CORNWALL V. SURREY 2ND.

Cornwall and Surrey 2nd XI. met at St. Clare, on Wednesday, in superb weather, though the attendance was not particularly large when the match opened.

The wicket was in good condition, and of easy pace.

Cornwall won the toss, and were first to face the bowling.

Tresawna and Cory were first in for Cornwall, Cory taking first knock. He hit a two, and followed up with a one, meeting the bowling of Lywood, who, taking huge runs, was sending the deliveries down with a good deal of speed. Sheffield, bowling from the other end, had a medium pace, but several byes came away off Lywood. Scoring came steadily, and thirty went up inside half an hour.

Tresawna brought the first streak of real brightness into the play, with a fine leg stroke which sent the ball away across the sward to the boundary, for it needed only a slight deflection of a well-placed bat to send Lywood's balls off on a world tour. With thirty still up, the fast bowler was taken off, and Squires replaced him: J. G. O'Gorman was sent in vice Sheffield, and the change of bowlers seemed to lead the batsmen to even greater steadiness of play. The score-board registered fifty at 12 o'clock, half-an-hour after the commencement of play.

Cory sent Squires to the boundary, but the batsmen, on the whole, were cautious, and taking no chances.

Tresawna was the first to go, getting out lbw, after about fifty minutes' play, to O'Gorman. He made 28 when the score was 61.

Rogers (G.) joined Cory, and started with commendable caution. Cory, however, slammed away at a leg ball, which he caught with the edge of the blade for a four. Baldwin relieved Squires at bowling, and off him, Rogers sent a ball clean past square-leg to the boundary, he followed this up with a three in the same direction. There was a sparkling piece of fielding when cover-point, one-handed, stopped a hard, low hit from Rogers, who a moment later, lifted Baldwin out of the field for the first "six" of the match.

Lywood went on again, and, though Mobey, at wickets, went back till he looked like long-stop, but the bowler's second ball was a bye to the boundary. Lywood, expensive in the way of byes at times, warranted his speed when he flattened Cory's leg stump. Cory went back to the pavilion with the telegraph reading 93-2-35.

C. S. Baker filled the blank, and hit a one immediately, but he found difficulty in judging Lywood's bowling. Lywood, indeed, took about twenty-two paces per bowl, and sent the ball down, rather short, so that it usually, went clean over the bat, and into the hands of the distant wicket-keeper.

Squires went on in place of O'Gorman, and Rogers was caught in slips, of his first ball. Telegraph-49-3-15.

Ollerearnshaw went in, and began to put in some pleasing batting; he appeared comfortable, and brought Cornwall's score to 100 with a scoring 4, which, with a trifle more vim behind it, would have been a 6.

Lunch time score, 180 for 3. After the lunch interval, Lywood bowled Ollerearnshaw for 9, and W. J. Addicoat went in. C. S. Baker was then clean bowled, by a fast one from Lywood; Baker, with his score at 19, was replaced by J. Baker, and Addicoat proceeded to some excellent batting.

Indeed, the versatile St. Just player's performance was a sparkling one, and he cut and drove delightfully; he stole runs at every opportunity, but J. Baker, at the other end, was a steady influence in the partnership, and refused to run when there was the element of risk.

Addicoat nearly brought his innings to an end once, when he was given a life at mid-field; the ball curved straight to the fielder's cupped hands, but was dropped. Baker, meanwhile, was playing safely, albeit he battled with a good deal of back-stepping. Addicoat eventually came out lbw to O'Gorman, the telegraph reading-184-6-49.

S. Rust replaced him, and began to play himself in, driving with great accuracy and confidence. Fast or slow bowlers, Rust digested all, with easy timing and fine judgment. With a stroke that brought his personal score to 13, he topped his county's double century, just before Baker was run out.

Whiting went in, to be run out at once; Rust was cutting things too fine when he called "Run!" on that occasion. Kendall, next in, skied one to mid-field, but two men ran for the gift, and he who caught it dropped it. So Kendall stayed in, facing the rapid Lywood, and ducked or side-stepped as he deemed advisable, for some of the balls jumped alarmingly. Again Kendall had a survival, long-field dropping a beauty. Just after, Rust, hitting to leg, was caught marvelously, deep-square-leg running after the ball, and grabbing it ahead of him. Rust made 24.

Beecher Williams was caught for a "duck," and Kendall was not out with 4. Cornwall's innings closed with a total of 216, and the teams adjourned for tea.

SURREY'S INNINGS.

Surrey took their first knock after tea. J. B. Cole and Baldwin opened their innings, and facing the bowling of Ollerearnshaw, at the far end, and Whiting at the York House end.

Batting began slowly, though the men played steadily. First out was Baldwin, who fell lbw, to a ball from Ollerearnshaw. The score read 23 for 1, when W. T. Cooke took Baldwin's place. Cooke, a hearty left-hander, broke the calm, and hit four 4's in one over, off Ollerearnshaw. Cooke's innings was lively, but not lengthy. He hit vigorously whenever such a move was possible, and made the play interesting; so that it was good for Cornwall when he was caught by Cory, but bad from the spectacularity (and Surrey) point of view. Just before the fatal hit, Cooke had all but lifted Whiting out of the field. Wilson joined Cole. Kendall went on in place of Ollerearnshaw, and the fresh bowler was not long in finding Cole's leg stump, with the score at 52; Cole made only six runs in about an hour's play. Summers went to join Wilson, who had a "life" in the slips from Ollerearnshaw, but Beecher Williams caught and held a straight one from the same batsman a moment later, and the telegraph then read 64-4-7. Geary was next in, but he was shortly left by Summers whose leg stump collapsed in obedience to Kendall. Kendall added 8 to the score.

Squires was next batsman in, but he had made only 5 when he was lbw to Kendall for 5, the telegraph reading 68-6-5.

It was during the innings of Geary and O'Gorman that 100 was registered, and when the bowlers were Ollerearnshaw at the top of York House end, and Kendall at the bottom. O'Gorman sent a slow one round to leg, where Addicoat could not catch it, but the batsman sent round a better stroke, next minute, and the St. Just men made no mistake. Telegraph-107-7-11. Mobey joined Geary.

SECOND DAY'S PLAY.

Surrey continued their innings on Thursday on a wicket of rather different character from that of Wednesday.

Wednesday had been a day of ceaseless and grilling sun, and the pitch, and related to a billiard table surface, and achieved hardness and dustiness, with the fire of the bats' blades flicking up small dust-clouds at each stroke. But rain overnight had altered all that; hardness had given place to sponginess, and dust to a film of slime, and the big roller was brought out, before play opened, as a medium for dealing with the prevailing mushyness. Therefore the pitch was left to dry off as best it could, beneath the overcast sky, and in a not-cold breeze, what time groups of spectators and officials, strolled, after the manner of leisurely-grazing cattle, about the field.

Probably most people who visited the ground during Wednesday marked the youthfulness of the individual members of the Surrey team; their captain was the eldest, and he had no more than thirty-eight years; but, as the scores of the two teams showed, at any rate as regarded the first innings, this was an occasion upon which youth was not served. And Surrey had seven pros. with them, too.

The ground did not appear to improve, and the eventual decision was that play should be postponed until after lunch.

This was done, but there was more delay when the teams went out, for sawdust was called for.

Eventually Geary and Mobey faced the bowling of Whiting at the top end, and Kendall at the lower. The batsmen played cautiously, as beloved then when facing two such bowlers as they were meeting. Geary, who, at the start of Thursday's play, had 28 to his credit, made five more before Kendall caught him off Whiting; it was a fine catch, Kendall failing forward, and seizing the ball a few inches only from the ground. The telegraph indicated 118-8-53.

Sheffield joined Mobey at the wickets, but he shortly clipped up a ball from Whiting, and Ollerearnshaw, somewhere in the vicinity of point, was ready with open arms, as it were. 121-9-4. Lywood took Sheffield's place, and was soon in action, a la blockship, against Kendall. They wisely strove to leave the batting to Mobey; but Mobey got his pad in front of a straight one from Kendall, and so Surrey 2nd, were all out for 123, Lywood not having scored. Surrey batted for half an hour to complete the innings.

CORNWALL-2nd Innings.

Cornwall opened their second innings with Tresawna and Cory, to Lywood's bowling from the top end. Tresawna cut a 1, seemingly not too dazzled by Lywood's graceful hop at the fourth of his twenty-two paces.

Baldwin appealed for lbw, once or twice, but his appeals were disallowed. With the first ball of one of his overs, however, Lywood clean bowled Cory for 2, and Rogers (G.) went in to face the rest of the over. 7-1-2. Lywood was bowling faster than ever, the light was worse, for the batsmen, than it had been on Wednesday, and the background of trees behind Lywood did not assist the men who faced his bowling. Many of the balls shot by to the off or leg, and the batsmen watched them pass with raised bat.

Cory skied a ball from the fast bowler; it went pretty high, dropping to slips, one of whom caught it, but dropped it.

Tresawna, after having been in thirty minutes, was bowled, middle stump, by Baldwin for 11, when the total score was 15. Very soon after Baker had replaced him, Rogers tipped a ball from Lywood into the hands of Mobey, at wickets, and was out for 1. C. S. Baker was out a moment later for 2. Telegraph-19-4-2.

The partnership was now J. Baker and W. J. Addicoat; two good men and true. Addicoat drove Lywood for three, and both he and Baker cut him to slips, who dropped the darting ball on each occasion. Runs came cheerfully, chiefly in ones, but it was the slip stroke that got Addicoat, who had made 7 when wickets caught him. 28-5-7.

Ollerearnshaw faced Lywood, but the partnership was broken when Baker was caught at square-leg, off Baldwin, for 7. When the score was 37, Rust was caught and bowled by Lywood for 2, there being then seven wickets down. Ollerearnshaw had one "life" before long, lifting a ball from Baldwin over his head, slowly, though he hit hard; slips dropped it. He opened out the next ball, after over, and sent Lywood to the boundary, and Cornwall were 49 for 7. Whiting was clean bowled, first ball, by Baldwin, for 0, with the score at 48.

Kendall soon broke his duck, cutting Lywood for a one, but the tale of casualties went on. Ollerearnshaw, lifting his bat for what looked like a boundary, but the ball from Baldwin went under the bat, and smacked at the bats. 53-9-17.

Beecher Williams, last man in, had a "life" to the off; the man dropped the ball, and the batsmen ran a 3, notching one on the throw in. Next minute, with a similar stroke, he was caught off Lywood. He made 4 altogether, and the innings so closed for 58, after ninety-five minutes' play.

Tea interval score:

SURREY-2nd Innings.

Surrey's second innings commenced after the tea interval, Cook and Wilson opening to the bowling of Whiting and Ollerearnshaw.

Runs came steadily mostly in 4's, and 60 went up in the first twenty-five minutes. C. S. Baker took the ball from Whiting, and the change bore fruit. From the start the left-hander puzzled the batsmen, and it was not long before Wilson stepped out to something deceptive, and was stumped by Rust. Telegraph, 63-1-27.

Baker's bowling had an extraordinary effect on the batsmen; they would open out to hit, only to change their minds, hesitate with their bat half raised, step backwards, forwards, sideways, while the ball usually lopped casually over the blade, and dangerously near the stumps. This sort of thing slowed down the rate of scoring-for a time; but the batsmen, when they found out that they had to wait, did better.

Williams relieved Ollerearnshaw with the ball, so that both bowlers were left handed, and Cook (batting) was also a left hander, with consequent dislocation of the players' positions. Scoring went on at a steady rate, and, in an hour, the visitors had totted up 90; they had scored 100 for the loss of one wicket, and Cook, soon after, reached his 50 with a boundary.

Cory took over from Williams, but Baldwin swiped him to the boundary twice in succession. Baker, at the other end, was changed for Kendall. Still the runs came, and Whiting took over from Kendall, and Ollerearnshaw from Cory.

Surrey ran to their necessary total-146-for the loss of one wicket, and declared. Scores:

CORNWALL'S COLLAPSE AGAINST SURREY.

9-WICKET DEFEAT AFTER PROMISING START.

After having a lead of 87 runs on the first innings, Cornwall were beaten by Surrey II. at Penzance by nine wickets on Thursday. On the first day the weather was beautiful and the wicket in an excellent condition. H. Tresawna won the toss for Cornwall, and started batting with Cory to the bowling of Lywood and Sheffield. Both batted cautiously, and Squires and O'Gorman replaced Lywood and Sheffield with the score at 30. The partnership lasted nearly an hour, when Tresawna was out lbw for 28, with the score at 61. Cory was bowled by Lywood for 35, and when Rogers (1) was caught in the slips for 13, Cornwall needed one run to complete the century. A feature of the innings was the good batting of Addicoat, who put on 43 before his wicket fell to O'Gorman. A useful 24 was scored by Rust, who sent up the second century with a boundary hit. The innings closed for 216.

After the tea interval Surrey opened their innings with Cole and Baldwin to the bowling of Ollerearnshaw and Whiting. The score stood at 28 when Baldwin was out lbw to Ollerearnshaw after scoring 20, and the Surrey captain, W. T. Cook, was next dismissed at 48, Cory bringing off a good catch from Whiting's bowling. At 50 Kendall relieved Ollerearnshaw, and in his second over bowled Cole. Wilson was caught by Williams off Whiting at 64, and at 66 Summers was clean bowled by Kendall. Geary and Squires put on 22 before the latter was caught behind the wicket by Rust after scoring five. When stumps were drawn Surrey's total stood at 111 for seven wickets, leaving them 105 behind Cornwall's total with three wickets in hand.

Rain fell during the night, and it was decided to defer play until after lunch on Thursday. The weather remained overcast, but the rain held off when Surrey resumed their innings. Geary added five to his overnight score of 28, and Mobery scored eight, but when these two had been dismissed the innings soon terminated, the total being 129.

Cornwall started their second innings with a useful lead of 87. Neither Tresawna nor Cory could settle down, the latter being bowled after scoring two. Tresawna was half-an-hour scoring 11 runs, and when he left Cornwall collapsed completely, Ollerearnshaw being the only one to reach double figures, and the side were out for 68 runs.

Surrey needed only 146 to win, and their batsmen played with confidence. Cook and Wilson opened the innings, and after scoring 27 the latter was stumped by Rust off Shaw Baker. Baldwin joined Cook, and together they took the score to 146, Surrey thus winning by nine wickets.

CRICKET GOSSIP.

(By LEG-BYE).

CORNWALL'S HEAVY DEFEAT.

Cornwall's defeat at Penzance against Surrey 2nd XI. by nine wickets was anything but a promising start in the Minor Counties Championship, and what made the defeat more vexing than anything else was the unexpectedness of such a reverse in view of the apparently comfortable position that the home side had established at the close of the first day's play.

Having witnessed the first day's play, I think I with many others left the field on Wednesday evening under the impression that the Surrey side had by no means given of their best. Their bowling was not difficult, the fielding at times, to say the least, was poor, several easy catches being dropped, whilst when they went to the wickets there was very little sting in any of the batting, and at the close of play seven wickets were down for 111 runs as against the home total of 216.

What most of the spectators could not understand was why a team that could score over 600 runs against Devon in a single innings, could not do better against the Cornish attack. Even allowing that Kendall, Whiting and Ollerearnshaw bowled well, no one was prepared for the fall such easy wickets, and truth to tell no one expected such a position at the close of the first day's play.

It was another matter, however, on the Thursday, when the tables were completely turned, and instead of Cornwall being able to force home their first day's advantage, Surrey came out on top, and eventually won easily by nine wickets. In fact, the batting of their captain, W. T. Cook, and Baldwin was so good when the match was won that both looked as if they could go on for quite a long time.

One of the outstanding incidents of the match was the fast bowling of Lywood, one of the Surrey professionals. His bowling was certainly the fastest that has been seen in Cornwall for many years, and although erratic at times, when the straight one did come along it nearly always left the batsman helpless.

The Surrey 2nd XI. proved quite a young side, and probably in the Minor Counties Championship they will take a good deal of beating. Possibly their batting is their strong point, and their bowling on Thursday was much more difficult than on the first day. Their fielding, however, was not up to county form, and several easy catches were dropped.

C. P. CARTER NOT ELIGIBLE.

It was a great disappointment to the Cornish side on Wednesday morning to find that after all they were not enabled to play C. P. Carter. There being a doubt as to whether Carter was eligible, the county secretary laid the position before the M.C.C. for their ruling, but unfortunately no reply had been received up to the morning of the commencement of the match. As a consequence no risk could be taken, and therefore Cornwall had to do without the services of a bowler who would doubtless have served them well. I was informed later in the day that Carter was not eligible, the ruling being that he must have two years' continuous residence before playing. As the Penzance player fails in this respect by a matter of a few months, he will not be qualified to assist the county until next season.

CORNWALL'S RECRUITS.

W. J. Addicoat, of St. Just, and J. Baker, of Penzance, justified their inclusion, and the committee have done right in giving them another trial against Devon. On Wednesday Addicoat's batting innings was quite a good one, and he alone of the Cornish players stood up to Lywood with any degree of confidence. Young Baker filled the breach admirably whilst Addicoat was collecting the runs, and the Penzance player was very unfortunate in being run out, the fieldsman breaking the wicket with a direct return.

TEAM AGAINST DEVON.

Despite the reverse, the Selection Committee were apparently of the opinion that many changes were not necessary for the match with Devon, which starts on the College ground at Truro on Friday, and with the exception that W. Rogers, of Camborne, comes in for B. Williams, of Falmouth, the side is unaltered. The team to oppose Devon will be:—H. Tresawna (captain), C. Shaw Baker, S. Rust, J. C. Baker, P. H. Kendall, W. J. Addicoat, Rogers (W.), Rogers (G.), Cory, Whiting and Ollerearnshaw.

CORNWALL COUNTY LEAGUE.

CAMBORNE'S HUGE SCORE AGAINST HELSTON.

Playing at home against Helston on Saturday in a County League match, Camborne made the huge score of 277 runs for the loss of nine wickets, and then declared their innings closed. The foundation of this success was laid by R. J. Holman and G. Rogers, who put on 88 before the former was caught by Dransfield at point. G. Rogers batted beautifully, and obtained his second century for the season. Just after, however, he was bowled by E. M. Cunnaack, his 103 including no less than 18 4's. W. B. Frayne batted in very enterprising fashion, and punished the bowling severely hitting two 6's and six 4's in an innings which greatly delighted the spectators.

Helston had two hours and 10 minutes' batting. The first three batsmen batted very stubbornly in an attempt to play out time, but when Daun relieved Mill wickets began to fall quicker, and seven were down for 54 runs. H. E. S. Dransfield and M. Prisk delayed the end with a rather good stand for the eight wicket, but Helston never looked like saving the game, and in the end Camborne won easily by 171 runs. Scores:—

THAT ELUSIVE ONE RUN.

LAST PAIR FAIL TO GET IT FOR TRURO.

The last two men in failed to secure the one run necessary for Truro to beat St. Just at St. Just on Saturday, and the scores tied at 124. Scores:—

St. Just—E. Angwin, b Hambly, 9; K. Woolcock, c Haye, b Buzza, 26; E. Dungey, c Buzza, b Haye, 26; W. J. Addicoat, c Haye, b Bradley, 9; G. Semmons, lbw, b Elliott, 7; J. Maddern, b Bradley, 18; E. #### DISAPPOINTMENT AT PENZANCE.

Much disappointment prevails at Penzance over their defeat at Camborne on Saturday. It is a well known fact that Penzance for several seasons past have been very anxious to lift the cup, and having lost it last year by a narrow margin, it was hoped that better luck would follow their footsteps this season. Their defeat at Camborne, however, has practically put them out of the running altogether, and they can only again come into the running through failures on the part of the Camborne and St. Just teams to win their matches. The general impression at Penzance is that their team made the mistake against Camborne in trying to get 175 runs in two hours, and when half-way through the innings they found this was impossible, it was too late to save the game.

ANOTHER DEFEAT.

If the Camborne result was a disappointment, greater still must have been the disappointment in the Penzance camp on Saturday when it became known that the team had dropped another two points in their game at Falmouth. To say the least, this result was entirely unexpected, and to make matters worse, Penzance were beaten in a game in which the winners could only score 69 runs.

The excitement must have been great at Falmouth to see such a side as Penzance, which included four of this season's county players, and a South African Test bowler, skittled out for 56 runs. Knowing the enthusiasm of the Falmouth spectators as I do, I should not be at all surprised if this enthusiasm did not in no small measure account for the Penzance failure.

ANOTHER SUCCESS FOR TROON.

Troon at home won their eighth successive match on Saturday, Redruth being beaten in a game in which the village club showed a pronounced superiority over the visitors. One cannot account for the weekly failures of the Redruth side, which include players who are capable of far better things than they seem able to bring off at the present time. Still, it is a long lane that has no turning, and one of these days Redruth will surely come out in their true form, and cause a surprise.

Meanwhile Troon must be heartily congratulated on their further success, and one cannot ignore the fact that the team is now playing in such a confident manner that it is quite likely to upset the best of sides. The batting against Redruth was strong, R. Dower playing a splendid innings of 75 runs, whilst the fielding was very keen.

Perhaps the greatest success was P. C. Barnes with the ball, who followed up his recent successes by capturing six wickets for 45 runs. This player has bowled so well of late that Troon must regard him as an invaluable asset to the side. Even in his prime he could not have captured more wickets than he has done during the past six weeks. Saturday's match, I was informed, was the last for the time being of Kit Trevarthen with Troon. The old county professional being out of work, has secured a job at Falmouth, and will now throw in his lot with that club.

CAMBORNE'S RECORD SCORE.

By a remarkably clever all-round display Camborne consolidated their position at the head of the League table at the expense of Helston at Roskear on Saturday, and incidentally their huge score of 277 runs for the loss of nine wickets was their record in League cricket.

The foundation of Camborne's success was laid by G. Rogers, who obtained his second century for the season, his previous hundred being against Falmouth also on the Roskear ground. Rogers' display on Saturday was as good a one as anyone could wish to see, his batting throughout being perfect. He never gave a chance, nor was there an appeal against him, and for two hours he defied the bowling in his best style.

Altogether Camborne batted two hours and 40 minutes for their runs, and Helston were left with two hours and 10 minutes for play. From the start it was only a question of whether they would be able to play out time, but although the first three wickets proved troublesome, the result was never in doubt.

CURIOUS INCIDENT.

A rather curious incident occurred when M. Prisk was at the wickets for Helston. The batsman made a big hit off W. Rogers in the dep field, and was well caught on the boundary by J. E. Mill. After the batsman had retired to the pavilion an argument arose as to whether Mill had taken the ball inside or on the boundary line. The umpire consulted Mill, who admitted he went over the boundary. There was apparently a misunderstanding between the two, and Prisk was called out and allowed to continue his innings. He afterwards added 20 runs to his score.

INTERESTING POSITION.

The position so far as the Western section of the League is concerned is now in a very interesting state. Camborne are still at the head of the League table, having dropped only two points. St. Just come next, having lost four points, and Troon third with six points. It looks as if the fight will be between these three clubs. Next Saturday, owing to the county game at Truro, no League cricket will be played, but the following week Camborne will be at home to St. Just, and Troon will play at Redruth. The result of these matches will have a most important bearing on the League championship.

WITH THE JUNIORS.

As the result of Saturday's games the position in the junior championship is much more open than it was a few weeks ago. Trewellard, the leaders, received their second defeat of the season at the hands of Lelant, and this fact now gives more than one of the other clubs an opportunity to overtake them.

Troon 2nd XI., who at one time were much fancied, came a cropper at Redruth, and their chances of leadership is fast slipping away.

Camborne 2nd XI. and Townshend were engaged in a very exciting game at Townshend, and eventually the result was a tie of 63 runs each. Camborne wanted 18 to win when the last man went in, and they might have won had not an impossible run been attempted.

There is no doubt that the Junior League is well serving the purpose for which it was formed. The teams are keen and the play is of a much higher standard owing to a great extent to the condition of the grounds than before the League came into existence.

CORNWALL V. DEVON

CORNWALL'S GREAT SCORE.

(By Lanyon Cromlech.)

Devon's display at Truro on Friday against Cornwall, in the two days' Minor Counties championship, was by no means too impressive.

With the advantage of the toss, they went in on the wicket at its best, and there had been no rain overnight nor in the morning, till the deluge started at a quarter to one, when play was stopped till 4.30.

The Devonians opened with great care, and throughout their innings none of their batsmen displayed any particular enterprise.

It may have been that the dull and threatening weather lent a depressing tone, whilst the fortuitous dismissal of Shelley at such an early stage of the game undoubtedly caused the visitors to exercise the greatest caution.

This was evidenced by the fact that Fulcher was at the wickets for 40 minutes and only scored eight runs. But in losing Fulcher, Devon experienced a decided stroke of bad luck. There was more than a shadow of doubt that he was not out. He had received a ball from Whiting, which was taken in the slips, and many thought he had been caught. There was a momentary pause; the batsmen, players and spectators were undecided; and then there came the ejaculation "He's out!" and Fulcher walked towards the pavilion. The scorers were uncertain as to the method of his dismissal, but enquiries elicited the fact that he had been given out lbw. Fulcher confidently asserts that he hit the ball, and, if that were so and he was not caught—the fielder apparently made no appeal for a catch—then Devon deserve commiseration.

Fallding and Hoare, however, were responsible for a most valuable partnership—the former scoring 26 and the latter 31. This pair seemed to have got the measure of the bowling, and batted steadily if not too confidently. They made no mistake with a ball that was in any way loose, and they showed what it was possible to do.

The game, therefore, was full of possibilities, and was marked by those fluctuations that almost invariably characterise cricket. Light had a "life" before he had scored, though the chance he gave to Shaw Baker was a difficult one. It was one of those incidents that might have been the turning-point in a match. As it turned out, Light made 17, and he and Hoare were playing with the utmost confidence till Whiting brought about a separation with a smart left-handed catch off a ball by Kendall which sent Light back to the pavilion.

Amory, the Devon skipper, was never happy at the wickets, but MacFarlane seemed to possess hitting powers which might spell disaster for any opposing side once he got properly set. Smythe, a young Cambridge student, also shaped exceedingly well.

With a bit of good fortune, therefore, Devon's total might have been never happy at the wickets, but MacFarlane seemed to possess hitting powers which might spell disaster for any opposing side once he got properly set. Smythe, a young Cambridge student, also shaped exceedingly well.

With a bit of good fortune, therefore, Devon's total might have been an altogether different affair.

WHITING'S REMARKABLE FORM.

A tribute, however, should be paid to the bowlers. At no time did the Devonians treat them with disrespect. Whiting, as usual, was the mainstay of the Cornish attack. He bowled unchanged throughout the Devon innings, and his analysis was as good at the close as at the beginning. Whiting has a wonderful way of conserving his energy. There is no waste of effort, with the result that he is able to stay, and is an effective force long after most of the other bowlers have been worn out. At one period of the game, Whiting bowled 12 consecutive overs for 9 runs.

Ollerearnshaw did not accomplish much in the way of bowling, but the catch of his which dismissed Amory evoked applause from all over the ground.

It was about a quarter to six when Cornwall went to the wickets, and, under ordinary circumstances, only three-quarters of an hour would have remained for play, but the game had started a quarter of an hour late, and stumps were not drawn till a quarter to seven—just an hour's play.

CORNWALL AT THE WICKETS.

In that period Cornwall did well. The opening pair were Tresawna, the home skipper—and Cory (W.)—a compliment to the Redruth man. They played very carefully—particularly Tresawna, Cory's average being 2 to the latter's 18.

The first thing that struck the on-looker was the frequent change of bowling. I do not ever remember seeing bowlers change so constantly. With one exception—Fallding—none of them had more than two or at the most three consecutive overs. The Devon skipper evidently did not believe in wearing his bowlers down, and, furthermore, his desire may have been to prevent the batsmen becoming acquainted to any particular kind of bowling. Both Cory and Tresawna withstood the attack for some time, and then Cory gave an easy chance which Smythe snapped. Rogers (G.) joined Tresawna and together played out time, taking the home total to 47 for the loss of one wicket.

DEVON BOWLING.

I was not particularly impressed with the Devon bowling. Amory still possesses a good deal of pace, but not the pace of days of yore. Midgley—who has a rather extraordinary delivery—is also pretty fast, but he did not appear to be particularly dangerous from a wicket-getting point of view, although he might be to the batsmen, as the balls seemed to rise a good deal. Fallding, who did the greater part of the bowling, kept a good length, and the batsmen had to treat him with due care. For some reason, Jennings only had two overs. Obviously Skipper Amory must have considered that the wicket did not suit him. On the occasion of Devon's last visit to Truro, Jennings was unplayable. He not only did the hat trick, but took seven wickets for seven runs.

It was thought by many that after the rain, when the sun came out, this would materially affect the pitch, but this did not appear to have been the case, and there was no suggestion that either batsman or bowler got any decided advantage from it.

This was the position of affairs, then, when stumps were drawn on Friday night.

SPLENDID BATTING ON SATURDAY.

Reviewing the closing stages of the match between Cornwall and Devon at Truro, on Saturday, there can be little doubt that, during the week end, Rogers (G.) and Fallding were the most talked of men in Cornwall. Their remarkable scores of 138 and 107 (not out) were the outstanding features of the match.

Both men gave splendid exhibitions of batting. Neither of them left anything to chance and Rogers, in particular, batted with the utmost care. With remarkable patience he was content to pile up his score by one's and two's and yet the runs mounted up, and it was with surprise that one realised that he was reaching the century mark.

Fallding's batting, on the other hand, was much more spectacular. Once he got set he hit out and in very much less time than Rogers he had 107 to his credit. This score included 18 fours and two sixes—a truly remarkable innings.

When play opened on the second day, the game was in the lap of the gods. Anything might have happened. On the previous day Devon were skittled out for 135 and Tresawna and Rogers had made 18 and 7 respectively for Cornwall, when stumps were drawn.

The game began slowly. Both Tresawna and Rogers were very careful and half an hour slipped by before 30 runs were scored. Then things livened up a bit and fours and threes began to make their appearance on the score book. Once, but only once, Rogers made a mistake and was nearly caught by Fulcher at mid-off.

The bowlers were changed repeatedly, but with little effect. It looked as if the partnership would last for ever, but soon after 12.30 Midgley achieved the seemingly impossible, and Tresawna was given out lbw. for a score of 79.

After this matters changed complexion entirely. Tresawna was replaced by C. Shaw Baker, but the new partnership did not last long. Baker made a four and two singles then he was clean bowled by Jennings.

Ollerearnshaw was next man in. He made a slightly longer stand and made twelve when he was caught by Fallding.

With the score at 215 Jack Baker came in but his innings was interrupted by the lunch hour just after he had broken his duck. Rogers at that time had made 90.

The game now resumed its old aspect. Baker looked as if he was set and Rogers was quite immovable. A few more singles, then Rogers reached his century, amidst loud applause, with a beautiful drive to boundary. He now threw off the shackles of care. The next ball he sent flying for six and his batting became much livelier, but his innings was nearing its end, and about half an hour after lunch he was run out. He had then reached the magnificent total of 138.

As a mark of appreciation a collection was made and no less a sum than five guineas was raised for his benefit.

Baker was still going steadily when Rogers (W.) came in. The latter was eager to get on. He made a 4, then a single, but with the next hit he skied the ball and Fallding caught him out.

S. Rust, who came in next, met with a similar fate. With his first hit he sent the ball for 4. The second hit gave him a single, the third another 4, but the next one he lifted and Smith caught him for 8.

Addicoat was next man in, but he was given, even shorter shift. He snatched a single and was caught by Smythe for 1. Cornwall did not stand long after this. Baker was stumped by MacFarlane soon after for 39. P. H. Kendall was caught out for a duck, when Whiting had a not out score of 8. With 16 extras, this brought Cornwall's score to 328—a good lead on Devon's first innings.

DEVON'S SECOND INNINGS.

Devon's second innings did not open very brightly. Shelley and Fulcher took up the first stand, but Whiting quickly smashed the partnership when he got Fulcher out lbw. for one.

Fallding took his place and made 4, when tea was called. The Devon score was then 25 for 1.

After tea, however, Fallding got into his stride and almost every hit he sent the ball to boundary. When the score had reached 49, Rust caught Shelley for 13.

Hoare came in and made four 2's and some singles which brought his score up to 11, when Ollerearnshaw caught him beautifully. Devon were now three wickets down for 74.

Light now joined Fallding and this partnership remained unbroken until stumps were drawn. Fallding was batting splendidly. He sent Whiting for 6 and following this with a four reached his century. The next ball he sent again for 6, making 16 runs in one over.

When stumps were drawn he had made 107 not out, Devon's score being 162 for 3. Scores.

CRICKET.

TWO CENTURIES ON TRURO COLLEGE GROUND.

FINE BATTING IN COUNTY GAME.

Two centuries, one by a Cornishman and the other by a Devonian, were a feature of the minor counties championship match between Devon and Cornwall on Truro College ground on Friday and Saturday. G. Rogers had a magnificent innings of 188, and Falding's score of 107 not out included eighteen 4's and two 6's. H. Tresawna, Cornwall's captain, put up a splendid 79 in the first innings.

Shelley and Fulcher opened on Friday for Devon, who had won the toss. Shelley took the first over from Whiting, and drove the fourth ball past long-off for two. Ollerenshaw's first over at the other end was a maiden, Fulcher taking no chances. Shelley scored another two off Whiting, but was caught at point by G. Rogers, Falding, who followed, got the first boundary of the game with a nice drive off Whiting. Devon reached 20 in just under half-an-hour, and after eight more had been added C. Shaw Baker relieved Ollerenshaw. Fulcher was out lbw after making eight runs in 40 minutes. His partnership with Falding had raised the score to 41. Four runs had been added when Falding was smartly stumped by Rust, after knocking up a lively 26, including three 4's. Hoare hit two boundaries in one over from Whiting, and carried the score to 50. Sixty went up in 50 minutes. Whitting, who succeeded Falding, did not stay long, being bowled by Baker after making one. Four wickets were down for 69.

Rain stopped the game at 12.45 after an hour's cricket, and it was not until 4.30 that Hoare and Light resumed the innings. Light made his first score, a single, with a stroke which gave Shaw Baker a chance, but it was too difficult for him to hold. Runs came steadily, and the score was five short of the century when Hoare was clean bowled by Whiting, after scoring 31. Five wickets were down for 95.

P. Kendall took the bowling from Baker, and with the score at 107 Light was caught by Whiting off Kendall. Twelve runs had been put on since the previous wicket had fallen. At 112 Smythe was bowled by Kendall in trying to hit out. The pace of the scoring slackened, and only five runs were got in nine overs. It was not long before Amory was dismissed, Ollerenshaw bringing off a fine one-handed catch from Whiting's bowling. Macfarlan hit forcefully, any possible ball, but was soon bowled by Kendall with eight to his credit. Midgley joined Jennings with the score at 132, but only three runs were added before Jennings was stumped by Rust, the innings closing for 135.

Tresawna and Cory were Cornwall's opening pair, the latter scoring a couple off Amory's first ball. Midgley bowled from the other end. Amory soon put Jennings on to bowl in his stead, and Falding took the ball from Jennings after two overs. Amory took Midgley's place. Half-an-hour saw 20 scored. Amory made yet another change in the bowling, putting on Smythe. Cory had scored 18 when Smythe caught him off Falding. Stumps were drawn when Cornwall were 49 for one wicket.

When play was resumed on Saturday, Tresawna and G. Rogers faced Midgley and Falding. Whitting being indisposed, his place was taken by W. B. C. Smith, a Truro College boy. The batsmen opened cautiously, but after a while they began to score freely. After half-an-hour's batting they carried the overnight score of 49 to 79, when Falding replaced Amory, who went on when the score stood at 68. Jennings seemed to be causing the batsmen a little trouble, and with the score at 95 he had bowled nine overs for nine runs. Tresawna reached 50 with a single off Jennings, after batting for an hour and 50 minutes. The 100 was reached soon after, G. Rogers scoring 24. Jennings, although he kept the scoring down, did not look as if he could break the partnership, and he gave place to Amory, from whose bowling Tresawna sent up the 110 with a leg hit for 3. Smythe, at the pavilion end, occasionally beat Tresawna, but the balls were not on the wicket. Rogers was taking no risks, and rarely did he hit out. Light replaced Amory at the top end with the score at 125. This was the first time he bowled for the match, and two were scored off his first over. In reaching 36 Rogers very nearly got caught by Fulcher at mid-off. The Devonshire total was passed when Tresawna scored a 2 off Light.

Devon at last met with success, and Tresawna was out lbw to Midgley, who had taken Light's place. The total was 155, to which Tresawna contributed 79, hitting five 4's, in two hours and three-quarters. Rogers up to this point had scored 49. C. Shaw Baker joined Rogers, but he only stayed long enough to see Rogers get his 50 before he was bowled by Jennings after scoring six. Ollerenshaw started cautiously, but he soon opened his shoulders. This, however, proved his downfall, for in endeavouring to get a ball from Falding to the boundary he was caught and bowled. The score then stood at 195, Rogers having scored 78. A hit to square-leg by Rogers sent the 200 up. When the interval came for lunch Rogers had scored 90 not out, the total being 215. After reaching 100 with a boundary to the off from Fulcher, Rogers hit the first six of the game from the next ball. Rogers and J. C. Baker remained together for half-an-hour before Rogers was run out, after scoring 138. W. R. C. Smith with a quick return was mainly responsible for Rogers being dismissed. J. C. Baker had five boundaries in his total of 39. He was the last man out, Addicoat, Rust, W. Rogers and Kendall being dismissed cheaply. The innings closed at the substantial total of 328.

Falding was mostly responsible for saving his side from an innings defeat. He was 107 not out when stumps were drawn. Devon had to get 194 in just over two hours, and the score rose very slowly at first only 18 being obtained in half-an-hour. Scores:—

CORNWALL'S GAME WITH DEVON.

It was rather a pity that Cornwall's game with Devon was interrupted by the weather for over three hours on Friday, as otherwise there might have been a good finish on Saturday instead of the game ending so tamely as it did. As it was Cornwall took three points for a first innings' lead in the game that went all in its favour.

Those who were fortunate enough to witness the play on Saturday were treated with a fine exhibition of batting, first by the Camborne professional, George Rogers, and later on by Falding, who, for Devon, was still undefeated at the close with a century to his credit.

To George Rogers must go the honour of the Cornish batting. His overnight score of nine was taken to 90 at lunch time on Saturday, and he afterwards increased it to 138, when in attempting to force the pace he was run out, when only requiring five runs to reach the record score for Cornwall, which was made many years ago by Vibert, against Berkshire at Reading.

If Rogers, however, failed to get a record for his county, he succeeded in getting his own highest score, and I understand a record for the Truro College ground, and having seen him make three centuries this season already, I shall not be a bit surprised to find him even breaking his own record before the season finishes.

Everyone on Saturday agreed that his display was faultless, and against the best bowling that Devon could produce, it was the best innings that he has ever played.

Up to Saturday Rogers had never given the county of his best. As a young player he naturally suffered from nerves, but now he has got over this stage there is no reason why he should not get a lot of runs, and I really think he will.

Cornwall also owed a lot on Saturday morning to its skipper, who played a wonderfully fine innings of 79 before being given out lbw. In many quarters this season the inclusion of the county captain in the Cornish side has been much criticised, owing chiefly to his apparent lack of interest in club cricket, and subsequent lack of practice, but club cricket or not, it is surprising how Mr. Tresawna can rise to the occasion when the county demands his services, and his innings against Devon showed that he is a force still to be reckoned with.

It was rather a pity when Rogers left the Cornish innings was not declared closed. It was then three o'clock, and defeat for Cornwall was out of the question, as a lead of 170 had been secured. Had this been done the game, if necessary, could have been prolonged to a quarter to seven—sufficient time to have got Devon out. As it was, Cornwall batted right through, and threw away half-an-hour of valuable time for 20 runs, which were of no use whatever.

Devon had no difficulty in saving the game. Falding saw to that, and good as Rogers' innings was for Cornwall, the Devon pro's was equally as good for his side. If it had not been for Falding there might have been an exciting finish, as at the close he claimed no less than 107 out of Devon's total of 162.

Saturday's cricket was played under delightful conditions, and in striking contrast to that of Friday, when the weather was wild and wintry. A full day's cricket, which included two centuries, was thoroughly enjoyed by quite a good crowd, and the wicket, which played remarkably true throughout, was practically as good at the finish as when the game started.

REPLY TO CORRESPONDENT.

I have no intention of entering into any controversy over the selection of the county team, but in view of the fact that a correspondent last week saw fit to put forward a side which he thought would be an improvement on the present side, and asked if I agreed with him, a few observations would perhaps not be out of place.

In the team as put forward by "Cricket" he suggested that the places of H. Tresawna, J. C. Baker, S. Rust, and G. Rogers be filled by Couch, Bradley, Harvey and Hambly. Prior to the match with Devon I am not so sure that many would agree to a certain extent with him, but unfortunately for "Cricket's" argument Tresawna, Rogers, and Baker all came off in the Devon match, and therefore his contention that they should be left out of the side falls to the ground for the time being.

I could not agree with his contention, however, that either one of the four players mentioned in his letter would be an improvement on George Rogers. The Camborne professional this year is in magnificent form. Already he has scored three centuries, whilst he can hold his own in the field with any other player in the county. The only other player therefore that "Cricket" thinks can be improved upon is S. Rust, but it must be mentioned the Penzance player is in the side for his wicket keeping, and in this respect he has never yet let the county down. Besides, he is also quite a useful bat.

An invitation I understand is being extended to Harvey to accompany the team on tour, and much as many would like to see a trial extended to Bradley, apparently in the opinion of the Selection Committee his time is not yet. The general opinion is that Couch is not up to county form, but an eye will probably be kept on Hambly, the Truro City player, as he is quite useful, both with the bat and the ball, and if he can maintain his present form perhaps an early trial may be extended to him.

The letter of "Cricket" has certainly caused a good deal of comment in cricketing circles, and it was much discussed on the Truro College ground last Saturday.

It was certainly a peculiar coincidence that his arguments should have the bottom knocked out of them by the players mentioned being practically responsible for the county score, and incidentally the highest score was recorded during the time mentioned in his letter.

THE COUNTY TOUR.

After the match on Saturday the team was selected to go on tour, and although it is not yet published, I understand invitations will be extended to K. C. R. Webster and Harvey. Jack Baker, for business reasons, is unable to go, and W. Rogers, of Camborne, has been passed over, so that with these two exceptions the team remains unaltered, provided H. Kendall, of Liskeard, can accept his place.

This year the tour is a week earlier than has been the case in past seasons, and will open at Plymouth on July 27th for the return match with Devon. From there the team will travel to Newport for their game with Monmouth, and on to the Oval, Reading and Bridport, where the tour will finish against Dorset.

After the tour there will be three home matches, Dorset playing at Liskeard, Monmouth at Penzance, and Berkshire at Camborne. On August 23rd and 24th a junior match will be played at Plymouth between Devon and Cornwall, and all the players taking part in this match will have to be under 19 on the 1st May last.

CLUB CRICKET. CAMBORNE RECORD.

Owing to the county game no League cricket was played on Saturday, but some very interesting friendly matches took place, and at Rockear, where Newquay were the visitors, Camborne followed up their previous week's record League score by creating yet another record home score for the game, amassing the huge total of 394 for the loss of only four wickets.

It was Newquay's first visit to Camborne, and they brought what they considered quite a good side, but despite the absence of the home captain (C. V. Pull), J. E. Daun, and the brothers Rogers, they found the home team altogether too good for them. R. J. Holman always had them in difficulties with the ball, whilst F. Rogers with the bat exceeded the hundred, and retired with a score of 103 not out. His best hits were a 6 and 19 4's. H. Bond (46) and W. B. Frayne (42) also batted well. Newquay were all dismissed for 56.

AT REDRUTH.

Redruth scored 129 against Falmouth, but the visitors did better, and in the end succeeded in getting 171 for the loss of eight wickets, thus winning by 45 runs. Falmouth in this match had the assistance of Bradley, the Truro City professional, and he served them well by scoring 56 runs. "Kit Trevarthen, the old Redruth and county professional, also played his first game for Falmouth, and he helped considerably in the success of his side by scoring 33 runs.

Next week the League fight will be renewed with vigour. The best match will be at Camborne, where St. Just are the visitors, and much will depend upon the result of the game.

THE SUMMER GAME

CORNWALL'S GRAND REPLY TO DEVON

Cornwall are to be congratulated upon their splendid batting display against Devon in a Minor Counties match at Truro College ground on Friday and Saturday. In response to Devon's first innings total of 135, Cornwall responded in splendid style by amassing 328 runs—their biggest score during the past three seasons. Features of the game were the notable batting performances for Cornwall by George Rogers, the young Camborne pro, and H. Tresawna, captain, who engaged in a partnership that yielded 119 runs. Tresawna played superb cricket, his delightful leg strokes being a treat to watch, and it was unfortunate that he was out l.b.w. when within 21 runs of a century. By forceful and careful batting, Rogers collected 138 runs and was unlucky to be run out when he was within five runs of creating a record individual score for Cornwall. The record is held by Vibart, who made 143 for Cornwall against Berkshire at Reading in pre-war days. Falding, a Devon pro, followed Rogers's example, and scored 107 runs not out in Devon's second innings. The Duchy representatives acquitted themselves well by gaining a first innings lead of 193 runs over the Devonians, and lack of time, owing to three hours' stoppage of play on Friday, deprived the Cornishmen of gaining full advantage of their commanding position. The game was left drawn, Cornwall taking three points for leading on the first innings.

The weather was dull and threatening when Devon went in to bat first. Early disaster overtook the visiting county. Shelley, who made 187 against Surrey 2nd eleven in the previous week, being caught by George Rogers off Whiting in the third over when only four runs had been registered. This early success was promising for Cornwall, but the second wicket did not fall until 41 had been reached. Fulcher being out l.b.w. to Whiting after taking 40 minutes to collect eight runs. C. Shaw Baker's scraggy deliveries troubled the Devon batsmen, and in his third over he got rid of Falding, who was stumped by Rust. Rain stopped play after Devon had been at the wickets just over an hour, and a resumption was not possible until about four o'clock. Light and Smythe carried the score to 95 before the fifth wicket fell. The Devon captain, Amory, made a short stay, and the four remaining batsmen collected 28 runs between them, the innings closing for the small total of 135. Whiting bowled unchanged throughout the innings sending down 27 overs, 10 of which were maidens, and his four wickets cost 57 runs. His club colleague, Kendall, claimed four for 32, and Shaw Baker got the other two wickets for 27.

A Great Stand

Cornwall were left with just an hour to bat before the close of play for the day, and Tresawna and Cory remained together for 40 minutes, putting on 38 runs before Cory sent up an easy catch to Smythe, his contribution being 18. George Rogers then partnered the Cornish captain, and the score was taken to 49 without further loss before the day's play concluded.

The weather was delightful when Rogers (G.) and Tresawna resumed Cornwall's innings on Saturday morning, and the pair carried the overnight score of 49 for one wicket to 155 before a separation was effected. Tresawna was given out for obstruction after a faultless innings for 79. Devon's score was exceeded by 16 runs for the loss of only two wickets, and Cornwall were then in a strong position. C. Shaw Baker was bowled by Jennings after a brief stay for six, then followed Ollerearnshaw, who assisted Rogers in putting on 33 runs before the fourth wicket fell at 195. J. C. Baker (a son of C. Shaw Baker) and Rogers defied the Devon bowling without further loss to the lunch interval, when Rogers was ten short of his century. On resuming Rogers played carefully until he reached his century with a hit to the boundary off Fulcher. The young Camborne pro received a great ovation, and the cheering was renewed when he hit the next ball from Fulcher out of the field. It was Rogers's third century this season, but his first in county cricket. The ball was lost and a new one was requisitioned. J. C. Baker, who was batting soundly, hit Falding for a six, the ball striking the upper part of the screen. With the score at 288, Rogers lost his wicket through being run out after contributing 138. Batting altogether for nearly four hours, Rogers was master of the Devon attack all through his long stay, and so far as could be seen he gave no chance. A collection for Rogers realised five guineas. J. C. Baker sent Cornwall's total to the 300 mark, but the remaining batsmen were short stayers, and the innings closed for 328. Baker was the last man to leave, being stumped by Macfarlen, after making a valuable contribution of 39 by skilful play. He is a young player likely to prove a great asset to the county. W. R. C. Smith of Truro College, fielded for Devon as a substitute for E. Whitten, who was taken ill on the first day.

Devon were in a hopeless position when they started their second venture 193 runs in arrears with about two and a half hours left for play. Cornwall had a sporting chance of being able to pull off a victory, but the Devon men took no risks. Shelley and Fulcher exercising extreme caution. It was obvious that their plan was to play for a draw. Only 18 runs were scored in the first half hour. Kendall bowling four successive maidens over. With the score at 13 Fulcher was out l.b.w. to Whiting after making a single. Falding and Shelley were more enterprising and the score was taken to 49 before the latter was caught behind the wicket by Rust off C. S. Baker. With Falding and Hoare together runs came at a steady pace and 73 was reached before the latter was cleverly caught by Ollerearnshaw off W. Rogers's third ball. Light and Falding caused the home bowlers some trouble, and frequent changes were made in the attack. In one Falding hit two 6's and a boundary off Whiting and at the same time reached his century, being warmly applauded for his masterly effort. The pair were undefeated when stumps were drawn with the score at 162 for three wickets. The game was left drawn, Cornwall gaining first innings points. Scores:—

ANOTHER CAMBORNE CENTURY

Newquay visited Roskear on Saturday to play a friendly game with Camborne, and although the home team had some of their leading men away, they won quite easily. Newquay could do little against the bowling of Holman and Toms and the slow bowler hit the sticks five times and secured six wickets for 24, whilst Toms had three for eight. Camborne found the Newquay bowling easy to play and F. Rogers retired after making 105 by clean, sharp hitting, which included 19 boundary hits. Bond again showed good form as did Frayn, Gordon Holman, and Biddick. Scores:—

Oates showed good form for Redruth, the former making 29 and the latter 51 by a number of good strokes. W. S. Matthews (21) and K. Williams (10) were the only other home batsmen to reach double figures. Bradley and Moulle batted steadily for the visitors, the former scoring 56 and the latter 13. C. Trevarthen, sen, and C. Trevarthen, jun, also showed good form with the bat, the former scoring 33 and the latter 21 not out. The visitors compiled 171 runs for eight wickets. Scores:—

Carter, for Penzance, took five wickets for 25 runs, J. V. Bentley four for 39, and W. H. Pearce one for four. Penzance were well served in batting by C. Collins bowled well for Penryn in taking five wickets for 19 runs. Scores:—

ST. CLEMENT'S SUCCESS.

Truro St. Clement gained their first victory in a Junior League game at the expense of St. Day on Saturday, at St. Clement. Bowling on each side was very evenly matched. E. M. Grose had the distinction of performing the "hat trick" in each innings for the home team. Batting first, St. Day were dismissed for 12 runs (Nettle wine). E. M. Grose, four wickets for no runs, J. R. Murtion three for six and Moyse three for eight, being responsible for the visitors' quick dismissal. St. Clement in their first innings, only totalled 22 runs. Rundle, six wickets for ten runs, and Manuell three for none, were also in deadly form with the ball. In St. Day's second venture they were again disposed of cheaply, their total being 27. J. R. Murtion four for eight, and E. M. Grose five for 12, again bowled with deadly effect. Requiring 23 runs to win, St. Clement reached that total for the loss of two wickets, thus winning comfortably by eight wickets. Manuell captured the two wickets for eight runs.

MONMOUTH'S POOR START AT NEWPORT

FINE CORNWALL BOWLING

In the Minor Counties match Monmouthshire v. Cornwall at Newport, rain considerably hampered play. Cornwall were without their captain, H. Tresawna.

Rain had fallen heavily during the night, and the wicket was soft when Newport won the toss and elected to bat first.

Runs came very slowly, for the bowling of Whiting and Kendall was very good, their length was admirable, and Monmouthshire batsmen were very cautious.

The home county only made six when Kendall, in the slips, caught the ball from Wilcox magnificently. Abraham only added two when he was finely caught in the slips. Another wicket went when only 17 was on the board, and at 20 Dolman tried to make a big hit but failed, and was clean bowled.

However, H. H. Jenkins and K. C. Raikes improved the score, which stood at 57 for four. Score:—

CORNWALL LEAD ON FIRST INNINGS

FINE BATTING

Although a definite decision was not possible in the match between Cornwall and Monmouth at Newport, yesterday, the Cornishmen had the satisfaction of securing the points for leading on the first innings.

Although very cloudy and rain threatened, the conditions for the second day were more propitious than on the opening day, when Monmouthshire lost four wickets for 57 runs before play had to be abandoned.

The home county fared none too well when the game was resumed, for thanks to the fine bowling of Kendall and Whiting and very keen fielding, they were all out for 122. A. R. Ralph battled well for his 34 before he was well caught and bowled by Kendall. Raikes had 26, but he received a couple of lives.

Cornwall's batting was much better, in fact so good was it that they passed the home county's total for the loss of only two wickets. Cory was sent back when he had scored only 5, but Shaw Baker played a remarkably fine innings. He played for runs, and his total of 81 included a 6, ten 4's, and six 3's.

Rogers, too, batted well for his 52. When he got to the wicket runs came much more rapidly than previously, and he helped Shaw Baker to take the score to 80 after eighty minutes. At the tea interval Cornwall had scored 191 for seven wickets, and it was decided to declare at that figure.

After two wickets had fallen in Monmouth's second innings rain stopped play, and the match was abandoned as a draw. Scores:—

SPORTS AND PASTIMES

CORNWALL'S SORRY FLIGHT
AGAINST DEVON

Cornwall suffered a crushing defeat at the hands of Devon in the opening match of their tour at Peverell, Plymouth. Rain stopped play early on Friday afternoon, when Devon had compiled 161 runs for the loss of three wickets, and on Saturday the Devonians raised their total to 247. Cornwall were bundled out for a mere 38 runs—the second lowest score in the history of the county club—and were forced to follow on. The Cornishmen's second venture produced 121 runs, leaving Devon winners by an innings and 88 runs. The corresponding game at Truro resulted in a draw.

Winning the toss, Devon batted first on an excellent wicket, the opening pair being E. A. Fulcher and J. F. Shelley. The first four overs were maiden, Whiting and Kendall both bowling a good length, and for some time the batsmen found it difficult to get runs, 20 being reached after 35 minutes. Shelley gave a chance to Ollerenshaw when he had collected 17 runs, but the Penzance pro. dropped the catch. This proved costly to Cornwall, as Shelley carried his score to 72 before he succumbed to a catch by Kendall off Ollerenshaw. The rate of scoring increased, and the first wicket partnership was not broken until the century was hoisted. Fulcher was caught by Baker off Kendall after contributing 43, and Hudson had gathered 21 when he was bowled by Kendall. Two wickets were down for 129, and Shelley appeared to be firmly set, but when the total had been raised to 143 he fell a victim to a catch by Kendall off Ollerenshaw. By stylish batting Shelley contributed 72. Rain caused a cessation of play at 2.30 p.m., when Devon's score had reached 161. Up to that stage Rust had kept wicket splendidly for Cornwall, not a single bye being conceded.

Four hours' play having been lost on Friday, there was a general disposition to believe that no definite decision would be reached, but the glorious uncertainty of cricket was again manifested, and five hours' play on Saturday was sufficient to enable Devon to win in convincing fashion. Devon carried their overnight score of 161 for three wickets to a substantial total of 247. Kendall had the best bowling analysis for Cornwall, taking six wickets for 80 runs, whilst the veteran Whiting claimed three for 108.

The Cornish batsmen were soon in difficulties, and the Devon bowlers had a merry time. In 22 overs Cornwall were all out for a paltry 38 runs, Midgley capturing six wickets for 17 runs, and Jennings four for 19. C. Shaw Baker, who collected 10 runs, was the only Cornish batsman to reach double figures.

Being 209 runs behind, Cornwall had to follow on, and for ten minutes Tresawna and Cory batted well, but when 20 was reached Cory was bowled by Falding, and at 40 Tresawna fell a victim to a good ball by the Devon captain. Then came another Cornish collapse, Baker and Rogers both being sent back at 46. Three runs later Ollerenshaw lost his wicket to Amory, who with his next ball, beat Harvey. Seven wickets were down for 56. At this stage Amory had the remarkable analysis of five wickets for eight runs in seven overs. Rust and Stephens stopped the rot, and for the first time the Devon attack was collared. Stephens, who was playing his first county game, made 14 before he fell to Falding at 78. Whiting was next in and opened his account with a hit to boundary, and the Cornish tail began to wag, Rust obtaining three fours in one over off Falding. At the tea interval, Cornwall, with two wickets to fall, were still over a hundred behind. After tea Rust hoisted the century, and at 109 the Penzance man was bowled by Midgley, his contribution being 28. Kendall was Cornwall's last hope, and he opened his account by hitting the only six of the match, but after getting two more runs he was sent back. Whiting was undefeated with 15 to his credit. The innings yielded 121 runs. Scores:—

CORNWALL DO BETTER

POINTS FOR FIRST INNINGS
LEAD OVER MONMOUTH

Following their unhappy experience against Devon last week, Cornwall fared better in their game with Monmouth at Newport on Monday and Tuesday. Going in first on a soft wicket, Monmouth batted poorly, and the only bright feature was the innings of R. Ralph, who scored 36. The Cornish bowling and fielding were very effective, and the Monmouth innings yielded 23 runs. Kendall captured five wickets, and Whiting four. On the first day rain stopped play soon after the lunch interval, but the weather was better when the game was resumed on Tuesday, when Cornwall made a good start at the wickets, passing the home county's total for the loss of only two wickets. C. Shaw Baker made a valuable 81, which included a 6 and ten 4's. George Rogers batted soundly for his 52. Cornwall had knocked up 191 for seven wickets, and at the tea interval it was decided to declare at that figure. Monmouth's second innings was stopped by rain after two wickets had fallen for 22 runs, and the match was abandoned, Cornwall taking the points for leading on the first innings. Scores:—

Griffin (45), Miss Trounson (22). For the ladies, Miss Roskrow took six wickets for 39 runs, Miss Hicks two for eight, Miss A. J. Tamblin two for six and four for 12. For the vice-presidents, Channon took two for one, Jennings one for eight, Paul two for seven, Taylor two for one, Warne two for 10, Hosking one for two, and Tregarthen two for 10. The gate and proceeds of the tea yielded nearly £10 for club funds. Scores:—

NEWQUAY AT TROON.

Newquay were the visitors to Troon on Saturday and gave a much better display than on the occasion of their recent visit to Camborne. Though they lost, they gave the home side a good game. Newquay batted first, but were puzzled by the spin bowling of Barnes, the Troon veteran who kept a good length and broke considerably both ways. Cheesman and Medhurst scored freely at the start, but after they left, Prideaux carried the team on his shoulders, batting stolidly and taking no risks. He was the only later batsman who played Barnes with any confidence, and his 23 was worth much more to the side than the total represents. Barnes, with five wickets for 28, bowled unchanged, and was Newquay's greatest obstacle. Troon made no better start than Newquay, and four wickets were taken for 44, but after the Newquay total of 72 had been passed, the home batsmen became aggressive. G. Curry hitting particularly hard, Gordon and Medhurst were the best bowlers for Newquay. Scores:—

NEWQUAY.—Cheesman, b. Richards, 9; Medhurst, b. A. Thomas, 11; Wallace, b. Barnes, 3; Prideaux, b. Vivian, 23; Verran, c. Thomas, b. Barnes, 1; Shaw, b. Richards, 3; Polkinghorne, b. ## SECONDARY SCHOOLS LEAGUE FINAL.

The final of Cornwall Secondary Schools Cricket League was played on Truro College ground on Saturday, between Redruth County School and Liskeard County School. The Redruth boys won in handsome fashion, exceeding their opponents' total for the loss of only two wickets. The Liskeard innings closed after two hours and five minutes' play for 86. W. J. Martin took four wickets for 35 runs, and T. Harvey three for 26. The opening batsmen for Redruth, Nicholls and Colenso, batted quickly and the first wicket fell at 41, after 25 minutes' play. Colenso being caught at the wicket by Hill, Nicholls was joined by Blight, and the pair took the score to 70 when Nicholls was caught by Blamey after having scored 44, including five boundaries and three 3's. Bolitho followed, and the innings was declared closed without the loss of another wicket. The shield was presented to W. R. Nicholls, the Redruth captain, by Mr. G. H. Pascoe. Scores:—

CRICKET.

CORNWALL OUTPLAY
SURREY II.

WHITING IN GREAT FORM

Despite the fact that rain restricted cricket to a single day, Cornwall so completely outplayed Surrey II. at the Oval yesterday that they almost succeeded in forcing a victory.

Splendid batting by Shaw Baker, Rogers, and Addicott enabled Cornwall to declare at a quarter past four, and then, thanks to a formidable bowling feat by Whiting, Surrey were disposed of inside an hour and a half for 73. The home side were forced to follow on, requiring 195 to have the innings defeat, and when the game was given up they had lost two further wickets for 29 runs.

Cornwall take 3 points for a first innings lead.

FINE BOWLING FOR CORNWALL.

Whiting bowled unchanged in both innings, and, securing eight wickets in the first for 27, he came out with the wonderful record of ten wickets at a cost of 4 runs apiece.

Opening the Cornwall innings, Shaw Baker and Rogers made the most of their opportunity before the effects of the roller had worn off. Getting well out to the pitch of the ball, the batsmen used the drive and cut to such effect that in an hour and three-quarters they had 100 runs on the board. Punishing anything in the nature of a loose delivery, Rogers beat the amateur in the race for the individual 50, but the batsmen were level at 63, when the first wicket stand having produced 136 in rather more than two hours, Rogers fell to a catch at deep third man. As far as could be seen, Rogers gave nothing approaching a chance, and, obtaining the majority of his runs by well-timed strokes in front of the wicket, he hit eight 4's.

At lunch time Cornwall had scored 142 for the loss of one wicket, and soon after the resumption Shaw Baker left to a good running catch at mid-on. Second to leave, Shaw Baker made a flawless 70 out of 145 in 2½ hours. Clean hitting to leg accounted for most of his runs, and varying these strokes with pulls and drives, his most productive strokes were seven 4's. At 165 Tilling was beaten by a yorker, after which Cory and Addicott took part in a partnership that yielded 57 for the fourth wicket. Addicott, who got the ball to the boundary five times, went on to complete his 50, but with the total 266 for six the Cornwall captain declared.

SURREY MASTERED.

It was obvious when Surrey went in to bat that the pitch would favour the bowlers. Indeed, Whiting repeatedly made the ball get up straight from the pitch. In 50 minutes half the Surrey side were out for a paltry 34 runs. The sixth and seventh wickets fell at 39, but subsequently Wellings and Barnato made a few good hits, the former also showing capital form when Surrey went in for a second time.

Imparting a considerable amount of spin on the ball, Whiting had all the batsmen in difficulty, with his clever change of pace, and throughout his long service with the county the veteran has seldom bowled with greater accuracy. Scores:—

NOTABLE VICTORY BY CORNWALL

DORSET DEFEATED BY NINE WICKETS

Cornwall registered a notable victory by nine wickets over Dorset in the Minor Counties championship match at Bridport yesterday.

CRICKET.

CORNISH TEAM IN GOOD FORM.

WHITING'S GREAT BOWLING AGAINST SURREY SECONDS.

Excellent bowling by Whiting, and splendid batting by Shaw Baker, Addicoat and Rogers, enabled Cornwall completely to outplay Surrey II. at the Oval on Thursday. The match was, however, limited to one day, rain preventing any cricket being played on the first day, and Cornwall had to be content with three points for a first innings lead.

Cornwall batted first, and at half-past four declared with 268 for six wickets. Shaw Baker and Rogers opened the Cornwall innings, and made runs before the effect of the roller had worn off. Driving and cutting in an excellent manner, 100 runs were registered in an hour and three-quarters, Rogers reaching 50 before Shaw Baker, but they were level at 63, when Rogers fell to a catch at deep third man from Baldwin. The first wicket produced 136 runs in a little over two hours, Rogers hitting eight 4's in his 63.

At lunch time Cornwall had scored 142 for the loss of one wicket, and soon after the resumption Shaw Baker left to a good running catch at mid-on. Second to leave, Shaw Baker made 70 out of 145 in 24 hours. Clean hitting to leg accounted for most of his runs, and varying these strokes with pulls and drives, his most productive strokes were seven 4's. At 165 Tilly was beaten by a yorker, after which Cory and Addicoat took part in a partnership that yielded 57 for the fourth wicket. Addicoat, who got the ball to the boundary five times, went on to complete his 50, but with the total 268 for six the Cornwall captain declared.

When Surrey went in to bat it was obvious that the pitch would favour the bowlers. Whiting repeatedly made the ball get up straight from the pitch, and in 50 minutes five Surrey wickets were down for 34. The sixth and seventh wickets fell at 39, but Wellings and Barnato put on a few, the latter also doing well when Surrey batted a second time.

Whiting had all the batsmen in difficulties, and at the end of the first innings he had eight wickets for 27. He took two for 13 in Surrey's second knock, and thus came out with the excellent record of 10 wickets for 40 runs. Scores:—

Cornwall. — 1st innings — C. Shaw Baker, c Cole, b Baldwin, 70; Rogers, c Mobey, b Baldwin, 63; A. M. Tilly, b O'Gorman, 15; Cory, c Gover, b O'Gorman, 32; W. J. Addicoat, not out, 60; S. ## CRICKET GOSSIP.

(By LEG-BYE).

The Camborne Club during the past week has sustained a great loss through the unexpected death of Mr. E. C. Wills, one of their official umpires. Mr. Wills has acted in this capacity for the past two seasons, having previously acted as umpire for the Koholland Club. He was a very keen enthusiast of the game, but never allowed his keenness to get the better part of his decisions, which were well received by home and away teams alike. His early death is regretted and as a mark of appreciation and esteem the flag on the cricket ground at Roskear on Saturday was flown at half-mast.

THE COUNTY TOUR.

All things considered, the County XI. have had quite a good week, and having had the good fortune to win the toss in all their games, have made quite a good number of runs; in fact, quite as many as anyone could have hoped or wished for.

After their disastrous start against Devon at Plymouth, there was a kind of feeling about that the tour from a playing standpoint might not prove the success that was hoped for, but these feelings were quickly put at rest after the second day's play at the Oval, where the Surrey 2nd XI. were completely outplayed.

The team's performance at the Oval will stand out as one of the best perhaps for many seasons to come. The Surrey 2nd XI. on paper was a formidable side, and Cornwall could scarcely have hoped to have got them out for such a small total as 73 runs. Perhaps in accomplishing this fact the Cornishmen left behind them the indelible impression that although it is a long way from Cornwall to the Oval, there is after all in Cornwall a team that is not to be despised, and that fixtures in the future between the two teams will not be so difficult to arrange as has been the case in the past.

Although Cornwall's superiority in this game was so pronounced, the fact must not be overlooked that this was brought about chiefly through the Cornish captain winning the toss of the coin. As a result the Surrey 2nd XI., strong as its batting was, was at a great disadvantage in struggling for runs on a pitch that was always drying under a hot sun.

Incidentally, this was exactly what happened at Plymouth in the Devon game, and had Cornwall succeeded in winning the toss in that game, Devon might easily have found themselves in the same position as Cornwall did. Anyhow, it's all in the game, but it goes to show how a game can be decided on the luck of the toss.

Whilst the home county has enjoyed a week of fair weather, it has been another story where the county team has been travelling. At Monmouth on Wednesday and Thursday rain entirely spoilt the game, and this game Cornwall might have won had it been played out, as their lead was quite commanding when play was abandoned.

It was the same story of rain being the spoiler at Reading for the game with Berkshire. Only an hour's play was possible on the first day, and in this time Cornwall scored 64 runs for the loss of one wicket. This proved to be the end of the match, for on Saturday not a ball was bowled.

Looking back over the tour, the outstanding feature was certainly Whiting's bowling at the Oval. Ten wickets for 40 runs against a team like the Surrey 2nd XI. speaks for itself, and it is doubtful if in his long county career Whiting has ever bowled better.

C. Shaw Baker also showed that he is still a batsman to be reckoned with, and in the matches with Surrey and Monmouth he certainly showed his best form for the season. To play in a county match on the Oval is an honour which rarely falls to the lot of Cornishmen, and W. J. Addicoat and G. Rogers will be able to look back with pleasure on this notable ground.

George Rogers has been one of the outstanding successes of the tour, and his batting has served the county well. In both the Surrey and Monmouth games he exceeded the 50, and would probably have done so in the Berkshire game had it not been abandoned.

Rogers' batting this year has been extremely consistent. Already his aggregate is over 900, and that he will pass the 1,000 mark is a foregone conclusion. By the end of the season, if he can maintain his present form, he will probably reach a figure that will take some beating.

The tour was concluded at Dorset on Tuesday, and the team will travel home to-day.

Three home matches have to be played against Dorset at Liskeard, Monmouth at Penzance, and Berkshire at Camborne, and then the county programme comes to an end.

CAMBORNE v. INDIAN QUEENS.

A very interesting match took place on the Camborne ground at Roskear on Wednesday evening, Indian Queens being the visitors. Although the home team was not by any means at full strength, it proved altogether too strong for the visiting side, who only succeeded in dismissing two of the home players. Barring first, the visitors were all dismissed for 57 runs, and the home team replied with 258 for loss of only two wickets. Scores:—

Indian Queens—H. Brenton, b W. Rogers, 2; P. Strongman, b W. Rogers, 0; S. Squance, b R. J. Holman, 7; W. Prisk, et Colquhoun, b Holman, 3; H. Kessell, et Colquhoun, b W. Rogers, 11; H. ## LISKEARD v. CAMBORNE.

Camborne paid their first visit to Liskeard on August Bank Holiday, and won easily by an innings and 18 runs. For Camborne, W. Rogers in the first innings took eight wickets for 18 runs, the home team being quite unable to stand up to his bowling. Camborne's start was none too good, and seven wickets were down for 87 runs, but a capital partnership by W. Rogers and J. Peters took the score to 187 before the next wicket fell. At their second venture Liskeard made 102. During the match W. Rogers took 15 wickets for 65 runs, and scored 48. Scores:—

Liskeard.—1st innings—T. Rundle, c Mill, b Rogers, 14; H. F. Taylor, b Rogers, 32; A. F. W. Humphreys, lbw, b Rogers, 4; K. Foster, b Rogers, 8; K. Highland, c Mill, b Rogers, 4; J. Bidgood, c G. ## CAMBORNE v. TROON.

Camborne and Troon indulged in a friendly match at Roskear on Saturday. The game ended in a draw, Troon having lost nine wickets when stumps were drawn. A feature of the game was the splendid wicket-keeping of R. Dunn for Troon, who never conceded a bye until the last ball of the innings. Scores:—

Camborne—R. J. Holman, c Dower, b Barnes, 2; J. C. Colquhoun, c Dower, Barnes, 69; W. Toms, b Thomas, 14; H. Bond, b Thomas, 4; F. Rogers, c Carter, b Thomas, 4; H. D. ## TWO RUNS DIFFERENCE AT REDRUTH.

On Saturday at Trewirgie the Redruth 2nd XI., after an exciting finish, succeeded in beating Trewellard by the small margin of two runs, Redruth's score reaching 106, and Trewellard's 103.

Redruth batted first, and began rather badly, four wickets falling for 15 runs, but W. Clook (32) and P. J. Herbert (19 not out) made splendid efforts, and enabled the home team to reach the century. For Trewellard the best scorers were W. C. Evans (33), C. W. May (32), and W. Traizen (10). For Redruth, C. Clark took three wickets for 23 runs.

HUGE TRURO SCORE.

In a match for the benefit of Bradley, the City pro., at Truro on Saturday, Truro beat St. Just by four wickets and 229 runs. Green and Hambly, who became associated at the fall of Truro's first wicket, reduced 188 runs between them. Green scoring 114 and Hambly 74. St. Just were all out for 43, Hambly taking five wickets for 11 runs, and Bradley three for eight. Scores:—

Truro—R. A. Green, c Lawley, b Maddern, 114; J. O. Haye, b Dungey, 10; R. S. Hambly, b Polgreen, 74; J. C. Elliott, not out, 17; Bradley, b Polgreen, 36; A. E. Buzza, b Polgreen, 0; J. Sheering, b Polgreen, 4; A. Lugg not out, 7; extras, 10; total (6 wkts.), 272 (declared).

THE LEAGUE FINAL.

St. Austell are to be congratulated on entering the final for the first time in their career, and considering that the team has only been reformed a couple of seasons, this is indeed a good performance.

Like Camborne, the finalists in the Western section, St. Austell made sure of appearing in the final by their consistent form early in the season, but it was a bit unfortunate as soon as they accomplished this they should go and lose their first game of the season, which they did on Saturday last to Callington. This all goes to prove the uncertainty of the game.

St. Austell can take it for granted that they are faced with a formidable task in meeting Camborne in the final, but there is nothing sure in cricket, and they might easily spring a surprise. There is one thing certain—that their entry for the first time in the history of the League final is sure to be a big attraction, and if they can forget the importance of the occasion when the match is played, there is no reason why they should not give quite a good account of themselves.

THE JUNIOR LEAGUE

Trewellard with a five point over their nearest rivals look certain winners of the Junior League, but by dropping two points at Redruth on Saturday they placed themselves in the position of standing a chance to be overtaken, especially as they have more than one away match to play before the issue is settled. If they drop another match, then the position for leadership will become very open.

A claim for points by Trewellard because of the failure of St. Just 2nd XI. to arrive on the ground in time has resulted in the League Committee ordering this game to be replayed.

CORNWALL'S FINE DISPLAY AGAINST SURREY 2nd XI.

Cornwall gave a sparkling display against Surrey 2nd XI. at the Oval, on Thursday, completely outplaying the Surreyites. Play was restricted to one day, owing to rain on the first day of the match. The veteran Whiting performed wonderfully with the ball, taking eight Surrey wickets for 27 runs in the first innings. During his long service with the county, Whiting has seldom bowled better, and he had all the batsmen in difficulty with his good length deliveries and clever change of pace. Cornwall knocked up 268 runs for the loss of six wickets and declared, and Surrey were disposed of for the paltry score of 73. Being compelled to follow on, Surrey lost two wickets for 29 runs. The result was a draw, Cornwall taking three points for leading on the first innings. G. Shaw Baker, George Rogers, W. J. Addicott, and Cory all batted well for Cornwall. When Surrey went in to bat the pitch favoured the bowlers, and in less than an hour half the side were out for 34 runs, and the innings closed for 73. Following on, Surrey had two wickets down for 29. Scores:—

CORNWALL'S MATCH WITH BERKSHIRE ABANDONED

Heavy rain so much delayed the start in the match between Cornwall and Berkshire at Reading on Friday, that the first day's play did not begin until 2.20 p.m. Cornwall won the toss, and electing to bat first sent in H. Tressawna and C. Shaw Baker to face R. F. J. Remnant and Relf (R.). Runs came slowly on a wicket that distinctly favoured the bowlers. After 20 minutes' play Baker cut a fast ball from Relf into De Vitre's hands at first slip, the total was nine, of which seven had been contributed by Baker. Rogers joined Tressawna at the wicket, and both batsmen treated the bowling with respect, and at the end of an hour Cornwall had only 35 runs on the board. To this Rogers and Tressawna had each contributed 13. When the score reached 50, Rodney Palmer and the Berkshire captain, Dr. W. Y. Woodburn took over the bowling. In his first over Palmer sent down several loose balls, which were severely punished by Rogers who twice hit him to the boundary. At 3.35 p.m., when the score was 64, heavy rain came on again and play was stopped at the end of Woodburn's first over. As rain continued to fall at 5 p.m., the umpires drew stumps and play was abandoned for the day.

On Saturday cricket was impossible in consequence of rain, and the match had to be abandoned. Scores:—

Cornwall passed the Dorset total by seven runs, and had four wickets to fall when stumps were drawn. ## COUNTY CRICKET AT LISKEARD.

CORNWALL V. DORSET.

IRRESISTIBLE LISKEARD BOWLERS.

The single annual county cricket fixture allotted to East Cornwall was again played on the splendid Liskeard ground on Wednesday and yesterday, and once again the popular Dorset team were the visitors. Happily the promise of bad weather on Tuesday was not fulfilled, the sun shining brightly all day, and the game being full of incident, and typical cricket fluctuations. Starting with the advantage of first knock on a slow wicket Cornwall made a good beginning with sixty on the board for the loss of Tresawna before lunch, but the batting practically broke down later, and only Cory dealt with it with real confidence until playing on. The others to reach double figures did so in a very unconvincing style, Baker's 58—top score for the day—taking him over two hours and being marred by bad timing, lack of enterprise and several very narrow escapes. Tresawna was let off behind the wicket at 35 and was never comfortable, whereas Cory was very aggressive, his hits including a six into the stand and three other boundaries. Wallace shaped well until called by Cory for too short a run and Webster lived up the tail by some long-handed stuff.

The comparative failure of the home batsmen was due to consistently good bowling by Harrison, Jowett and Bean. Gaining some help from the wicket as the sun dried it, they got a lot of spin on the ball, but possibly fuller advantage might have been taken of some loose ones sent down. The Dorset fielding was generally clean, although Elderton and Tabor both missed catches which either would usually hold without trouble.

KENDALL'S REMARKABLE BOWLING.

The home innings closed at 4 p.m. and after tea, Dorset sent in Knight and Bean to face Kendall and Whiting, the form from the road end and having the advantage of the north-west breeze. Adopting a leg-trap Kendall soon played havoc with those facing him. At five Knight was easily taken by mid-on standing close in and with the score unchanged Tabor was bowled. The aggressive Busk followed and showed that hitting paid by going all out for anything in the least over-pitched. With Bean keeping his end up, the score rose very rapidly to 45-40 for the partnership—before Whiting sent Bean back and then Kendall got rid of Sumner, Freeman, Elderton and Bower in a couple of overs. The first three were all l.b.w. but Busk meanwhile went on with his merry knock and although giving some hard chances of catches did invaluable service. He landed Whiting against the field hedge for a 6, and in his 46, sent six other balls to the boundary. He was ninth to leave and Harrison was warmly applauded for his boundary and two 2's, his plucky cricketer wielding his bat single-handed. Whiting finished off the innings and the Liskeard bowlers came out with splendid analysis. Kendall at one time bowling six overs for 2 runs and taking 6 wickets for 16.

CORNWALL'S BATTING BREAKS DOWN.

Cornwall started their second innings with the useful lead of 88 but in the hour before stumps were drawn lost Tresawna, Baker and Rogers for 36, Wallace, 8, and Stephens, 0 being the not-outs. Tresawna got in front of a straight one at 8, Rogers again failed with the total at 27 and Baker, who had played very much for safety, was bowled off his pads at 33.

THURSDAY'S ABRUPT ENDING.

Yesterday Cornwall resumed their innings with a lead of 124 runs and 7 wickets in hand, the overnight not-outs, J. P. Wallace (8) and S. Stephens (0), facing the attack of Harrison and Jowett. The wicket, thanks to a fresh wind, had dried considerably, but runs came very slowly. After scoring two, Stephens survived an appeal for l.b.w. in the fourth over off Harrison's bowling. Both batsmen played cautiously, the fielding being exceptionally keen, and with only nine runs added, Wallace fell to a fine catch by Bean at mid-on. In the next over Stephens was caught at the wicket by Elderton, five for 45. Cory and W. J. Addicoat then got together, but the bowlers were still on top, and play had been in progress 45 minutes before the St. Just man got the first boundary, an off drive along the ground. In the next over, however, he was clean bowled by Jowett, 6 wickets being down for 55. Cory enlisted matters with a nice boundary hit, Oldnall just getting one hand to the ball, but failing to hold it. Bean then relieved Harrison at the road end, and Rust found the bowling to his liking, scoring six off two successive balls, while in the next over Cory got a boundary off Jowett. The pro., however, was Bean's first victim, skying a ball, which Sumner held nicely, the telegraph reading 7 for 76. With only one added Rust had his middle stump knocked out of the ground by one of Jowett's "submarines," and the Liskeard bowlers offered little resistance, the whole side being out just after noon for the meagre total of 78.

DORSET'S ONE-MAN INNINGS.

Left to get 167 runs to win, Dorset began disastrously, Kendall clean bowling Bean and Tabor in the first over, without a run being scored. When Busk joined Bower, however, the early rot was stopped, Bower hitting a six and two 4's off Whiting, and Busk two 4's off Kendall. The partnership added 32, when Busk cocked up an easy one to Stephens at square leg. Sumner did not stay long, the Liskeard pro. sending him back to the pavilion with a good ball, but Bower played beautiful cricket, his innings being as good as any seen on the ground for years. He scored freely all around the wicket, and before one o'clock reached his half-century. Webster then relieved Whiting, but the score continued to mount steadily until at 86 Bower fell to a magnificent running catch in the deep field by Rogers off Webster. In an invaluable knock of 62, Bower hit two 6's and seven 4's. Whiting then went on again in the place of Webster, and soon captured Elderton's wicket, Rogers bringing off a spectacular catch in the country. The seventh fell soon after at 93, and again Rogers was responsible, Freeman being the victim of another brilliant catch in the deep, again off Whiting's bowling. Kendall then caught and bowled Oldnall, the score board reading 99-8-2. Jowett sent the hundred up with a straight drive to the boundary off Kendall, but Whiting bowled him in the next over, and Dorset were all out before lunch for 104, Cornwall winning by 62 runs.

LOCAL PLAYERS' DOINGS.

Local interest naturally centred in the doings of the East Cornwall players, and S. L. Stephens, of St. Cleor, was closely watched. Although his contribution to the score was not large, yet he did as well as many more experienced bats, and if he had a greater command of strokes his careful watching of the ball would make him a very useful member of the team. In the field he was clean and accurate, on Wednesday his neat work earning more than one round of applause.

A glance at the analysis will show the value of Kendall and Whiting, and without these two the county would be in a difficult corner, for it is from their bowling more than batting strength that victories must come. Both were in splendid form throughout the two days, and the collection of over £8 on Wednesday for Whiting was another tribute to the professional's popularity.

CORNWALL v. MONMOUTH.

Cornwall and Monmouth opened their 100 days' match, in connection with the Minor Counties Championship at Penzance, on Friday.

The weather was ideal.

H. Tresawna, the Cornish skipper, was unable to play, and his place was taken by J. P. Wallace, who played for Cornwall against Dorset at Liskeard on the previous day. J. C. Baker and Ollerearnshaw came into the Cornish side, and the place which had been left vacant was filled by J. Webster, who had also played in the preceding match.

The Cornish team was J. P. Wallace, C. Shaw Baker, J. C. Baker, S. Rust, P. H. Kendall, W. J. Addicott, Whiting, Cory, Rogers (G.), Ollerearnshaw, and J. Webster. C. Shaw Baker captained the home side.

Monmouth—K. C. Raikes, G. A. Webb, Wilcox, H. Jones, A. R. Ralph, T. B. Williams, L. Lewis, H. R. Siddall, R. Perks, Harris (K.), H. G. Spary.

Monmouth won the toss and opened with Raikes and Webb. Both men opened steadily, though Webb was getting the bulk of the runs. Whiting and Kendall took up the bowling. The fielding on the home side was smart, and Rogers was early prominent with a very smart return, which struck the wickets. Runs came at a fair pace, and the first half-hour yielded 30 runs. Both men appeared to be getting set, but a few minutes later a separation was brought about, Raikes being caught by J. C. Baker off Kendall, when he had scored 5. Monmouth's total then being 35.

Wilcox filled the vacancy, and two runs later, Webb was smartly taken behind the wickets by Rust, off Whiting for a well played 24. Monmouth's score was now 57-2-24.

Ralph filled Webb's place, and after a very short stay was finely caught and bowled by Whiting for 2-43-3-2.

Williams joined Wilcox, but the game had taken a bad turn for the visitors. For the new batsman skied a ball off Whiting and was finely caught by Webster-55-4-6.

Lewis then joined Wilcox. The latter, who had shaped well, did not remain much longer, succumbing to a beautiful catch by Wallace off Whiting after having made 10-59-5-10.

Lewis went a minute or two later, being caught by Webster off Whiting for 8-67-6-8.

H. R. Siddall and Harris then became associated, but Harris was caught by Wallace off Kendall without scoring-68-7-0.

Monmouth had taken the field without Jones and Perks, so that when Spary joined Siddall they represented Monmouth's last wicket.

In half an hour Monmouth had lost five wickets. It was now neck or nothing with Monmouth, and these men hit freely. After a little time, Siddall gave a very difficult running chance to Addicott, but the latter just failed to take the ball.

The innings closed at one o'clock for a total of 90.

A remarkable feature of Monmouth's innings was the fact that all the batsmen were caught.

CORNWALL AT THE WICKETS.

Cornwall opened their innings with C. Shaw Baker and Rogers (G.), to the bowling of Spary and Raikes. J. V. Bentley and Ollerearnshaw fielded for the visitors. Scoring was slow at the start, and only 10 runs had been scored when the lunch interval came. Of these Baker had made 4, Rogers 2, and there were 4 extras.

Shaw Baker and Rogers resumed Cornwall's innings after lunch. Baker took up the scoring, Rogers being unable to get going. The score was taken to 29, when Rogers was lbw, to Raikes, after having made only 3-29-1-5. Cory joined Shaw Baker, and runs came fairly freely, the half century being hoisted with twenty minutes' play after lunch. The score went up quite rapidly, but when 74 runs had been scored Shaw Baker was bowled by Harris for 57-74-2-37.

As often happens when a fairly long partnership has been broken, a further disaster soon follows, and this proved so in this case. Addicott filled Baker's place, and in the first over of the new pair, Cory was caught by a substitute fielder for a quickly played 26-76-3-26.

Wallace joined Addicott. Wallace and Addicott got going at once. Wallace has a fine touch, and hit freely. Addicott also adding his quota, and the century went up amid applause at 3.15. Seeing that Cornwall had been batting only about an hour and a quarter, the scoring had been lively.

Wallace continued to hit with force and freedom, and was loudly applauded when with a boundary hit he scored his half century. This proved a prodigious stand, Wallace's play being delightful to watch, but when 165 had been totalled, Addicott was dismissed with a catch by a substitute fielder for 13-165-4-19.

J. C. Baker joined Wallace, who signalled the former's appearance with a boundary, followed by a 6. In the next over, however, he cocked up an easy one, from Lewis, which the bowler took. His brilliant innings of 79 included ten 4's and a 6-182-5-79.

Past joined J. C. Baker, and it thus became a Penzance wicket. Play now slowed down, but the second century was raised at 4.5 p.m. Soon after J. Baker was lbw to Spary for 6-246-6-6. Ollerearnshaw joined Rust, but was caught behind the wicket by Harris off his first ball.

Webster filled the vacancy and opened well with a couple of boundaries. Just after 2.50 had been signalled Webster was beautifully bowled.

Rust continued to add to his total, and with Webster's dismissal the tea interval came.

Rust was out after lunch without adding to his total of 29. Whiting had filled Webster's place, and Kendall and he were the final pair. Both men hit out with freedom, and the last stand added no fewer than 52 runs. Each man included a 5 in his score. The innings closed about 5.30 for the fine total of 289.

This left Monmouth with an hour's play. Their start was a bit shaky, Raikes leaving without scoring when he had been hoisted. Webb took his score to 15-30-2-15. Then Wilcox and Siddall became associated. Wilcox was batting very steadily and put on 24, but when Wilcox left, he found very poor support. Raikes and Williams being dismissed without scoring. Williams was dismissed with the last ball of the day. Siddall was then 27 not out 27, and the total for 5 wickets was 93.

Monmouth have an uphill-almost impossible task to face to-day. Saturday. But cricket is uncertain, and if the two above have turned up and bat, no one can forecast what will happen—particularly if rain intervenes. Scores—

CORNWALL v. DORSET.

The match in the Minor Counties Championship between Cornwall and Dorset at Liskeard was concluded on Thursday, and ended in a win for Cornwall by 67 runs.

In their second innings on Wednesday, Cornwall had scored 36 for the loss of three wickets, and it was only by extreme care that Cornwall were able no fewer than 62.

This left Dorset 167 runs to win—a seemingly not impossible task, but too great, as it proved, for the visitors, for out of their total of 104, Bower made no fewer than 62.

Whiting and Perdall again shared the bowling honours for Cornwall, the former taking 5 wickets for 48 runs, and the latter 4 for 41. Scores—

CAMBORNE POLICE BADLY BEATEN.

W. ROGERS'S 139 FOR C.M.T.

An interesting game between the Police of the Camborne Division and the Cornwall Motor Transport Co. was played on the Roskear ground on Thursday afternoon. The Police had the assistance of A. D. Escott, of the Erdington Club, Birmingham, and formerly of Camborne, W. B. Frayn, and F. Rogers of the Camborne XI. Wesley Hawke, a former Town skipper, Detective Sgt. Sharring, of the G.W.R. Co., and Constable Fleet of the Metropolitan Police. The C.M.T. had the services of W. Rogers, the Camborne pro, and groundsman. Taking first knock the Police notched 194, which included no fewer than 32 extras! Constable Boswetherick was top scorer with 39 not out, and Constable Matthews (Pool), who has rendered fine service to the Redruth Club, contributed 21. Inspector Warné, whilst practising just before the match, was struck in the face with a ball, damaging his eye.

The C.M.T. opened their innings against Matthews and Hawke. In the second over Beard was caught by F. Rogers off Matthews with only two to his credit. T. Rowe and the Camborne pro. were partners, and the latter was given a "life" before he opened his score. The total reached 30 before Rowe fell a victim to F. Rogers. Burley was the next to go in, and with the score at 57, Escott bowled vice Hawke, and Fleet vice Matthews. The batsmen became set and a century was soon registered. Another change of bowling seemed to have no effect and Rogers was given a second "life" by Fleet in the long field. The partnership was dissolved with the score at 120, Burley being bowled by Hawke with 14 to his credit. When the telegraph read 175 Snell was sent back. Rogers continued to score at a fast pace, and the game ended in a victory for the C.M.T. for five wickets and 21 runs. The Camborne pro. was not out with 139. Scores:—

CRICKET.

CORNWALL'S REMARKABLE WIN.

EXCELLENT BOWLING AGAINST DORSET AT LISKEARD.

Cornwall won a rather remarkable game from Dorset at Liskeard on Wednesday and Thursday in connection with the Minor Counties cricket championship by 62 runs. The Cornish side included two newcomers, J. C. B. Webster (St. Austell) and J. P. Wallace (Newquay).

The Cornish captain, H. Tresawna, won the toss, and elected to bat first. He and C. Shaw Baker opened the innings against the bowling of A. N. Harrison and C. J. Jowett. They soon got the measure of the attack, and 60 runs were scored before Tabor caught Tresawna, who scored 23, at silly point off Oldnall.

Cory and Baker then started hitting out, and after Baker had hit two 4's, Cory hit a six into the grandstand. Following the dismissal of Cory and Baker, by Jowett, who, with Harrison and Bean, were getting the ball off the pitch with great pace, a remarkable collapse came. Cornwall were 100 for two wickets, and were all out for 170. They had to fight for runs, and Webster (14), who scored two 4's and a 2 in succession, was the only one to withstand the attack. Harrison bowled Addicott for seven, and Webster was well caught by Freeman in the deep field off Bean. Kendall, last man in, was stumped by the Dorset captain without scoring, and the innings closed for 170.

KENDALL IN GREAT FORM.

Some excellent bowling was seen in the Dorset innings, for Kendall was on the top of his form, and sent back five Dorset men before 60 was reached. The later batsmen hit out, which resulted in Jowett being caught by Cory off Whiting, and the innings closed for 82. R. Bush (46) and C. H. Bean (15) were the only Dorset men to reach double figures. Kendall came out with the splendid analysis of six wickets for 80 runs, whilst Whiting took four for 45.

Cornwall commenced their second innings with a lead of 88 runs, and when stump were drawn had 36 runs for three wickets, to which Baker contributed 20 and Tresawna five. The Camborne pro, G. Rogers, was caught by Elderton off Harrison without scoring, and in the first innings he was bowled by Harrison after scoring a single, but on Thursday he shone in the field, and made three brilliant catches.

Wallace and Stephens resumed on a wicket that had dried considerably overnight in a fresh breeze, and were obliged to play carefully, taking the score from 36 to 45. Cory and Rust batted well, but were unable to do anything against the Dorset attack. The score reached 76 for seven wickets, and two were added for the eighth, making the total 78. This remained, for the last two Cornishmen failed to open their account.

Requiring 167 runs to win, Dorset opened poorly, Bean and Tabor being clean bowled without a run scored in the first over by Kendall, who found the pitch admirably suited to him. Bower and Bush, however, compiled 32 before their partnership was ended by the latter putting up an easy catch to Stephens at square leg. Confidence was shown by Bower, who hit out freely and scored a valuable 52 towards the fifth wicket total of 86, when he sent a low drive towards the boundary. Rogers ran for the ball and took it in spectacular style. This was practically the end for Dorset, the remaining wickets being taken very cheaply. Rogers being responsible for the dismissal of two further batsmen with brilliant catches, the innings finishing at 104, giving Cornwall victory by 62 runs.

ANOTHER COUNTY VICTORY.

NINE-WICKET DEFEAT OF MONMOUTH AT PENANCE.

Cornwall followed up their victory against Dorset at Liskeard on Wednesday and Thursday by beating Monmouth by nine wickets at St. Clare, Penance, on Friday and Saturday.

Monmouth batted first with nine men, H. Jones and R. Perks having failed to put in an appearance, and were all out before the luncheon interval for 90 runs, all the batsmen being caught. Raikes and Webb put on 35 in half-an-hour before a fine overhead catch by J. C. Baker sent Raikes back. Six wickets were down for 67 runs, and only one run was added before the sixth fell. The last wicket, the eighth, produced 23 runs.

C. S. Baker, who acted as captain in the place of H. Tresawna, and G. Rogers opened the Cornwall innings, and scored 10 before lunch, and after the interval Rogers scored one before he was out lbw to Raikes. Cory joined Baker, and a productive partnership ended with Baker being bowled by Harris at 74. The 100 was reached an hour after lunch, and 89 was put on the fourth wicket. The feature of the innings was the excellent 79 by J. P. Wallace (Newquay), the innings closing for 289.

Webb and Raikes opened Monmouth's second innings, but Raikes was dismissed before opening his account, and the fifth wicket fell to the last ball of the day, the total, being 96.

Came together soon after the dismissal of make up for lost time on Saturday. They came together soon after the dismissal of Siddall, who scored 54, and runs came rapidly, a fine boundary by Perks taking Monmouth's score beyond the Cornish total. He was missed at 49 by Kendall, but could not survive a double change in the bowling, and was stumped, after scoring 52, from Baker's bowling.

Cornwall scored the necessary runs for the loss of one wicket before lunch, and won by nine wickets. Scores:—

CORNWALL'S GOOD POSITION.

By winning two home games last week Cornwall advanced to a very satisfactory position in the League table of the Minor Counties championship, and this position will be greatly improved if they can manage to win against Berkshire in their final game of the season, which will take place on the Camborne ground on Monday and Tuesday next.

Berkshire at present head the League table, and are in the enviable position of not having lost a single game. That they are a strong combination there is no doubt, and if Cornwall can win it will indeed be a very creditable performance. Berkshire are bringing a very strong side on tour, and their XI at Camborne will be as follows:—W. Y. Woodburn (capt.), R. H. R. Palmer, H. L. Lewis, F. S. Buckley, P. F. Remnant, P. G. E. Nash, J. Rowland, D. W. Stokes, R. C. H. Human, G. Sayles Relf (R.).

Cornwall are making three changes from the side that defeated Monmouth, H. Tresawna (capt.), B. Williams and Rogers (W.), displacing K. B. Webster, Ollerenshaw and J. C. Baker. The Cornish side is:—H. Tresawna, C. Shaw Baker, S. Rust, J. P. Wallace, W. J. Addicott, B. Williams, H. L. Kendall, Rogers (W.), Rogers (G.), Cory and Whiting.

K. C. B. Webster against Monmouth was not a success. He failed completely to get any length whilst bowling, and his passing over is not a surprise. Besides there is no reason whatever why the side should carry two fast bowlers unless there was a distinct possibility of such players getting a fair share of runs, and in this respect neither Webster or Ollerenshaw have come up to expectations.

The Penance professional from a county standpoint has been a disappointment this year, having failed completely to produce the form that was expected of him. The inclusion of W. Rogers in his place in the Berkshire match will prove a very popular change, as the Camborne player is in splendid form just now, and on his own ground should give a good account of himself.

GOOD WIN AGAINST MONMOUTH.

Cornwall had no difficulty in defeating Monmouth at Penance over the weekend, and the only surprise was that Monmouth were not beaten in a single innings, as they were in a hopeless position when play finished on Friday evening. Indeed, if there was another half-an-hour left for play this is what would probably have happened, as in the first innings Monmouth only batted with nine men, and at the close of play six were again out.

To say the least, it was most surprising on Friday morning to find a county match commencing with two players short, and the Monmouth captain was quite at a loss to give any explanation for such players' absence. This handicap naturally placed the visitors in a bad position, and their batting was so feeble that they were quite unable to recover themselves.

Cornwall got a good total, and the rest batting undoubtedly came from J. P. Wallace, the Newquay, or rather Camborne bridge player. Wallace, who played in the Cambridge trials this year, is at present at Newquay, and his display, which yielded him 79 runs, had the effect of putting the crowd in a splendid humour. His batting was crisp and delightful to watch. The loose ball was never allowed to go unpunished, and his runs were collected in a remarkably short time. If Wallace can maintain such form, and Cornwall can retain his services, then the county has indeed a capture.

There was another episode in Cornwall's batting chapter which was enjoyed by the crowd, and that was when Kendall and Whiting were together for a last wicket partnership, which actually put together 52 runs. Both players went on the bowling in great style, and Kendall was as keen in getting runs that several times in his eagerness he narrowly escaped being run out. It all added to the excitement, and provided a fitting ending a good innings.

The two missing batsmen turned up on Saturday morning, and although their presence only meant prolonging the innings, Monmouth could not regain the ground they had lost the previous day. Cornwall were only set to get 11 runs to win, and these were obtained or the loss of Whiting's wicket.

HELSTON DEFEAT THE LIZARD.

Helston XI. visited the Lizard on Friday, and dismissed the home side, which was reinforced by several gentlemen on holiday in the district, for 39 runs. ## THE JUNIOR LEAGUE.

The Junior League was carried another stage on Saturday, when Camborne 2nd XI. increased their advantage by defeating Leedstown.

With the chance of winning the cup, Camborne put up their best performance of the season by scoring 288 runs for the loss of six wickets, and then dismissing Leedstown for just over 50. Incidentally, this is the highest score made on the Camborne ground this season by the home club, and J. Wills reached his 100 for the first time since he has been playing for the Camborne Club.

No League cricket, at all events of any importance, took place on Saturday, but a few of the clubs were engaged in friendly matches. Very little interest was shown, however, in the games—another proof that League cricket must be played if the game is to keep its hold on the general public.

At Troon, where Camborne were the visitors, some very low scoring was witnessed. Troon batted first, but against the bowling of J. E. Dawn could make little headway, and were all dismissed for 52 runs. Dawn repeated his performance at Camborne a few weeks ago by again clean bowling six of the Troon batsmen for 18 runs. Camborne's batting was a little better, but not much, and the whole side could only muster 85.

CORNWALL'S GREAT VICTORY
OVER MONMOUTH

Fresh from their fine victory over Dorset, Cornwall entered with confidence on their match with Monmouth at Penzance on Friday and Saturday, and obtained a decisive win, beating the Welsh team by nine wickets. Monmouth had the bad luck of having to play the whole of Friday without two of their team, Jones and Perks failing to catch the train to travel with the other members of the team. Two Penzance players fielded as substitutes. Fine bowling by Kendall and Whiting, backed up by really keen work in the field, brought about the dismissal of Monmouth for 90, Cornwall replying with 289 the features of which were a brilliant display by J. P. Wallace, who was brought in in Tregawna's place, and an exciting last wicket stand by Kendall and Whiting. In their second innings Monmouth, aided by the arrival of the two absentees of the previous day, made 208, leaving Cornwall to get ten to win. Cricket ended at one o'clock on Saturday with a nine wickets win for Cornwall.

Monmouth won the toss and elected to bat, but they made a sorry display against the bowling of the veteran Whiting and Kendall. These two bowlers bowled unchanged, sent down 36 overs, were irresistible, and captured eight wickets between them for only 81 runs. Whiting had his usual five—for just over eight runs apiece, and Kendall three for 39. G. A. Webb (24) and H. R. Siddall (15 not out), were the only batsmen to offer any serious resistance to the bowling. The Cornish work in the field was good.

With a total of 90 only to face, Cornwall had nothing formidable before them, and although they lost a wicket at 29 there was no need for any anxiety. Shaw Baker, who was captaining the Cornish side in the absence of Tregawna, opened the innings with George Rogers not long before the lunch interval, and began to collect runs steadily. When he had scored only three, Rogers was out l.b.w. Cory came in, and there was every prospect of a prolonged stand, both playing the bowling with confidence. They carried the score to 74 adding 45, when Baker was unexpectedly bowled. The Welshmen got another wicket quickly, Cory being caught by one of the two substitutes with only two more runs added. Both Shaw Baker and Cory had batted very well to make 37 and 27 respectively when the bowling was at the top of its form. J. P. Wallace and W. J. Addicott were the two fresh batsmen, and we saw the liveliest cricket for the day. They got right under the bowling in most enterprising fashion. Wallace especially being aggressive. He drove hard and clean, making the attack look very mediocre. The 100 soon went up. Wallace reached his 50 with a mighty hit to the boundary which the outfield could not stop. When he had scored 19, Addicott, the 81. Just player, skied a ball from the new bowler, Lewis, and was out. For the fourth wicket 89 runs had been put on, of which Wallace had scored nearly 70. Jack Baker joined Wallace, who went on to smite the bowling, bringing off a great drive out of the ground for the ball to descend on to the roof of a saloon motor car in the car park. He was tempted to repeat the dose, but did not get hold of the ball and was caught and bowled by Lewis. Wallace had played a brilliant innings for 79, in the making of which he hit a six and ten 4's.

With five wickets in hand, Cornwall were 92 runs on. The rate of scoring decreased considerably with Rust joining Jack Baker, but they brought off some good running, and sent up the 200, despite frequent bowling changes. Six were added to the 200 when Jack Baker was out l.b.w. Without addition Ollerearnshaw was given out to a catch about which there seemed some doubt, but Rust and Webster went on to increase the score to 232 before Webster's wicket was broken. After the tea interval Whiting went out with Rust, when the latter, with only a single added, was smartly stumped in trying to play a ball to leg. There was only one more wicket to fall, but this proved a very costly affair for the Welshmen, for both Whiting and Kendall set about the attack in very aggressive mood, and made a grand stand of 56 for the last wicket, Kendall getting 29, and Whiting 23 not out. In making 289, Cornwall had secured a lead of 199.

At half-past five Monmouth went in for their second innings, and when stumps were drawn for the day had fared badly. With half their wickets down for 93, they were in a hopeless position. Of the five wickets, Kendall had bowled finely to get four, whilst Ollerearnshaw, coming on just before the close, got the fifth wicket—a brilliant catch behind the wicket by Rust. Jones and Perks put in an appearance on the resumption of play on Saturday morning, but, nevertheless, a couple of hours' play sufficed to finish it off. Perks, a left-hander, hit up 60 in 21 minutes by electric cricket. Before he batted Cornwall met with early success. Monmouth needed 105 on Saturday morning, with five wickets in hand, to avoid an innings defeat. Siddall and Harris produced 42 runs before being parted. Then came the Monmouth kick. Perks treated the bowling with scant respect. He hit Kendall to the boundary in three successive balls. Then he hit him out of the ground. He repeated the dose with Whiting, putting the ball this time in the road outside the pavilion. Perks sent up the 200, and the small crowd cheered him. He made 50 in 21 minutes. But just before that Kendall had dropped a "sitter" from him in the slips. Shaw Baker took off Kendall and put on Ollerearnshaw at the top end, and himself displaced Whiting at the lower end. This move paid. Perks coming out to hit one of those innocent-looking deliveries of Baker, missed it, and was promptly stumped. He made 52, and gave delight with a glorious innings. That was the end. Rust brought off a smart catch behind the wicket, and Monmouth were out for 208.

Cornwall had ten to make, and Kendall hit a single, a four, and a six, and settled it. Scores:—

CAMBORNE PLAYER'S CENTURY.

Camborne 2nd XI. entertained Leedstown at Roskear on Saturday, and advanced a step further in the Junior Cup competition. The home team batted first, and good form by Hitchens, Moyle, and Peters enabled 86 to be scored for four wickets. Willis and Bremner then became associated, and raised the score to 200 for the next wicket, when Bremner was bowled for a fine innings of 52. Willis reached his century, which included 14 boundaries, and with the score at 288 for seven wickets the innings was declared closed. Willis batted finely right through. F. C. Rowe had three wickets for 70 runs. Leedstown started with Harvey and Rowe opposed to Pooley and Timmins, and the rate of scoring was slow, the first wicket falling at 25, and half the side was out for 37. Reed batted well and played the bowling with confidence but the rest could do little against Timmins, the slow bowler, who captured five wickets for 11 runs, and Pooley four for 31. Scores:—

FALMOUTH SCORE FREELY.

Excellent batting by C. Twite, who reached within three runs of the century, was the feature of the match between Falmouth and Penryn, at Penryn, on Saturday, when the visitors knocked up 221 runs, and the home club replied with 49. In addition to Twite's contribution, which included two 6's and eight 4's, other useful scores were compiled by F. Toy (29), J. Rowe (21), C. Trevarthen (17), and J. Harris (16). Penryn gave a feeble display, and the whole side was out for only 49 runs, the top scorers being F. Smith (12) and J. Collins (11). C. Twite and C. Trevarthen bowled in splendid form, capturing five wickets for 16 runs and four for 15 respectively. J. Collins, bowling for Penryn, took six wickets for 63. Scores:—

LOW SCORING AT TROON.

Camborne played a friendly match with Troon, at Troon, on Saturday. Troon batted first and totalled 52, the highest scorers being Lawry and Vivian. Daun bowled well, and in nine overs he took six wickets for 18 runs. Camborne fared none too well against the bowling of Thomas and Richards, who bowled unchanged. Toms was the highest scorer with 24, being followed by Paul, D. Escott, Gardener, and Frayn. Thomas took six wickets for 43, and Richards three for 42. R. Dunn kept wicket splendidly, and allowed nothing to pass him, whilst he stumped two batsmen cleverly. Scores:—

KEEN GAME AT REDRUTH.

The meeting of Redruth and Redruth County School Old Boys, on Thursday, produced a keen game, the Town winning by the narrow margin of three runs. The Old Boys collected 163 runs, J. Jennings 68, K. The wicket was inspected at noon and again half an hour later, and it was decided to start play after lunch. There was a good attendance at the time for opening the game.

The Cornish side included W. Rogers, the Camborne groundman, and a brother of George Rogers, who had served his county so well in batting, and H. G. L. Harvey, of St. Colum came into the team in place of the captain H. Trosawna. Berkshire were at full strength with the exception of P. F. Remnant, whose place was taken by J. H. Human.

The match was an important one for Berkshire, as if they avoided defeat on either both or one innings, or even if the match was abandoned, they would lead the championship of the Minor Counties Southern Section, and would play Lancashire 2nd XI. In the final game at Reading, Berkshire having won the toss, decided to bat. It was a quarter past two when Stokes and Sayles opened the innings for the visitors against the bowling of Kendall and Whiting. With seven on the board, Sayles was well caught by B. Williams at square leg in Kendall's third over. Runs came slowly, the first 20 runs taking half an hour to get. B. Williams bowled vice Whiting, and runs came more freely, although Stokes was missed behind the wicket. Baker went on for Williams and got Stokes stumped by Rust quite cleverly, the second wicket falling at 44. Relf came in and Addicoat dropped a catch from Relf, but Lewis was well stumped off the next ball. J. H. Human came in and Relf was missed by Williams, but was bowled by Baker the next ball, four wickets being down for 56. Human was well caught by Addicoat, and half the side was out for 58. Woodburn, the Berkshire captain, joined Palmer, and raised the score to 91 for the next wicket. Palmer hit freely and was eventually bowled by Whiting with a beautiful length ball, the score board showing 96-7-24. Buckley was caught without scoring, and the bowling was shared by Whiting and W. Rogers. Rain came on at four o'clock and play was delayed until nearly six o'clock, when Cornwall resumed the attack under difficulties. Rowland batted well, but the innings closed for 107 after a further half an hour's batting.

On Tuesday the weather was more favourable, and the wicket was rather tricky for batsmen. C. Shaw Baker and George Rogers opened the Cornish innings to the bowling of Relf and Woodburn. With five on the board Rogers was bowled by Relf, and Cory was beaten with the next ball. Wallace filled the vacancy and prevented the "hat trick" being performed by the old Sussex pro. The Newquay player shaped well, but was badly run out. Baker called for a second run and then sent Wallace back, and Wallace was certainly unfortunate in being the victim of unfortunate circumstances, three wickets being down for 15. Harvey did not stay long, and four wickets were down for 21. Addicoat joined his captain, but the bowling required watching, and the rate of scoring was slow, so that the first hour produced only 30 runs. Baker was badly missed by Stokes at mid-on with 35 on the board, the fieldman dropping a really easy catch. At 42 Baker was caught at the wicket for a patient innings of 26, which occupied 12 hours in getting. Addicoat batted steadily, but played late to one of Relf's fast deliveries, and was beaten. Rust was caught at short leg at 58, and Whiting joined W. Rogers. Relf bowled Whiting, or at least the ball dropped after the ball had passed the top of the wicket, eight for 59. The innings closed for 67.

Berkshire opened their second innings just before lunch and lost a wicket before a run was scored. Kendall and Whiting took up the attack, and the second wicket fell at 21. Relf was nicely taken in the slips on Whiting, and R. C. H. Human lifted Kendall out of the ground, but was out l.b.w. in the same over—four for 27. Whiting bowled Lewis in the next over, and half the side was out for 28. Palmer played freely, but was beautifully caught in the deep field by G. Rogers, six wickets being down for 47. Rowland was bowled by Whiting after a short stay, and Buckley was bowled without scoring, the second time in the game. Whiting was bowling with his head and had the batsmen guessing, and Nash was caught after making one, nine wickets being down for 51. The innings closed for 64, leaving Cornwall 135 to get to win.

Cornwall started their second innings just before four o'clock with Baker and Wallace opposed to the bowling of Relf and Woodburn. With 10 on the board the Cornish captain returned the ball to Relf, and Cory filled the vacancy, but a shower caused a further delay of 15 minutes, Wallace and Cory batted steadily and sent up 40, and with Nash bowling, the 50 was holsted. J. H. Human was given a trial with the ball, and Relf resumed after the tea interval, but both batsmen scored steadily. Woodburn bowled for Relf, and in his first over Wallace was finely caught by Relf for a well-played 38. Two wickets were down for 64. George Rogers followed, and Cory was out to a one-handed catch by Sayles for a capital 23, the third wicket falling at 77. W. Rogers joined his brother at the wickets and carried the total to 91 for the fourth wicket. Addicoat joined George Rogers, who sent up the century with a beautiful cut to the boundary, and the St. Just man was beaten by Woodburn, with half the wickets down for 104. S. Rust came in and was easily disposed of after scoring a lucky single. Harvey joined Rogers, and was soon caught without scoring, and Whiting joined the Camborne man, and was caught off the second ball. Cornwall had thus lost three wickets cheaply, and the batsmen made feeble efforts. Rogers was idle for several overs, and fate seemed unkind to Cornwall. Kendall was caught in the deep field by Lewis with nine wickets down for 109. With Williams in, Rogers was caught off a rising ball and Cornwall was beaten by 24 runs. Whiting bowled splendidly on Tuesday, and brought his total of wickets for Cornwall up to 794. A collection on the ground realised £6 5s. for his benefit. Scores:—

LANBORNE TOO STRONG FOR TRURO.

Truro fared badly against Camborne, leaders of the Western Division, in a County League game at Truro, on Friday, and paid the penalty for mistakes in the field, several catches being dropped. Batting first, Camborne's opening pair, H. D. Gardener and J. Wills, put on 52, and when Chapman was put on to bowl the rate of scoring slackened. The second and third wickets fell at 191, and two more dropped for the addition of eight runs. With half the side out for 109, Truro's chances improved, but three catches were dropped off Haye's bowling, and W. Rogers and W. B. Frayn again attacked the bowling, and 161 was reached before the sixth wicket fell. The innings closed for 194. W. Rogers remaining undefeated for 38. Haye took five wickets for 46, Chapman four for 30, and Hambly one for 50.

Truro opened promisingly, J. C. Haye and W. G. Lewman collecting 36 runs before the latter was dismissed through a doubtful catch behind the wicket. Chapman was sent back without scoring and two runs later Hambly was run out, and at 41 Jervis was caught by Haye, fielding as a substitute for Camborne. Six wickets were down for 47, and a useful stand by Lugg and Shearing produced 20 runs before the latter was caught by Gardener off Mill. George Tonkin and Lugg stayed together until 88 was reached, the latter succumbing to a catch by Colquhoun after making a valuable 25. ## CRICKET.

CORNWALL v. BERKSHIRE.

INTERESTING PLAY AT CAMBORNE.

There was no play before lunch at Camborne, on Monday, in the fixture between Cornwall and Berkshire in the Minor Counties championship. Great disappointment was felt by the spectators, as there had been no rain since 8.30, and from that time the sun shone at intervals, but there was a strong wind blowing across the field. During the night there had been heavy rain.

The umpires and the respective captains inspected the wicket on three occasions, and it was not until one o'clock that it was decided not to start before lunch.

For Cornwall's final game in the Minor Counties championship, H. G. L. Harvey, of St. Columb, took the place of H. Tresawna (captain), C. Shaw Baker (vice-captain), being in charge of the home team.

Berkshire were at full strength, with the exception of P. F. Remnant, whose position was taken by J. H. Human, a schoolboy.

The visitors have to be beaten outright by Cornwall to be out of the running for the final. If Cornwall does not do this, Berkshire will be challenged by Lancashire 2nd XI, the leaders of the North, and the game will be played at Reading.

BERKSHIRE BAT FIRST.

The game was commenced at 2.15 p.m. Cornwall lost the toss, and Berkshire decided to bat first. H. D. Stokes and G. Sayles faced Kendall and Whiting. The wicket was very slow, and ten minutes elapsed before 10 runs were scored. Then Sayles was beautifully caught by Beecher Williams at square leg with 4 to his credit. H. L. Lewis took his place.

The telegraph indicated 20 after half an hour's play. The batsmen took no chances, and runs were made in a few cases through faulty fielding. Beecher Williams took Whiting's place at the Town end, but the partnership remained intact, runs coming slowly. With the total at 33, an unsuccessful appeal was made against Stokes for lbw, and a few minutes later the same player was given a "life" by Rust.

Baker bowled vice Williams, and in his first over sent Stokes back to the pavilion, the batsman being stamped by Rust.

Ralph partnered Lewis, and the former was given a "life" by Addicoat, but Lewis was well stamped by Rust off the next ball from Baker.

G. H. Human came in and Ralph was again missed, but was bowled by the next delivery by Baker. Four wickets had fallen for 50 runs.

Palmer and Woodburn (the skipper) brightened up things considerably, and W. Rogers took Whiting's place at bowling.

Ninety-one were requisitioned with Palmer getting more dangerous, when Woodburn was sent back, being caught at cover-point by Cory off Whiting with 15 to his credit.

Palmer's 24 had included five boundaries when he was bowled by Whiting. Buckley was dismissed without adding to the score, and 6 wickets had fallen for 90.

Roland and Nash had just entered their partnership when rain fell and play was suspended for about two hours. With thirty-five minutes the partnership was broken with Nash being caught and bowled by Rogers (W.) contributing 17. The total stood 135 for 8. R. C. A. Human was the last wicket, and he was caught by Addicoat off Rogers (W.), with the total at 157.

CORNWALL'S INGLORIOUS DISPLAY

CAMBORNE, Tuesday.

Cornwall opened their innings against Berkshire at Camborne, on Tuesday morning under more favourable climatic conditions than prevailed on the previous day.

Faced with 138 to get to secure a win on the first innings—should time prevent the game being played out—C. Shaw Baker and Rogers (G.) opposed the attack of Ralph and Woodburn on a wicket that favoured the bowlers.

After 20 minutes' play, with only five on the telegraph, Rogers was beautifully bowled by Ralph. The Camborne pro's contribution was a single.

Cory (W.) shared a similar fate with Ralph's next ball. Things looked black for the Cornishmen with two wickets down for five runs.

J. P. Wallace partnered Baker and when 15 was reached, the home skipper smacked one that looked safe for a single. Wallace got half way up the pitch and started to go back. While the ball was fielded, Baker ran from the other end, but a smart return to Buckley, who transferred to Ralph, terminated in Wallace being run out before he could reach the crease. It was an unfortunate error.

Bad judgment seemed to dog the home side. G. H. L. Harvey went in, and with only one added to the total, he was caught by Sayles mid-on off Woodburn. The telegraph read—21—4—5. The bowling was tricky and the fielding particularly keen.

W. J. Addicoat joined Baker, but the clever bowling of Ralph and Woodburn had to be treated with the greatest respect.

After an hour's play, Baker got in a nice cut to the boundary, which brought the total to 20. The Cornwall skipper was given a "life" by Stokes at deep mid-on, and off the next ball got his second boundary. He was not allowed to continue long, however. With the total at 42, he was caught by Buckley behind the wickets. His contribution was 28, and occupied 14 hours.

S. Rust followed on with Addicoat, and brought the total to 54, when the latter was another victim of Ralph. The telegraph read—54 for six.

Rogers (W.), who was making his first appearance in the county side this season, became associated with the Penzance man.

It seemed impossible to stop the procession back to the pavilion. With 11 to his credit, which included two boundaries, and only four added to the total, Rust was caught by Human at leg off Woodburn.

Whiting (F.) was sent back by Ralph for a single, and eight wickets were down for 59.

H. B. Kendall received his marching orders without opening his score, and the Camborne pro. was bowled by Buckley. An inglorious innings closed for 87.

BERKSHIRE'S BATSMEN BEATEN.

WHITING'S WILY BOWLING.

The visitors opened their second innings ten minutes before the luncheon interval, W. G. Sayles and D. W. Stokes facing Whiting and Kendall. Within two minutes of the start, Sayles was beautifully caught by Kendall without the score being opened.

After luncheon there was a delay of a quarter of an hour on account of rain, which did not apparently interfere with the condition of the wicket, which was still in favour of the bowlers.

H. L. Lewis and Stokes' partnership was responsible for 16 runs, when the latter was caught by Rust behind the wicket off Whiting. The telegraph registered 21—2—5.

Ralph (R.) had a quick return journey to the pavilion. He was not allowed to open his score before he was beautifully caught by Kendall off Whiting.

Human became associated with Lewis and was missed by Whiting with the second ball he received. Off the next ball he sent Kendall out of the field for six. Kendall had his revenge, however, in the same over, when there was a successful appeal against the batsman for lbw, and the schoolboy was sent back with seven to his credit.

The visitors had now lost four wickets for 28 runs.

Whiting was bowling in deadly form, and got Lewis' wicket with the total at 29.

R. C. H. Palmer and W. T. Woodburn tried to stop the rot, which was worse than that of Cornwall, who had scored 42 for five. They succeeded to some extent, and Palmer in a merry innings for 14, which included two boundaries, was nicely caught in deep field by Rogers (G.) off Whiting when the total was 47. The partnership was responsible for 18 runs.

WHITING'S MARVELLOUS RECORD.

Roland was bowled by Whiting after a short stay, and Buckley was sent back without scoring for the second time in the game.

Whiting was bowling with his head, and had the batsmen guessing.

Nash was caught after making one, the ninth wicket being down with the total at 51.

J. H. Human scored a capital boundary, and then returned the ball to Whiting.

The innings closed for the total of 84. Whiting was accorded a great ovation as he returned to the pavilion, and a subsequent collection on the field on his behalf amounted to £6 5s. 0d.

It is interesting to note that during Whiting's career in Cornwall he has taken 794 wickets.

CORNWALL'S SECOND INNINGS.

Cornwall were faced with 135 runs to win in 24 hours. C. Shaw Baker and Wallace opened cautiously, but with 10 on the telegraph, Baker returned a "tempter" to Ralph when he had notched 8, the first wicket falling after five minutes' play for 10.

There was a stop of 15 minutes on account of rain, and the game was resumed about 10 minutes before the tea interval.

Cory (W.) became associated with Wallace. Both were not taking chances though they hit out nicely, and scoring became fairly rapid.

There was a change of bowling when the telegraph registered 50. Wallace made a nice 38, when he was caught in the deep field by Ralph. Rogers (G.) was partnered by the Redruth pro, but the association was very short, Cory being caught by Sayles off Woodburn. He made 33 out of a total of 57.

Rogers (W.) went in with his brother, and the total was taken to 81 when "W." was beautifully bowled by Ralph after making a single. Addicoat followed on, and after one and a half hours play a century was registered, with 35 to win. The St. Just man retired with only two to his credit.

S. Rust partnered the Camborne pro, and the Penzance man was given a "life" with his first ball. Ralph, however, got his wicket in the next delivery. A rot seemed to have set in just at this time, and three wickets fell for only one run, Whiting, Harvey, and Kendall being caught. With 24 runs to reach the Berkshire total, Rogers (G.) was caught in the deep field when the total was 110. Berkshire thus won by 24 runs.

COUNTY CRICKET FINANCES

HEAVY LOSS ON LAST SEASON'S WORKING

A debit balance of £86 on the year was reported at a meeting of Cornwall County Cricket Club at Truro Town Hall on Thursday, when there was considerable discussion regarding the future finances of the club and the number of professionals playing in county matches. Col. Sir Hugh Prothero-Smith presided, and was congratulated on the honour of Knighthood conferred upon him by the King, on the motion of Major G. T. Williams (joint hon. sec.), who said he had been of more assistance to county cricket than almost anybody they knew.—Sir Hugh replied briefly.

Presenting the accounts, showing a debit balance of £86, Mr. A. C. Polwhele (hon. treasurer) stated that the receipts were £407 12s., of which £214 came from 259 members, and £180 17s. 1d. match receipts. The expenditure of £493 included £425 for matches. The whole of the deposit of £115 had been withdrawn, making a net balance in hand of £34, and there was a liability of at least £30.

In reply to a question by Mr. Polglase as to what the position was attributed, Mr. Polwhele said they lost £27 in 1928 on the five home matches and £37 on the four matches in 1927, but the 1928 tour, with five matches, cost only £14 more than the tour in 1927.

Mr. Beecher Williams (joint hon. sec.) mentioned that through paying so many professionals they had to pay more for home games than they received.—Mr. W. H. Treweek pointed out that they could not afford to pay so many professionals, and he thought that where possible amateurs should be played in preference.—Mr. Beecher Williams said he estimated the professionals cost them £170 per year at home or away.

The Rev. J. H. Williams thought there was no other minor county that paid so much for professionals as Cornwall. If they continued at that rate they would soon be bankrupt.—Mr. Polglase stated that although their professionals were not paid very high fees, £170 per year was more than the county could afford.

As a recommendation to the Selection Committee, Mr. Cubit Blamey moved that only two professionals should be played in future county matches, but that if necessary a third be engaged.

Expenses of Players

Mr. Beecher Williams pointed out that many amateurs could not afford to leave their work for two days' county cricket unless their expenses were paid, and the difference between that payment and that of the professionals was not much.—Major G. T. Williams, on the ground of finance, seconded the recommendation, but Mr. Polglase thought that if they tied the hands of the Selection Committee they might make matters worse. He proposed as an amendment that the matter be left in the hands of the Selection Committee, who should watch carefully the financial problem.—The amendment was carried by ten votes to five.

It was stated that on the occasion of the county match with Berkshire at Camborne, a collection was taken for the funds of the Camborne club.—Mr. Polwhele questioned whether grants should be given to clubs that made use in that way of grounds hired by the county.—Mr. W. H. Vinter objected to such collections being made, and Mr. Polwhele suggested that the amount collected on the day in question be deducted from the grant to the club.—Mr. Gardiner said the practice was a wrong one, and he did not think the club would do it again.

Grants of £10 to Penzance and £5 to Truro College, Camborne, and Liskeard for the use of their grounds during last summer were agreed to, and it was decided to pay subsidies totalling £55 to clubs engaging professionals.

Mr. Polwhele asked how the amounts were to be paid, seeing there was only £34 in hand.—It was decided that the amounts be paid as soon as subscriptions and other monies were received.

Fixtures for next season were decided as follows:—June 19th and 20th, Surrey 2nd XI., at Penzance; July 5th and 6th, Devon, at Truro; August 2nd and 3rd, Berkshire, at Camborne; August 5th and 6th, Dorset, at Camborne; August 21st and 22nd, Monmouth, at Liskeard; August 7th and 8th, Surrey 2nd XI., at the Oval; August 9th and 10th, Berkshire, away; August 12th and 13th, Monmouth, away; August 14th and 15th, Dorset, at Bridport; and August 16th and 17th, Devon, at Exeter.
