded by the umpire's decision.

Never was a wicket more welcome, and Colman capped it by getting Daily's in his second over after lunch and in a similar way, Tufnell co-operating with the desired smartness, and Daily, whose bat swept round almost horizontally, could not help smiling at the stroke which ended his fine innings. Down to this point the Norfolk fielding had been praiseworthily keen and accurate, only the regular bowlers had for the nonce lost their wonted skill and cunning, but after Gregory had taken the daring liberty of hitting a 6 off his first ball and Baldwin, to be in the fashion, had qualified as a big hitter, things went awry for a while in the field. Baldwin profited by these lapses. Three times was he missed at slip, first by J. B. Holmes and twice by Watson off consecutive balls from Fryer, the ball each time going to his right hand. Baldwin was then in the fifties and Gregory had departed at 486, the fifth wicket having added 63 in thirty-three minutes. Gregory was out to a catch at mid-off by Nichols off the captain's bowling, and this was the last success gained by the fielding side. In forty more minutes Baldwin and Barling scored 84 runs, the latter hitting one ball out of the ground and through a window. Baldwin's score was at 72 and the total exactly 550 when the home captain declared just after half-past three. Most of the bowlers had been on for long stretches, and except for Colman's, the figures, as could only be expected in such an innings, do not make good reading.

Just over three hours were available for play when Colman and Nichols went in to face arrears of 203. Disaster soon overtook the visitors, Nichols leaving in the first over with only a single run scored. Pilkington's fifth ball which Nichols helped into his wicket was some inches outside the off stump. The Surrey bowlers had their tails up, and Baldwin was assisted to his first wicket by a brilliant left-handed catch by Barling. The batsman was J. M. Coldham, and he may have regarded himself as unfortunate and the catch as a fluke. The fielder shot out his hand and the ball stuck. Coldham had made 20 very good runs, including two especially good fours for late cuts off Pilkington, and there was promise of more. G. C. Thorne also stayed in long enough to raise hopes of good things, but at 56 O'Gorman, the slow bowler, got him in front, rather high perhaps. G. A. Stevens began with a powerful hook shot, stayed in over thirty-five minutes, scoring half of the 52 runs added, and had one particularly profitable over from Baldwin before he edged a ball into his wicket. Colman completed 50 out of 110, soon after he was joined by Tufnell, and the pair remained in partnership for 35 minutes. Then at six o'clock Colman hit a ball from Lock into Barling's hands at mid-on, and Norfolk stock fell appreciably. He was at the wickets six minutes over two hours, being fifth out at 155, and had seven 4s and three 3s as his chief hits in a score of 75. At such a time it was a priceless effort and good to watch, the batsmen combining good defence with scoring power, chiefly in front of the wicket, but with some good strokes to leg. The end was now near. Falcon and Holmes played too soon at the slow bowler and gave easy catches. Fryer was unluckily stumped by the ball rebounding off the wicket-keeper's pads. Tufnell made several crisp late cuts, and was not out at the finish after doing more than keep his end up for 80 minutes. Watson was caught at deep square leg to give O'Gorman his fourth wicket of the innings, and Baldwin came on again to get G. H. Mower's wicket—the last—15 minutes before time.

CRICKET TOPICS.

NORFOLK'S VISIT TO CHATHAM.

KENT II. GOOD BID FOR VICTORY.

The inter-University match begins to-day at Lord's, and if C. T. Bennett, the Cambridge captain, is prevented from playing through the injury to his right hand, caused by a fast ball from Durston, Bennett will be one of the unluckiest players that ever went to a University. He was kept out of last year's match owing to a split hand. Oxford created a good impression by their out cricket at Lord's last week, and although it is many years since Cambridge had such a good all-round side, there is a growing belief in the likelihood of Oxford putting up a good fight.

Norfolk obtained their customary three points on Kent soil after the usual close struggle. Kent won both matches in 1921, when the fixture first appeared in the Norfolk programme, the margin at Norwich being as narrow as four runs; but after being beaten at Hythe, Norfolk appeared to advantage in two visits to Beckenham. The fixture at Bickley Park last year was ruined by the weather, and it was therefore a welcome change to have real summer weather for the first visit to Chatham. Norfolk's cricket improved with the weather, and after the experience at the Oval it was good to have confidence in the bowling strength of the side renewed by the dismissal of Kent II. for a mere 209 runs. Even that total would have been smaller if all the catches had been taken. Each of the five bowlers had some reward, and G. H. Mower's wicket, which he obtained with his seventh ball, was a most valuable one. Last year J. A. Deed's 253 against Surrey II. at the Oval was the highest innings played in the Minor Counties' competition, and the samples of his driving at Chatham left one with no doubt as to his ability as a batsman. In the second innings he was an early victim to P. W. J. Fryer, who had the skilful co-operation of E. C. Williamson behind the wicket. Geo. Fenner in the first innings and A. L. Hilder in the second were rather fortunate in getting as many runs as they did, although much of their batting was of a high quality. Hilder belongs to the very select list of players who have made a century on their first appearance for a first-class county. There are three other Kent men in the list—S. H. Day, G. J. Bryan, and A. J. Evans. Hilder played a flawless 103 not out against Essex at Gravesend last year, and was also one of the ten bowlers Kent tried during the second innings of Essex. He is a young giant in stature, and hits very powerfully to the off. P. W. J. Fryer must run Hilder very close in the matter of inches, and with several other six-footers in the side the descendants of Anak were well represented on the field.

In the matter of powerful driving and batting efficiency, no one excelled G. A. Stevens. Except on the occasion when he lifted a ball out of the ground his drives were all on the turf, and the ball travelled so fast that it frequently beat the fieldsmen stationed on the boundary. It was largely due to Stevens' splendid innings that Norfolk were in such a good position on Monday night, and when he was not out on Tuesday morning Norfolk, with three wickets left, needed only 5 runs to secure the all important first innings lead. The tail wagged splendidly. Norfolk batting right down to No. 11, but after lunch the Norfolk bowlers, who all wanted the same end, did not get the support they needed, and Kent made such a good recovery that during the last hour of the match Norfolk were fighting to escape defeat. Fortunately Stevens was able, with support from N. C. Tufnell and G. C. Thorne, to stave off impending disaster. Kent actually scored 108 runs more than Norfolk for the same number of wickets.

SIXES AT CHATHAM.

When Norfolk were at the Oval it was their Surrey opponents who did all the big hitting. The loot was on the other foot at Chatham. After hitting ten perfect fours—six in succession—along the turf in scoring his first 53 runs on Monday afternoon, Geoffrey Stevens lifted a ball from Hever clean out of the ground. On Tuesday morning P. W. J. Fryer went out for big things. He had a piece of luck when he first essayed to carry the fence at the same spot as Stevens, his soaring hit not having sufficient carry to clear the fieldsman on the boundary; but Hackney failed to hold the ball. Fryer was more successful with the next ball, which he hit a little straighter, and he repeated it later—his last scoring stroke before the innings closed. All three sixes mentioned were hit off Hever, the slow left-hander, who has often put up a good performance against Norfolk. Watson was even more fireworky. He made 32 of his 41 runs in eight hits, his last scoring stroke being a six for a clean hit to leg off Weigall.

SOME BATTING AVERAGES.

Nichols was twice missed during his second innings, but his first knock—47 out of 84 in an hour—was a particularly good one. He made seven boundaries and is now batting as well, if not better, than at any previous period in his career. His range of scoring strokes is wider. So far this season he has been to the wickets seven times and scored 313 runs, which gives him an average of 44 per innings.

Geoffrey Stevens missed the Staffordshire match, and in the other three matches he has scored 273 runs. The last of his five innings was unfinished, so that he has the fine average of 68. This is a high figure, but he is batting so brilliantly that it would not be surprising if he surpassed his figures of 1920, the year in which he played his great innings of 222 against Bedfordshire at Lakenham.

M. Falcon has struck a bad patch since his fine century innings at Leicester, and since his splendid opening effort the captain has batted six times for an aggregate of 55 runs. His luck is bound to take a favourable turn, and we shall expect his present average of 27 to be improved before the Norwich Week. He made several fine drives at Chatham on Monday, and had been at the wickets an hour when he was given out lbw.

G. R. R. Colman played three good innings at Wolverhampton and the Oval, and he has an average of 36 for five completed innings.

The best has not yet been seen of Lieut. G. C. Thorne. He has the defence and style of a good class batsman, and in each of his innings at Chatham he batted well, and was apparently well set when he was unexpectedly bowled.

N. C. Tufnell is another batsman who has not yet fully realised the expectations of his first-class reputation. He batted altogether nearly two hours at the Oval, and was doing well at Chatham when he was unfortunately run out. An unexpectedly brilliant piece of stopping by Deed at cover point after Tufnell had called his partner got them both hesitating in the middle of the pitch. Tufnell, like J. M. Coldham, should not be long before he makes his first 50 for Norfolk.

Another boundary stroke at the Oval would have given P. W. J. Fryer his first half century in a county match, and he was scoring so rapidly at Chatham on Tuesday morning that if anyone could have stayed in with him after he and Watson had put on 62 in the quick time of twenty minutes the coveted first 50 would soon have been obtained.

A CURIOUS INCIDENT.

E. C. Williamson kept wicket very well at Chatham. He stopped some difficult ones on the leg side from Norfolk's pacey bowlers. There were only 12 byes in the two innings of Kent, and he took three of the four catches offered, and he was disappointed in not stumping Geo. Fenner. Williamson was just too eager to get a spinning ball from Nichols. In Ames Kent II have a promising stumper-batsman. Watching him wicket-keeping no one would have suspected that he had two damaged fingers. A curious incident happened when he was batting on Tuesday. He and Hubble were running their third run for a bit to leg off Nichols when it was noticed that one bail was off, and an appeal was made to the umpires. One umpire had not noticed anything, but the other gave the other batsman out, and then Williamson, who was busy with the return from the fieldsman, said he had accidentally broken the wicket, and the batsman stayed on.

BIG SCORES AGAINST NORFOLK.

We find that Surrey II.'s total of 550 was exceeded by Hampshire in the match to which we referred last week, although Surrey II. only lost five wickets, while Hampshire batted right through. It was on May 31st and June 1st, 1847, that Hampshire scored 558 against Norfolk at Southampton. F. E. Lacey, who went in at the fall of the first wicket at 12, took out his bat for 223. The next best score was H. Armstrong's 74, and the longest partnership was 159 for the fifth wicket. The Norfolk bowlers during that innings were E. B. Maikes, C. J. E. Jarvis, C. H. Morton, A. M. Jee, F. Rudd, and G. Rye. The Rev. A. P. Wickham kept wicket, and in the long innings the only byes were from three balls—1, 4, 4. Norfolk scored 77 and 139. In 1908 Harrow Wanderers scored 561 for five wickets against a Norfolk Club and Ground side at Lakenham, C. H. Eyre, H. S. Kaye, and E. B. Studd each making a century, and M. C. Bird being not out 72. There is another instance of a 500 scored against Norfolk, and, curiously enough, it was at the Oval on August 21st and 22nd of 1901, when Surrey II. scored 503 for nine wickets, Holland being the chief contributor with 207.

Apart from the satisfaction of securing first innings points in a drawn game the Norfolk players enjoyed their visit to Chatham. The weather was delightful, and the situation of the R.N. and R.M. ground at the top of the hills afforded the players the benefit of a cooling breeze. The view from the hilltop is a very fine one, and on a clear day Sheerness and Southend are visible.

Chatham had never previously been favoured with a County match, and the naval and civil population endeavoured to impress the Kent committee in the hope of securing a first-class fixture another year. Lord Harris, Admiral Goodenough, the Mayors and ex-Mayors of Chatham and Gillingham, and L. H. W. Troughton, manager of the Kent C.C.C., were among those who visited the ground. The Royal Marines Band played each afternoon; portions of the enclosure were assigned to members of the Kent C.C.C., officers of the R.N. and R.M., warrant officers, C.P.O.s, and among those with special tents were the Chatham Rotarians, Conservative clubs, and the Mayor of Chatham. There was plenty of painting and a good show of flowering plants and shrubs.

Including members, 3000 persons were present on Monday and nearly 2000 on the second day.

Williams, the groundsman, received many congratulations on the excellence of the pitch and the general appearance of the ground.

Military organisation was much in evidence. The rolling and protection of the wicket was done by Marines, one of whom mounted guard over the roped-in pitch during the intervals.

Manager Troughton and others were impressed with the possibilities of Chatham as a cricket centre, and possible extensions of the ground to allow of a motor car enclosure for Kent members were discussed. The war memorial, one of the three erected at the naval ports of Chatham, Portsmouth, and Plymouth, is so close to the ground that it might have to be included in any extension scheme.

R. G. Pilch, E. C. Page, and G. C. Larking—all of the Norwich C.E.Y.M.S.—put in unexpected appearances at Chatham. Gordon Larking lives at Maidstone, and is probably unique in being a member of the Kent and Norfolk County Cricket Clubs.

The Kent club is rich in good grounds. First class matches were allotted this season to seven centres—Gravesend, Blackheath, Tonbridge, Tunbridge Wells, Maidstone, Canterbury, and Dover. Two matches will be played at each place, with Weeks at each, except Gravesend and Blackheath. Second team matches are played at Tunbridge Wells, Chatham, Blackheath, Bickley, and Hythe.

IN THE NORTH.

Northumberland and Lancashire II. are carrying all before them among the counties in the North, and their meeting at Newcastle on the same days that Staffordshire appear at Lakenham will probably have an important bearing upon the Minor Counties Championship. The victory of Lancashire II. over Notts II. at Blackburn had some resemblance to that of Surrey II. against Norfolk. Notts II. scored 212 and 160 and lost by nine wickets after a Lancashire declaration in the first innings with only half their wickets down.

An unusual thing happened in a match at Snaresbrook on Thursday. Bill Hitch was playing for Percy Fender's XI., and he knocked a stump down and the bails in the air when bowling the first man. One of the bails fell on the middle and remained balanced at the top, forming a letter T.

THREE CENTURIES AT OVERSTRAND.

In just over four hours' cricket at Overstrand on Saturday 518 runs were scored and only ten wickets fell. The C.E.Y.M.S. declared at 256 for eight, and Overstrand hit off the runs for the loss of two wickets. W. Taylor, who went in at the fall of the third C.E.Y.M.S. wicket, scored 123 not out, and the first two Overstrand batsmen, S. J. Gee and C. H. Cole, each got a century. C. H. Borthwick was away on a visit to his new school at Birchington in Kent.

Efforts made by the committee of the Norfolk Cricket Association to secure the loan of the Dereham ground for the Norfolk Senior Cup final have proved unsuccessful and the match in which Carrow and Middleton are the rival clubs will be played at Lakenham next Saturday.

WONDERFUL LOB BOWLING.

E. F. Long has so frequently received special mention in this column for a good bowling performance that it has ceased to be a novelty, but his achievement of taking eight Yarmouth Town wickets on the Wellesley on Saturday for 11 runs is such an exceptionally good performance that we wish we could give the analysis, ball for ball, as it appears in the score sheet. In all he bowled 50 balls, from seven of which 11 runs were scored. At one period he took three wickets in four balls, and only two singles were scored between his first and seventh wickets. His analysis was 8-2-3-11-8. This is really wonderful lob bowling against a team of the Yarmouth standard. Yarmouth were all out for 34 in response to the Norfolk Ramblers' total of 150.

AYLSHAM v. NORWICH Y.M.C.A.

MONMOUTHSHIRE AT OXFORD.

32 RUNS BEHIND WITH FOUR WICKETS TO FALL.

When rain interfered with play an hour before the drawing of stumps, the game between Oxfordshire and Monmouthshire at Oxford, was left in an interesting condition, Monmouthshire, with four wickets in hand, being 32 in arrears of the Oxford total.

The Monmouthshire captain lost the toss, but so well did Spary and Raikes bowl that the home side lost half their wickets for 63. There had been slight rain, insufficient however to affect the pitch, but the light was none too good.

Oxford's fortune changed when Thomas and Lee came together. While the former forced the game, making some hard straight drives, Lee was content to remain on the defence, varying his patience, however, with some clever leg play. Thomas was well caught in the deep field and Lee was taken at the wicket by Wilcox, whose stumping of Walters was quite brilliant.

Monmouthshire lost their first two wickets for 34 and there should have been a third, Raikes being missed before he scored. In conjunction with Rust he proceeded to score freely, and in a little over half an hour 72 were added for the fourth wicket before Rust was out to a brilliant catch in the slips. Rustw as in an aggressive mood, but found difficulty in getting past the fieldsmen.

After his dismissal Jenkins and Phillips were quickly dismissed—the former to another good slip catch—while Phillips was well run out by Walters.

With three wickets falling for 11 runs the fortune of the game took another turn and Monmouthshire lost the advantage gained during the partnership of Raikes and Rust.

Raikes was still undefeated at the close. Apart from his early mistake, he played really well and kept the field busy. His driving was well timed and powerful and he watched the ball with much care. Monmouthshire owe a great deal to him. Scores:—

SURPRISING DEFEAT OF MONMOUTHSHIRE.

SECOND INNINGS REALISE ONLY 66 RUNS.

The game between Oxfordshire and Monmouthshire concluded at Oxford on Saturday in an unexpected victory for the home county by 158 runs. When the second day's play was entered upon a close finish looked possible. Monmouthshire, in reply to Oxford's first innings of 188, had lost six wickets for 156. Raikes, who was 52 not out, was quickly dismissed, but thanks to a patient innings of 44 by Harris, Monmouthshire secured a first innings' lead of 46.

Going in a second time, Oxfordshire lost a wicket before knocking off the arrears, and then the Monmouthshire bowling was collared. Rogers hit well for a short time, but was quickly dismissed, and then Thomas, Lee, Masterman, and Howells went for the bowling. For sheer brilliance nothing in the match surpassed the hitting of Howells, who in a little over an hour made 71 runs, in which were eleven 4's.

The Oxfordshire captain declared his innings at 270 for six, leaving Monmouthshire just under two hours in which to get 225 runs. Everyone thought that the visitors would save the game and so secure the points for the first innings lead.

However, the unexpected happened. Cotton, the Oxford captain, started his bowling with Reece and Howells, and found it unnecessary to make a change. Only Raikes stayed any length of time and even he was missed early in his first innings. However, he showed much grit in getting 38 out of 52, but could not save the side, the last wicket falling at 66.

It is possible the pitch favoured the bowlers, as now and again the ball would jump nastily, but Oxfordshire's must be considered a very fine performance. Complete scores:—

WHERE ARE THE MEN?

GLAMORGAN CRICKET CLUB'S PLIGHT.

By "NOMAD."

Never have Glamorgan experienced such a bad season as the present, and the most astonishing thing is that their failures have been recorded on wickets which should, in the ordinary course of events, be regarded as a paradise for batsmen. There is no reason to ask why ten matches have been lost in succession, for a team that is incapable of getting more than a 100 or 150 runs on pitches such as we have enjoyed this season is asking for trouble. Only twice have Glamorgan exceeded the 200 mark—against Surrey at the Oval, and Yorkshire at Huddersfield.

Probably one of the chief reasons why Glamorgan have fared so badly is that the side is an exceptionally young one, and the players have not yet learned to temper restraint and patience with their enthusiasm, or have not yet acquired the right temperament, when facing bowlers who are using their brains all the time. There is far more in first-class cricket than the spectators imagine, and although it is exasperating to watch the repeated failures of our batsmen, I feel convinced that scathing criticism will do more harm than good. I am prepared to concede that on their present form there are several players who are not worth their place in the side, but can anyone tell me seriously that there are players in the county who are? I mean young players who can devote unlimited time to cricket and have not had an opportunity of proving their worth. Frankly, I do not know one. It is a bold statement to make, but I throw it out as a challenge and no one will be more pleased than I if I am proved to be wrong.

On this season's form I do not think there is much hope of strengthening the Glamorgan team, but next year we should have a very fair side with Bell and Hills qualified and N. V. H. Riches probably able to play more regularly. Their inclusion in the team would probably bring out the best in a young player like Cyril Walters, for instance; for, despite his wretched form this season, I have no hesitation in saying Walters is a brilliant batsman. All he lacks is confidence, and after all can it be wondered at when the team as a whole is faring so badly? Arnott, too, I am convinced would be a heavy scorer as a sixth or seventh wicket batsman if only he could go in and play his natural game instead of having to "sit on the splice."

Then we have coming along Emrys Davies and J. T. Morgan (two exceptionally promising left-handed batsmen) and Maurice Turnbull, all of whom should, judging by their present form, make first-class batsmen.

But owing to the M.C.C. rule governing the qualification of players I am afraid there is little hope for Glamorgan this season.

It will please followers of the game in South Wales to learn that T. R. Morgan, whose claims I have repeatedly advocated of late, has been selected to play against Nottingham at Trent Bridge to-day and Gloucestershire at Bristol on Wednesday. The team will be selected from:—

J. C. Clay, T. Arnott, C. F. Walters, T. R. Morgan, Sullivan, Bates, Ryan, Mercer, Davies (D.), Davies (E.), Spencer, and Abel.

CRICKET TOPICS.

NORFOLK XI. v. STAFFORDSHIRE.

M. FALCON'S GREAT HIT AT LORD'S

Percy Fender, the Surrey captain, struck an optimistic note in his wireless talk on Saturday night. In his opinion a team could be chosen which would win the Test rubber when the Australians are here next summer. Many will agree with Fender's contention that the standard of cricket in England would improve by a shorter programme which should include some Test trial games.

The Norfolk captain has run into form again just as the county has an important series of matches to play. Beginning on July 22nd Norfolk play three matches during the remaining days of this month and three matches in the first week of August—the Norwich Week. Against Staffordshire at Lakenham on Wednesday and Thursday next the Norfolk team will be:—

M. Falcon (captain)	J. B. Holmes
G. R. R. Colman	R. St. V. Bagnall
G. A. Stevens	E. C. Williamson
W. A. Beadsmoore	Nichols and
J. M. Coldham	Watson
P. W. J. Fryer

Norfolk have not beaten Staffordshire at Norwich since 1922, and though neither county is now well in the running for this year's championship there is a keen rivalry between the counties, and it is one of the best of Norfolk's home matches. Only 24 runs separated the teams when each had had an innings at Wolverhampton last month. Neither Howl nor Homer, who batted so well at Wolverhampton, will be in the Staffordshire team on Wednesday, but with Sedgwick playing Staffordshire will have a good fast bowler. Barnes, Lockett, Sedgwick, and Pratt make a formidable quartet of bowlers, and runs will not be easy to get against them. Staffordshire's probable side is—J. B. Russell (captain), W. H. Fitelelford, H. Goodwin, J. W. Johnson, P. O. Yates, C. G. Varcoe, R. St. J. Sheppard, A. Lockett, Barnes, Sedgwick, and Pratt.

SURREY II. AT HUNSTANTON.

On Friday and Saturday Norfolk play the return match with Surrey II. at Hunstanton. For this match R. A. L. Everett and A. P. H. Aitken take the places of J. B. Holmes and R. Bagnall. Everett played a not out innings of 81 for Norfolk Ramblers against Gresham's on Saturday, and Aitken was within 10 of his century at Overstrand on Tuesday. He made his county debut against Surrey II. last year at Hunstanton, and in an hour's partnership with M. Falcon put on 72 for the seventh wicket. Cambridgeshire, for whom H. W. Taylor, of Yarmouth, made his debut last week, scored 350 runs against Surrey II., Sam Long playing another fine innings of 184, and five runs sufficed to give Cambridgeshire first innings points in a drawn match. We have not seen the full score of Saturday's play, but on Friday Taylor obtained Bullock's wicket cheaply, Harry Baldwin played a brilliant innings of 120, and Geary, who hit vigorously, needed only a few more for his hundred. Daily has been promoted to the first team since his long score against Norfolk at the Oval, and he will not be playing at Hunstanton, and Abel, a son of Bobby Abel, the old Surrey "Guvnor," may be the only change. The Surrey II. team will probably be selected from W. T. Cook (capt.), G. F. Summers, J. G. O'Gorman, Bullock, Baldwin, Gregory, Abel, Brooks, Barling, Pilkington, Cook, and Geary (A.). Norfolk will be keen on avenging the Oval defeat.

NORFOLK CAPTAIN SMASHES LORD'S WINDOW.

G. R. R. Colman and M. Falcon were on opposite sides last Monday and Tuesday in the Eton Ramblers and Harrow Wanderers match at Lord's. The Ramblers won by 180 runs, after which "The Times" reporter described as one of the most attractive matches seen for years. Colman scored 42 and run out 14, and Falcon 128 not out and 29, and the latter also took four wickets for 92 and five for 60. Falcon had a long bowl of 24 overs in the Eton Ramblers' first innings, and he put himself in No. 8. He was not out overnight, and the next morning Harrow Wanderers with only two wickets left and 243 runs behind, seemed certain to be compelled to follow on. It was at this stage that the Norfolk captain played a great innings—"a captain's innings," according to "The Times" report, which stated that "M. Falcon started quietly but surely. In 100 minutes he made 100 runs. These runs were not orthodox. The point was, however, that the runs were made off the middle of the bat—and, as the ball flew one knew that Mr. Falcon knew how to pick a bat. He had one which really did drive. One can cut short the story of the batting of Mr. Falcon. Perhaps it will be sufficient to say that it was the best innings he has ever played to save a broken side. He made 20 in one over; he upset the bowling of the opposition, and—and—and he did an awful thing. With one magnificent drive for 6 he smashed a window in the committee-room."

NORWICH CRICKET WEEK.

It is not too early to refer to the social side of the Norwich Cricket Week which begins on August Bank Holiday. Among the attractions arranged by the Amusements Committee of the Norfolk County C.C., is a big night at the Spring Gardens on August 5th, for which Miss Violet Vanbrugh has been specially engaged. The Dixie Minstrels also figure in the programme and application for reserved tickets (5s. 9d. and 3s. 6d.) should be made to Mr. S. D. Hill, 80, Eaglham Road, Norwich. At the "at home" of the High Sheriff of Norfolk and Mrs. Michael Falcon at Lakenham on Wednesday afternoon the Red Cross Military Band (Norwich Division) will be present. Friday is the night of the ball, for which the London band, The Gardinians, has been engaged. The ball will be held at Spalding's Grosvenor Rooms, and applications for tickets (£1) should be made to Mr. Alan R. Colman, Crown Point, Norwich.

ROMFORD'S NORFOLK TOUR.

Although the Norfolk tour of the Gold Coast Ramblers unfortunately fell through, Romford Town had a very pleasant first tour in splendid weather. They did all their journeying by charabanc and enjoyed their rides, notwithstanding the adventures with a swarm of bees and escape from a serious fire. The tourists made their headquarters at the Star Hotel, Yarmouth. They expected to bring a stronger team, but at the last moment the captain, Father Healy, could not get away. Essex claimed V. E. Jarvis, and there were other disappointments. On the field the team had no successes after the opening victory at St. Andrew's Hospital. They fared badly against E. F. Long's bowling at Overstrand, the lob bowler taking fifteen wickets for 7-, four of them being stumped by C. H. Borthwick. C. H. Cole and A. P. H. Aitken also scored freely off the Romford bowling. The matches were with South Norfolk, Garboldisham, and Norfolk Club and Ground, their performance against the latter being quite a good one considering the bowling strength of the Club and Ground. In this match A. Ball was twice hit over the heart, and he was not only unable to continue his innings, but was in hospital the rest of the week. The last match produced the second defeat, A. W. Rouse coming along with a good piece of bowling when Yarmouth appeared to have small chance of winning.

Romford were not a good fielding or catching side, but there were some notable exceptions, and Cyril Burgess was particularly smart at cover-point. T. G. Saul was one of his victims in the match with the Club and Ground on Thursday. Saul and Burgess are both members of banks teams. When at Framlingham College Saul scored 114 against Colchester. He is only just turned 18.

N. A. Jessopp, of Lexham, who is playing for the Club and Ground at Overstrand today, will be remembered by many readers as a member of the Harrow XI. of 1914. He made his debut for Norfolk in the same season against Cambridgeshire, and when he left England for Africa in 1920 he was a very valuable member of the Norfolk County XI. In that season he had a batting average for the County of 21, with 51 against Essex II. at Witham as his highest score. Jessopp batted right-handed, but bowled left, and was a most useful variation to M. Falcon, Watson, and the other right-handers before W. A. Beadsmoore was qualified.

S. T. Alcock, of the St. Andrew's Hospital team, who is playing for the Club and Ground at Overstrand to-day, is a fast right-hand bowler with experience of Lancashire League cricket with Ramsbottom and Preston. His best performances were: Eight wickets for 0 against Shirehouse, and six for 36 against Blackpool. Born at Lancaster, he has attracted the attention of the Lancashire County. Alcock is 24 years of age, and as a centre-forward he has been watched by Burnley.

LOCAL CENTURIES.

Several additions were made last week to the local century list. G. A. Stevens made his first 100 of the season for Norwich Wanderers at Dereham, where A. G. Utting put up a good bowling performance. At Lakenham the No. 1 batsman of the Carrow and Diss teams each scored over 100. This was R. Page's second century of the season for Carrow, his first 100 being made three weeks previously against the Ramblers. On Saturday Carrow declared as soon as Page completed his 100, with the total at 210 for seven wickets. Carrow had only A. Betts of their regular bowlers, and Diss hit off the runs for the loss of three wickets. A. R. Bannister scoring 105. He and F. T. Large put on 158 after the first wicket had fallen at 9. At St. Andrew's Hospital, A. C. Morley scored his third century of the season. He is a fine hitter, and though W. Edrich batted well for Blofield and District and his brother took eight wickets for 85, the Hospitalians won by 122.

J. H. Falcon has been playing for the Free Foresters. At Chislehurst, against West Kent, he scored 32 not out and took six wickets. He was also in the Free Foresters' team, captained by his brother, which played against Col. W. T. Shepherd's XI. at Major Berners' ground at Woolverstone Park on Friday and Saturday last.

Lieut. G. C. Thorne scored 18 and 37 for Colchester Garrison against the Incogs last week. T. O. Garland scored 49 for the Incogs.

Lieut. G. N. Scott-Chadd was in the Aldershot Command team which the Harlequins defeated at Aldershot by four wickets. T. B. Raikes played for the Harlequins.

R. J. O. Meyer went south with the Quidnuncs, but after playing at Portsmouth he joined the Hertfordshire team at Stevenage and assisted in the nine wickets defeat of Bedfordshire by scoring 37 and taking ten wickets.

Grimsdell, the Tottenham Hotspur captain, kept wicket for Herts.

P. W. J. Fryer assisted Bury and West Suffolk against Incogniti at Bury, scoring 14 and 6 and taking five wickets.

G. N. Scott Chad, the Surrey O'Gormans, J. H. Doggart, Owen Nares, and D. Roberts played for the Thespids on Saturday against Chiltern Ramblers at Wimbledon Park.

Col. C. H. Gascoigne was included in the M.C.C. team which visited Sutton.

W. L. Everard, who captained Leicester II. last season, was chief scorer with 83 in the Lords and Commons match at the Oval on Thursday.

S. S. Amos, who scored 131 for Norwich C.E.Y.M.S. Thursday team against Honingham made four appearances for Norfolk in 1911.

C. H. Titchmarsh and G. M. Crossman played for the M.C.C. against the Leys. The dapper Herts batsman scored 67, but Dilley soon bowled him when he played in Hertfordshire's opening match at Stevenage.

ROMFORD'S NORFOLK TOUR.

Romford Town played the concluding match of their tour at the Wellesley Road Ground, Yarmouth, on Saturday, the home team winning by 30 runs. The clubs batted and fielded twelve a side. Yarmouth batted very steadily up to lunch time, scoring 102 runs in as many minutes and losing six wickets. The fielding generally was not good, but Morris made a couple of catches at silly mid-off, and his smartness had the effect of cramping batsmen's scoring strokes on that side. Aitken batted fifty minutes, and, although not quite at his best, and was once missed, brought off some excellent strokes. After the interval two wickets fell at 105, and then Veale and Stuart came to the rescue of the side and by enterprising cricket added 54 runs in twenty minutes. Nineteen (including five byes) came in one over from Oliver and 15 in an over from Ward. Stuart hit eight 4's in scoring 48 in twenty-five minutes. Taylor fell on his wicket in attempting a hit to leg, and the innings closed for 182. Balks bowled very steadily in taking seven wickets for 50. After Rouse had bowled T. Oliver with his fifth ball, Ward and Burgess added 76 for the second wicket in fifty minutes. The partnership was broken by a brilliant piece of fielding by Veale, who threw the wicket down from cover point before Burgess got back from an attempted run. The left-hander showed facility in scoring on the leg side. Although two other wickets fell quickly, the situation at the tea interval with 113 for four wickets was favourable for the tourists, but a collapse set in after the resumption. Rouse bowled Balks with his second ball, and with his eighth he got Ward leg before. Ward was sixth out at 117, and was at the wickets ninety-three minutes for his careful 42. Two other wickets fell at the same total, and Rouse finished off the innings, the last wicket falling at 152. After the tea interval Rouse bowled 7.1 overs for 15 runs and six wickets, and his figures for the innings were seven for 44.

CRICKET TOPICS.

CUP FINALS AT LAKENHAM

FINE BOWLING FEAT AT OVERSTRAND.

Norfolk play their first home match of the season at Lakenham next week, Staffordshire being due for the return match on Wednesday, the 22nd. The Norfolk batsmen found Barnes so difficult on a rain damaged pitch when Staffordshire were here last August that they had to follow on. Improvement came later, and with Barnes unable to bowl after lunch owing to a strained arm, M. Falcon scored a century and Norfolk declared at 301 for eight wickets, but with insufficient time to get Staffordshire out again. As Staffordshire won in 1923 it is three years since Norfolk took points in a home match against the Midlanders. At Lakenham last August Barnes bowled 27 overs for 39 runs and 9 wickets.

There are not likely to be many changes in the Norfolk team for the coming match with Staffordshire. W. A. Bendsmoore missed the away matches at the Oval and Chatham, but he will play next week, and probably in all the subsequent matches. The Staffordshire fixture is really the beginning of another week for the Norfolk players, the return with Surrey II. at Hunstanton following immediately upon the Staffordshire match, and the following Monday and Tuesday Hertfordshire will be met at Mr. Crossmans ground at Cokenach near Royston. The interval between this match and the Norwich Week is very brief, and already the arrangements are being made by the Entertainments Committee. The cricket dance last year was so successful that it is to be repeated at Snelling's Rooms on Friday, August 7th, with Gardiniar's Band. Tickets (£1) can be obtained of the County Secretary, Mr. A. E. Colman, Crown Point. There will also be a Spring Gardens night on Wednesday, August 5th, with Violet Vanbrugh as a special attraction.

Surrey II. batted all day in their match at the Oval against Cambridgeshire, Lock, not out 8, being the only one to miss double figures, and with W. T. Cook's 69 the best towards a total of 412. In spite of some excellent bowling by O'Gorman, Cambridgeshire scored 304 and 229. A. S. Ling scoring 87 run out and 48. Sam Ling, the old Southern League goalkeeper, is batting as well as ever. He headed the Minor Counties averages last season with 63, M. Falcon being second with 58.

SENIOR CUP GOES WEST.

The Norfolk Senior Cup has gone West again for the third time in the last five years. The Jarvis's of Middleton Towers were associated with the St. James' House, Lynn, team which won the trophy in 1888, and it was a Middleton team which defeated Carrow at Lakenham on Saturday. Neither side batted as well as might have been expected on a plumb wicket, and the bowlers were rather flattered by moderate and unenterprising batting. R. W. Cant took the first five Middleton wickets so cheaply that there was some reason for the display of caution, and Harry Tyrrell bowled a string of maidens, while Cant was getting wickets from the other end. Three for 9, four for 23, five for 34, and six for 46 was a depressing business for Middleton, and at this stage no one would have given much for their chance of victory. Middleton, however, produced a lively "tail," and they ultimately reached a total of 111—not a particularly good one, but as it turned out, all sufficient. Cant's six wickets for 47 was a real good performance, and at one time he had taken six for 29. Good as it was, it was not to be a match winning performance. George Stevens, who made his last appearance in the County team in 1911, soon getting busy among Carrow wickets, and with W. Harrison getting two wickets in his fourth over four were out for 29. J. H. Udon received little help, and though T. E. Dix revived Carrow hopes, Stevens and C. Howes came on to finish off the innings and leave Middleton victorious by 27 runs.

JUNIOR CUP-HOLDERS SUCCESSFUL.

On an adjoining pitch Mulbarton and Swardeston won the Norfolk Junior Cup for the second year in succession. The match was even more exciting than the Senior affair. With only half their wickets down Wendling had reasonable hopes of victory. At this stage Alfred King, the old Norwich City and Norfolk goalkeeper, made a brilliant catch, and the tide turned in favour of the holders. Two more good catches enabled Mulbarton and Swardeston to secure victory by the narrow margin of nine runs. This was a good instance of impending defeat being changed into a brilliant win by good fielding and catching. Mr. E. E. Gates, of Old Buckenham Hall, presented the two cups to the winners, congratulating the victors and commending the vanquished. Mr. Gates added that he intended to do everything possible to encourage cricket and further the interests of the game in the county in which he now resided.

ALL 10 WICKETS AT OVERSTRAND.

When Norfolk Ramblers visited Overstrand on the first Saturday in June E. F. Long secured nine wickets for 69, and he has since been doing big things. He did not have a good day on Saturday when the Ramblers paid their second visit to Lady Battersea's charming ground, for he had 55 runs knocked off him without taking a wicket. Another Rambler, however, took the opportunity of distinguishing himself on this occasion, G. F. S. Jackson taking all 10 wickets in 10 overs for 45 runs. He is the first Rambler to win this distinction. Six of his victims were bowled, two caught, and two lbw. Jackson would not have accomplished this fine performance if stumps had been drawn at seven o'clock as previously arranged, as at that time only nine wickets had fallen. C. H. Borthwick very sportingly suggested that play should continue, and Jackson bagged his tenth victim and the Ramblers gained an easy victory.

Good bowling by W. A. Bendsmoore, Covill and G. Abel contributed to the comparative scarcity of runs in the match between the N.U.F.O. and Norwich Wanderers. Bendsmoore had 9 runs hit off him before he met with any success, and afterwards took seven wickets for 19. One of Covill's six victims was G. A. Stevens.

ROMFORD IN NORFOLK.

Romford Town commence a week's Norfolk tour at the Hospital ground, Thorpe St. Andrew, to-day. The Hospitalians, who were resting on Saturday, have scored over 2500 runs in eleven matches played this season, and A. C. Morley has an average of 58 for eleven completed innings. Romford have fixtures with South Norfolk, at Old Buckenham, on Wednesday; Norfolk Club and Ground, at Lakenham, on Thursday; and at Yarmouth on Saturday. The Norfolk Stortfordians will be playing in Norfolk next month.

GOLD COAST RAMBLERS.

The Gold Coast Ramblers begin their Norfolk tour to-morrow, when they meet a South Norfolk team at Old Buckenham Hall. Mr. Everard Gates is keen on maintaining the cricket reputation of Old Buckenham, and it will be through no fault of his if the Australians are not seen there next summer. The cricket pitch is to be relaid next winter, and brought up to its former standard of perfection. Mr. Gates is playing to-day against the Gold Coast Ramblers and also in the South Norfolk side will be H. Dougill, R. G. Pilch, E. R. Burroughes, B. C. Priest, G. R. Neville, Dr. H. B. Walton, J. H. Owens, S. Youngs, and S. Witton. On the following two days the Ramblers play at Overstrand, and on Saturday they are due at the N.U.F.O. ground at Thorpe. Their fixtures for next week are with Norfolk Club and Ground at Lakenham on Monday, the 20th, and with St. Andrew's Hospital, Thorpe, on Wednesday, the 22nd.

C. C. Lockett, who is batting well for Tonbridge School this year, and generally goes in first wicket down, is the son of the head master of Bungay Grammar School. He is eligible to play for Norfolk. Suffolk have no county club, and Norwich is the nearest capital of a county engaged in the Minor Counties' competition to his place of residence.

C. H. Titchmarsh wanted only six runs to complete another century when the last M.C.C. wicket fell in the match with Wellingborough School.

G. R. R. Colman was the highest scorer with 77 in the match between Oxford University Authentics and the Household Brigade at Leyton.

G. H. Mower is holiday-making in the south-west of England, and will not be available for Norfolk cricket for several weeks.

NORFOLK SENIOR CUP FINAL.

CARROW v. MIDDLETON.

Middleton won the Norfolk Senior Cup final on Saturday, defeating Carrow at Lakenham by 27 runs. Cant bowled very well for Carrow, taking six wickets in 27 overs for 47 runs. He obtained his first three wickets in 4 overs for 6 runs, and Middleton had half their wickets down for 34 runs. The sixth fell at 46 and the seventh at 60, but Carpenter, Stebbings, and Plaice added 51 for the last three wickets and a total of 111 was reached. Stevens, the veteran Lynn Grammar School professional, quickly dismissed the first two Carrow batsmen, and with Harrison taking two wickets in one over four were out for 29. Udon received little assistance, and though near the end Dix hit out, Howes and Stevens came on to finish off the innings, for 84.

JUNIOR CUP FINAL.

MULBARTON & SWARDESTON v. WENDLING.

At Lakenham, Mulbarton and Swardeston won by 9 runs. Batting first the holders scored 108. The Wendling bowling was good all through, Daines finishing best with four wickets for 12. Goderson and Cason scored freely when Wendling batted, and with 80 runs scored for five wickets they looked likely winners. Lake then bowled Goderson, and with Cason out to a brilliant catch by A. P. King, a collapse followed. Eleven runs were wanted when the last man came in, but only one had been scored when Bayfield brought off another brilliant catch, and Mulbarton and Swardeston were cup winners for the second year in succession.

NORFOLK AVENGE OVAL DEFEAT.

SURREY II. BEATEN AT HUNSTANTON.

FINE CENTURY BY G. R. R. COLMAN

At Hunstanton on Saturday, Norfolk avenged the defeat sustained at the Oval last month, Surrey II. being defeated fifty minutes before time by the good margin of 177 runs. The little advantage Norfolk gained on the first day was strengthened by very good batting, Geoffrey Colman making his highest score so far for the County in playing a very fine innings of 126, and the side as a whole batted well all the way down. Surrey were left with the task of getting 351 runs in just under three and a-half hours, and with Proudfoot's wicket playing well till the last and the ground fast 100 runs an hour was easily possible to such hitters as G. F. Summers and Bullock. Surrey were not without the hope of victory or, if that proved impossible, of saving the game. But they were not destined to do either, although, when Summers was hitting brilliantly in company with Bullock, there was a possibility of the first. The wickets of both the players were taken by good catches, that by which Geoffrey Colman dismissed Summers being particularly fine, and after the latter left Watson and Nichols bowled the remainder out in splendid fashion. Watson has rarely bowled better, and he had really bad luck. Norfolk's out cricket was as good as their batting, and they are to be congratulated upon gaining their second victory of the week. Mr. H. E. Wharton and Dr. Bull worked hard for the success of the Hunstanton fixture, and it was a little disappointing to find the "gate" down compared with last year after two fine days, especially the second day, and two full days of splendid cricket.

With one wicket down (Nichols) overnight Norfolk were 95 runs ahead when G. R. R. Colman and J. M. Coldham went on with the second innings in dull weather on a wicket which was as dry as the previous afternoon, spite the fog and night's dew. The sun came out later, and after the first hour the conditions were ideal. Norfolk steadily improved their position, 65 runs being added before Baldwin bowled Coldham. The latter played himself in with a sequence of singles, and was moving the score along faster with good strokes when Baldwin beat him. Colman had another good partner in G. A. Stevens, and 44 more runs were added fairly quickly, as after an opening leg hit Stevens used his drive with some frequency. The bowlers were not allowed to get tired, and it was the slow bowler, O'Gorman, who came on to get Stevens caught at the wicket off his fifth ball. Even more successful was the next and fourth partnership, M. Falcon staying with Colman nearly forty minutes and assisting to put on 77 more runs. During their association Colman completed his century, with the total exactly 200. Falcon, after putting up a ball from Lock which was nearly a catch to mid-on, produced fine scoring strokes all round the wicket, five 4s being included in his 35, when he was out leg-before to Abel. Shortly afterwards Colman was caught at mid-off off the googly bowler. He was feeling tired and did not hit the ball as well as he intended. Going in at the beginning of the innings overnight Colman was fifth out at 263, batting six minutes over three hours for 126. Among his principal hits were one 5 (4 overthrow), ten 4s, three 3s, and thirteen 2s. Just before the close of play on Friday he was missed in the country, and so far as could be seen this was the only mistake he made in what was a very sound and fine innings. His defence was always thoroughly good, and he had the ability and the strokes to punish any ball that was loose or short of a good length. His cutting, off-driving, and on and leg-side play were particularly good. Colman was out at ten minutes past one, and with Norfolk 296 on it was desirable that any subsequent runs should be made quickly. Two other wickets fell before luncheon, and at the same total (278) A. P. H. Aitken and R. St. V. Bagnall each hitting a couple of good 4s and P. W. J. Fryer carrying on the good work after the interval. Watson was defeated by a googly merchant, and Fryer's last three scoring strokes were 4s. W. A. Beadsmoore also got busy, and the running catch which Pilkington made in the country to get the last wicket was a good one. The innings closed at 25 minutes to three, Norfolk batting three hours fifty minutes for their total of 317. Abel and Baldwin were again the most successful of the Surrey bowlers.

The position when Surrey commenced their second innings at ten minutes to three was full of interesting possibilities, the visitors requiring 351 runs to win with nearly three and a-half hours available for play. Cook took Baldwin in with him, and Falcon and Beadsmoore were the bowlers. Thirteen runs had been scored when in Beadsmoore's third over Baldwin half hit a ball to square leg, and Nichols, standing near the umpire, held a sharp and good catch nearly head high. Summers opened with a 4 to leg off Falcon, and followed with a late cut off Beadsmoore, whom Cook also cut square to the seats. At 25 Watson took the ball from Falcon, and with his seventh ball he knocked Cook's leg stump out of the ground. Soon after Bullock's arrival Falcon went on at Beadsmoore's end, to be driven straight to the ring by the new comer. In his next over Falcon failed to hold a very hot return from Summers, which he did well to even stop. Summers' score was then 13, and the incident had a steadying effect for a few overs, a 4 recorded to Bullock off Falcon being one of those happenings which gave no credit to his batsmanship. Falcon gave the ball to Nichols, and the innings had lasted an hour when 50 was hoisted. Summers took a 4 through the slips off Watson, and then scored 18 off four consecutive balls from Nichols, the over yielding 19 in all. Summers' hits were all big on drives, the third hit, a little straighter than the others, pitching over the motor cars. In Watson's next over the umpire's leg at the bowler's wicket stopped one of Summers' powerful hits, and Doughty limped for the rest of the afternoon.

The second 50 was obtained in 26 minutes. Watson was bowling finely and he nearly had Summers caught in the box, the ball, which went to the boundary, being a little wide of the fielder's outstretched hand. The third partnership had added 76 in 52 minutes when Falcon caught Bullock with his two hands above his head at deep mid-off -a very good catch. An even better one was made by Colman to secure Summers' valuable wicket three runs later. The ball was hit into the deep, not quite as far as some of his other drives, and the fieldsman had to make some ground to get to the ball and Colman fell over after making the catch but held the ball in his right hand and kept it off the ground. Summers hit one 6 and seven 4s in his score of 53 and was at the wicket seventy-seven minutes.

Soon after the tea interval Watson secured two more wickets, Gregory being leg-before and Abel caught at the wicket. The game continued to go in favour of Norfolk, Nichols dismissing Barling and Brooks with consecutive balls at 142. Barling was well caught on the leg side of the wicket by Williamson, and Brooks went yards down the pitch at the next ball which hit his pads. Falcon relieved Watson after his long spell and got Lock caught in the gully off his second ball. Pilkington delayed the end by lashing out and scoring 18 in five hits, all off Falcon, three of his 4s and the 2 being made in one over. O'Gorman batted with care and in orthodox style till he put a ball up close to the wicket on the leg side and Colman made the catch to finish the innings and the match at twenty-three minutes to six. Surrey batted two and a-half hours for their 173, six wickets falling after tea for 61, of which 24 were added by the last wicket, Norfolk winning by 177 runs. Watson bowled much better than his figures (three for 37) and Nichols with five for 67 brought his match record to seven for 78, Watson's being six for 63.

Notes: This match was drawn with Hertfordshire winning on first innings, after rain prevented any play on the first day. The pitch was badly affected by the rain and played badly for the badly for the batsmen. For Hertfordshire, Bland top-scored with 22, and Burton took 6 wickets for 45 runs in the Norfolk first innings. For Norfolk, Falcon with 29 made the highest score.
[Missing: Umpires; debutants; extras breakdown; in Norfolk 1st inns boundaries in Falcon's 29; in in Hertfordshire innings boundaries in Bland's 22.]
