NOTTS. II. v. CHESHIRE.
OVER-CAUTIOUS VISITORS.

FIVE HOURS FOR A TOTAL OF 200.
On a perfect last wicket at Trent Bridge yesterday...

Their skipper, J. C. Fallows, was afflicted with monumental patience; he longer he batted the more cautious he seemed to become.

Wild and he shared a partnership of 100 minutes for the first wicket, which yielded 105 runs.

Notts. had about 50 minutes at the crease, and started badly by losing James to a catch at point with 3 scored, while Hemmingsway played on at 5.

MINOR COUNTIES CHAMPIONSHIP.
NOTTS. II. v. CHESHIRE.
THREE POINTS FOR THE VISITORS.

Disappointing their friends greatly, the Notts. II. eleven at Trent Bridge yesterday yielded three points to Cheshire for their considerable lead on the first knock, there being insufficient time to arrive at a conclusion in the full sense.

When playing was continued at a quarter to eleven Notts. went on with their first innings, which overnight had yielded 85 runs for two wickets, and Lee and Iremonger (A.) scored steadily from Mason, Moorhouse, and others.

Hunter, who by the way has played for Derbyshire, caused somewhat of a commotion among later batsmen with his particularly slow deliveries, some of which broke a great deal from the off.

In the partnership with Barnes, Lee had the satisfaction of completing his hundred—exactly half the runs totalled during his stay at three hours.

The venture was finished off for an addition of nine, and Lee carried out his bat for a well-played innings of 109, which number he collected in three hours and ten minutes, principally in eleven 4's, three 5's, and eight 2's.

Leading by 53 Cheshire went in for their second innings about a quarter to three, but this time they got off the mark somewhat inauspiciously, losing Wild, who played a pleasant innings on Monday, with three on the board, whilst for an addition of eight the patient little skipper, Fallows, left on a verdict of obstruction.

Mason made some good hits in front of the wicket in taking his 30, and Hilditch was shaping promisingly when he fell into a trap set by Bismont, who, observing his fondness for the drive in the direction of cover, posted an extra man there with fatal results to the Counties amateur.

Church and Rigby then brought up the hundred, and nine later, Armstrong coming on, upset the former's wicket, with a delivery of paralyzing pace which ricocheted off the stumps into Whyall's face, causing him considerable pain.

The visitors' three points being saved, Rigby and Moorhouse gave their shoulders free play and put on 63 in about half-an-hour before the amateur was caught from a "skier" to cover.

NOTTS II. v. CHESHIRE.

Delightfully fine weather favoured this match at Trent Bridge yesterday, but there was only a moderate attendance. Both sides were well represented, and Cheshire, winning the toss, secured the use of a fast and true wicket. They opened with Wild and Fallows, to the bowling of Barnes and Harrison, and although various bowling changes were resorted to, the two remained together until lunch time, when the total was 93. Ten minutes after resuming, Wild was neatly caught at cover-point, after batting a little over an hour and a half. His admirable 61 included 6 fours. Fallows stayed until the total had reached 262, his share being 94. Altogether, he was batting 4 hours 35 minutes, and was the eighth to leave. Notts had nearly an hour's batting, and lost two wickets for only 25 runs, so that they have a stiff task before them to-day. Present score and analysis:—

THE match between Lancashire and Warwickshire, which was abandoned owing to the death of King Edward, will be played at Blackpool on August 29th and two following days.

Two instances of fast scoring in last Saturday's club cricket have reached me. Thames Ditton, on their ground, ran up 184 for six wickets in 75 minutes against Burntwood Wanderers, but this performance was put quite into the shade by Tufnell Park, who, going in against a total of 232 by St. Pancras, scored 293 for two wickets in an hour and a-half. C. Watson made 132 not out and W. Giddings 98, the pair obtaining 185 before the first wicket fell. The match was played at Tufnell Park.

THE remarkable partnership of J. Chapman and Warren at the end of Derbyshire's second innings at Blackwell on Tuesday has furnished a topic of conversation for cricketers. They came together when eight wickets were down for 131 and were not separated until they had put on 283. Not only did they save their side from defeat, but they credited themselves with the longest partnership ever made for the ninth wicket in a match of note:—

THE ENGLISH RECORD:—

233, J. Chapman (165) and Warren (123): Derbyshire v. Warwickshire, at Blackwell, June, 1910.

THE AUSTRALIAN RECORD:—

234, C. Hill (365 not out) and E. Walkley (53): South Australia v. New South Wales, at Adelaide, December, 1900.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN RECORD:—

217, B. C. Cooley (113) and A. D. Nourse (112 not out): Natal v. Western Province, at Johannesburg, January, 1907.

The world's record for that wicket remains 293 by E. A. C. Druce (201 not out) and V. P. Johnstone (120) for Trinity Wanderers v. Eastbourne, at Eastbourne, in August, 1900.

A. R. WARREN played his first match for Derbyshire in 1897 and is now in his thirty-fifth year. Until this week he had not played a three-figure innings in a match of note, his highest score having been 89 in the match with Derbyshire at Edgbaston seven years ago. He has several innings of over 50 to his credit, but it is as a fast bowler that he has proved of most use to his side. In 1904, 1906 and 1908 he took 124, 101 and 105 wickets respectively, whilst in 1905 he claimed 94 and last year 99.

At the conclusion of Hampton Wick's match against East Molesey on Saturday a presentation was made to Mr. R. J. Sivers, who has played for Hampton Wick C.C. for a quarter of a century, and has just resigned the captaincy after twelve years' office. The gift took the form of a silver coffee service, and was made with many expressions of good-will. Up to this season Mr. Sivers had played 595 innings for the club, scoring 17,065 runs and obtaining twenty-one centuries.

H. D. SMITH, of the East Finchley C.C., did a good afternoon's work on Saturday at Finchley against Hornsey. After taking seven wickets for 30 runs in a total of 69, he scored 183 and carried out his bat. East Finchley made 439 for four wickets.

THE balance-sheet of the Australian tour last summer shows that the receipts amounted to £13,228. Of this sum the Australian Board of Control took £1,003, and expenses totalled £4,641. A sum of £7,583 was available for division between the fifteen players and the manager, every member of the side thus receiving £473.

Not even the most enthusiastic follower of Surrey could have expected that the county would beat Lancashire in a couple of days by seven wickets. To Knox, Capt. Bush and Lees belong the chief honours of the game, but, in congratulating them on the success of their efforts, it is only right to recall that the breakdown of Sharp, whilst bowling so well in Surrey's first innings, handicapped Lancashire enormously. Whether the result of the game would have been reversed had the misfortune not occurred is an open question: it can only be said that at the time it happened Sharp was bowling very successfully—he had taken three wickets for 21 runs—and that in consequence he was prevented from playing his own natural game when he batted the second time, and that in the final stage of the match he was unable to deliver a ball. The success of Knox makes one regret that he is unable to assist the side regularly, for when at his best—as he was on Monday and Tuesday—he is worth a place in any team in the world. In congratulating Capt. Bush, one may be allowed to express the hope that he will be found frequently in the county's ranks.

THE matter in dispute between the Australian Board of Control and the South African Cricket Association is still under discussion, and an early pronouncement to the effect that all difficulties, or differences of opinion, have been overcome may be expected. It was not until April, after the date of the tour had been fixed, that the question of a guarantee was raised by the South African Cricket Association.
